TO THE TOP

1986 was the year where the Wildcats of Glen A. Wilson High School were reaching TO THE TOP! TO THE BEST, TO BE FIRST, TO REACH A NEW PEAK. For most students, taking it TO THE TOP started with a desire to surpass the records of the previous years.

The year was 1966 where Wilson High School officially opened its doors to the students of Hacienda Heights. This was the foundation of where Wilson and Hacienda Heights would grow together and continue to develop as a school and a community. Through the years, the housing boom flourish. Once these lands were homes to the cattle, orchards, and wheat fields. Today this land is covered with houses. In business, Hacienda Heights has grown with the Puente Hills Mall, the various shopping centers, and Light Industry.

Wilson has come a long way from its earlier days. The look has changed, but the spirit of the school has remained the same. Although the school has aged, the faces and the minds are still fresh with anticipation and enthusiasm. The school's population has grown as well. The Class of 1966 had 124 Seniors. The graduating Class of 1986 has a class of more than 400 seniors.

Realizing the growth and expansion, after twenty years, the Wilson student body has developed an identity based on a winning spirit. Hats off to the 20th Anniversary, and its students, its faculty, and especially THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1986 of Glen A. Wilson High School, they reached THE TOP.

SPECIAL THOUGHTS

Twenty years is a long time, and it is a short time — the perspective of the viewer determines which. When your school became a reality, the members of the Class of 1986 were not yet born. So for you Wilson High School is more than a lifetime old, but to many of us it is just coming of age.

Some twenty-one years ago, the Board of Trustees of what was then the La Puente Union High School District surprised me by selecting the name "Glen A. Wilson" for one of two high schools scheduled to be opened the following year. The district had been growing at an accelerating pace and, having become Superintendent in 1953, it had been my responsibility, and priviledge, to guide the planning for completion of the La Puente High School, then in increasingly fast order, the campuses for Los Altos, Rowland, and Nogales. During that period, the Board usually had asked me to suggest names for the new schools, but this time it was decided to appoint a committee from the Board to make the selection. I had no hint of what was to come — thus the expression of complete amazement that must have crept over my face when the announcement was made.

From the very start, and continuing to this day, the Glen A. Wilson High School students and faculty have given me a cause for pride. I have had great aspirations for "our" school, and hold expectations of even greater things to come. It is in this respect that I started this message by saying that, to many of us, our school is just coming of age. The early "adolescent" years are behind, the age of continued growth and maturity lie ahead. The successes already enjoyed — the academic achievements, the rise of prominence of the band, flags and drill team, the athletic traditions — these are great to savor, but they also are frightening because we may be lulled into complacency while basking in past glories. To rely on previous achievements is dangerous, but to use the past as a ladder to reach greater heights is wise use of history.

You, the class of '86, have contributed to the tradition of Wilson High and have helped lay the ground work for even a greater future. But, I ask you not to close the book just because you are becoming alumni, but, as I pledge to do, that you keep the school in your thoughts and close to your hearts. I challenge you to find ways to contribute to its future. If you keep involved, I predict that you and I, as the years pass toward another twenty, will find more and more cause to be proud of "our" school.

Mrs. Wilson and I wish for you great success and happiness as you go on to new experiences. We always have affectionately considered you "ours."

Glen A. Wilson, Ed. D.

Birthdays and anniversaries are so much fun. Everyone is always so excited and proud that "someone" is a year older and has accomplished so much in the last year. Wilson High School is twenty years old this year, and in those twenty years, the school has many, many proud moments; all of them caused by the 40,000 or so students who have spent four important years within its classroom or on its performance fields. There have been some 250 staff members throughout the twenty years, and included in them have been three principals: Mr. John Kramer, Mr. Jim Faul, and myself. All three of us express great pride in the "coming of age" of Glen A. Wilson High School. Every year we have so much to applaud in spite of some setbacks, losses, disasters, deaths, and occasional low spirits over total twenty years. We have C.I.F. and Sierra League Championships, National and State honors, high test scores, unbelievable scholarships, miracles in the classrooms and in individual case histories. There is no end to yearly honors at Wilson, as evidenced by our All School Honors Assembly and on Senior Honors Day.

"Hats off to the past" and everyone associated with it, as well as "coats of the future." May Glen A. Wilson High School continue to be an important part of our lives as we dedicate ourselves and our talents to making learning essential, character vital, and success eminent.

CHANGES

If "Back to the Future's" Marty McFly traveled back twenty years into Hacienda Heights history, he would not have seen much. In 1966, our community was simply a few scattered housing developments and two small high schools. One, just being started, was destined to become "the top", in all aspects of student life.

There was no Puente Hills Mall, no Ross Plaza, and no Hacienda Center at the corner of Colima and Azusa. There were scarcely any condominiums, scarcely any apartments and scarcely any McDonald's.

Primarily, Hacienda Heights contained only Whites and Hispanics. Over the recent years, there has been a large influx of Koreans, Chinese, and Vietnamese. The influx of these nationalities added a new dimension to Hacienda Heights and Glen A. Wilson High School. People are beginning to share ideas, attitudes, backgrounds and culture, thus the community and the school is becoming what the early founders of America envisioned, "A True American Melting Pot."

Twenty years later this simple suburb has developed a booming businesses economy. People, from our community and from the neighboring towns shop at the mall and various plazas throughout Hacienda Heights. As there was an influx of people, there was also an influx of many new businesses.

Glen A. Wilson High School was mere toddler twenty years ago and the school has steadily grown with the community. Through the construction of new buildings to the changes in the environment, both Glen A. Wilson High School and Hacienda Heights have been able to stay on TOP.

EMOTIONS

The special night at the Prom, the spirit at the Los Altos game and the Homecoming game, the agony of the classes and the comework, the thrill of sneaking off-campus and the wild and crazy parties all blend together to create special memories with our Friends. As the Seniors leave Glen A. Wilson High School, we will remember the spirit, the pride, the friendships, and most importantly the EMOTIONS felt during our high school years.

We, the Wilson Student Body, showed our support and spirit when it came to the sport teams, the achievement of various clubs and organizations, and the academic accolades.

We showed our emotions to them because they were part of Wilson and our friends were part of these activities. Through our spirit, we were able to support our friends.

Because of our proclaimed spirit, the Wilson students had a large amount of pride. Thus, our pride and spirit were the TOPS.

But with these emotions, there was something more that the students felt. Being able to show these emotions was terrific, but being able to share them with friends made the memories extra special. Through the four years at Wilson, each student established many bonds of fulfilling friendships. As we look back, we rekindle the wonderful memories that we have shared with our friends. Of course, for the Seniors, it is time to move on to higher horizons, but we will always have the emotions that we felt with our friends during our high school year. We were AT THE TOP!

Opposite Page Picture — Though the competition was rough, Diane Rowe, Kim Snyder, and Bonnie Lorque made the cheerleading squad with the support from each other and from Tony Mendoza. This Page Top Picture — Quiet moments between friends such as Jenifer Parisi and Raquel Freeman can make high school years memorable. HOMECOMING

They were back. The alumni of the past and the students of the present paid tribute to their school that had sent them on their way. Former members of the cheerleading squad, flag team and drill team circled the track, bringing smiles of recognition from the crowd, and waves from the alumni.

"Hi! How are you? It's been forever!" was repeated over and over. Old friends caught up with one another and were introduced to new friends.

The game started with anticipation. Every cheerleader showed extra spirit trying to rouse the crowd for the game. The stands were filled with more people than usual for this important game. The first half flew by and soon it was halftime and we were leading, Wilson 14 — West Covina 12.

"THE TOP" float was the senior class, designed by Jean Song, Cary Rosoff, Tony Mendoza and Jim Kim. It led the way for the procession of the princesses, sitting atop classic jaguars, one by one. As the last princess reached the platform, the crowd looked up to see a plane circling overhead. After a moment, it flashed its message "Queen Karin." Karin Eliason had won and the crowd cheered, showing their approval. After the second half had passed, complete with exciting plays, the game ended. The score was disappointing — Wilson 22 and West Covina 29.

The alumni and the crowd did not care. They had seen their friends again. They, the alumni had touched their roots. And as the crowd filed out, cries of, "Is that really you? Gosh!, It has been forever!" echoed throughout.

Homecoming '85 was over, and the spirit had returned. Even though the game was lost, our spirit was AT THE TOP.

ROYALTY

"Who will be crowned the next Homecoming Queen and King?" was the most asked question during Homecoming Week.

The selection process began by choosing 15 finalists. This responsibility was left up to the Senior Leaders of the school (Presidents, Editors, etc.).

A couple of days later, the Senior Class was asked to vote for five Princesses and five Princes. On the rally of October 25, amid the elation for some and disappointment for the others, the winners were announced. The Princesses were Tonya Carrari, Yvette Castillo, Marci Cooks, Karin Elison, and Monique Vega. The five princes were Paul Barriga, Darin Blizzard, Dean Hale, Daryl Thomas, and Kyle Wadsworth.

On Wednesday of Homecoming Week, the student body voted for the Homecoming Queen and King. Students waited for anticipation for the results. The first part of the question was answered during Friday's Homecoming Rally. The 1985-1986 Homecoming King was Dean Hale. During half-time of the Homecoming Game, Karin Elison was announced the Homecoming Queen. Congratulations to Queen Karin Elison and King Dean Hale and their Royal Court.

TOGETHERNESS

"We are growing old together, we are a family," exclaimed Ann Hobler. This family refers to the thirteen teachers who have made Glen A. Wilson High School their home for twenty years.

Since 1966, these teachers have seen the school and the students expand and grow into a successful combination. Gil Adams, Jim Baucher, John Cole, Roger French, Ann Hobler, Lavon LaFresnaye, Walt Martin, James Pate, Karen Pate, Evelyn Schneider, Tom Winegar, Leland Wong and Ruth Wood have seen many of the phases the Wilson students have gone through during their high school years.

Reminiscing about the earlier years, Walt Martin, Evelyn Schneider, and Ruth Wood commented that the system had changed greatly. For the first five years, the school enforced a strict dress code; the boy's hair could not touch their collar, the girl's skirt could not be nine inches off the ground of the kneeling position, and the female teachers were not allowed to wear pants. Wood also mentioned that the attitudes of society had greatly influenced the environment and the students in order to keep up with the times, such as following the latest fashion trend.

Comparing the early senior classes to the present senior class, James Pate claimed, "Today's seniors are more career and goal oriented," Gil Adams agreed; however, Adams also stated that seniors have a greater awareness of society, they have become politically and socially conscious. Furthermore, Hobler added that the current seniors have to deal with stronger pressure and competition then their predecessors did. As for the underclassmen, the general consensus among the teachers was that they had not changed.

All of the original staff members agree that after 20 years, their teaching styles have become polished and refined. Jim Baucher indicated that he knows when a student needs motivation and attention; he as well as Karen Pate and John Cole believe they have a better understanding of students. Summing up this point, Roger French expressed, "After 20 years, I am able to see the student as an individual rather than a whole unit. On the other hand, students do have a distinguishing flaw. Tom Winegar stated that 20 years ago, it was a rarity for a student to cheat; today cheating seems to be tolerated if not expected by many students.

In the beginning, Wilson was just a small school. But there was a dream that Wilson High School would someday excell in the academics, sports, and extra curriculum programs. Presently, these dreams have come true. Hopefully, Wilson will continue to collect accolades. Best illustrated by Lavon LaFrasnaye and Leland Wong, "Glen A. Wilson High School is one of the best high schools in the district. Wilson has a terrific cross-section of students and an excellent faculty that continually works together TO BE THE TOP"

DRAMA'S METAMORPHOSIS

Franz Kafka's The Metamorphosis is the story of Gregor Samsa's transformation from a human being to a gigantic black beetle. The plot focuses on Gregor and his family and what changes occur in their life. With this essential plot in mind, the Wilson Drama actors and actresses took this story and extended it to a new dimension for its annual fall play.

The instructor of the project was the Director — Dona Hill. Mrs. Hill liked the story and its abstract expressionist plot. She decided to make the short story into an hour and a half play. In October, casting took place to fill eight roles. Once the roles were cast, the play began to mold into "one of the most unique piece that Mrs. Hill produced."

What was different for this play was not just the story line but what type of analyzation each actor and actress brought to their character. As Jodi Targon claims, "There was a lot of in-depth character analysis. We had to practice and choreograph the fine mechanical and regimeted movements to be in synch with the synthesizer." Something that was never done in a Hills Production was the use of synthesizer; it would produce the sounds of the pantomime movements. As Kari Hobson's character, Grete, played the violin or David Nelson's character, the chief clerk, knocked angrily, it was Jeff Kirshenbaum's job to produce the sounds with the synthesizer. To add to the strangeness of the story, Wilson Alumni Paul Coons created the style of the make-up, period costumes were rented from the Ahmanson Center group. Furthermore, Tom Rundlett, Carol Tebbs, and Wilson Alumni Frank Lee, created, constructed and painted the sets with abstract designs and fourteen new lights were used to produce the illusion of the strange changes. Former students Erin Rado helped with the lighting design and Patti Lee was the pantomime coach.

For reward of the actors hard work and dedication, the play was chosen to perform in front of the Southern California Education Theatre Association (SCETA) at Occidental College. The Metamorphosis competed against other high schools for the various awards. At the end of the festival, the play was chosen for the Best Use of Movement and Mime in a scene. Furthermore, Brian Miller was named Best Actor at the festival.

CATS BLOSSOM

"This is the most exciting thing our band has done," exclaimed Band Director Gil Adams. What Mr. Adams was referring to was indeed a special day for the Band and Flags, in addition to the school, faculty, and students. At 11:00 am on New Year's Day, the Wilson Band and Tall Flags Team began their 5½ mile march in the 1986 Tournament of Roses Parade. They marched and played in front of an estimated crowd of 1.3 million people. Futhermore, the Band and Flags were broadcasted live to twenty-six television and radio stations which people from all parts of the world were viewing or hearing. Also, along the parade route, there were a dozen or more photographers taking pictures of the Band and Flags capturing their moment in the parade.

For the Band and Flags, this was their third time in the parade. To participate in the parade they had to audition and compete with other high school bands in California at the Chino Band Review. The Band and Flags auditioned and competed in order to be picked as one of the top ten bands. Then the fifty judges had to pick three of ten bands that would represent California in the parade.

On January 10, 1985, the Wilson Band and Flags received their official invitation to play at the 1986 Rose Parade. They were picked because of their exciting, top quality performance. Mr. Adams stated "The Rose Parade was the best show for any high school band to perform in." Through the months and during Christmas vacation, the Band and Flags practiced for three or more hours a day in preparation for the parade. They would play and march for three non-stop hours to build endurance and strength. As Jennie Johns, Tall Flags Captain, claimed, "All the practice was worth it. This was a thrill of a lifetime." Cary Rosoff and Paul Barriga pointed out, "The Band and Flags are known for their endurance, so playing the whole parade we knew we would be strong from the beginning to the end.

Musically, the Band played songs from the medley-field show highlights, the drum music, the Mickey Mouse March and Glorious Victory. Their music received an enthusiastic response from the audience. In commemoration of their performance, the Band and Flags received a commemorative plaque and a gold frame color picture, and each band member was given an individual Musicians Patch; in addition to the awards, the Band and Flags were invited to Disneyland as part of the Rose Parade Bands.

SPECIAL EVENTS

1985-1986 . . . this was a year to remember. There were special moments and special events that occurred throughout the year. For the seniors and underclassmen, this was the time that we indeed reached THE TOP.

As always to help the incoming Freshmen, the ASB and various clubs and organizations held the annual Freshman Orientation. This was the time for the upperclassmen to check out the younger and less mature Freshmen. Then the moment arrived — the First Day of School. For most, there will always be special memories of trying to get our class schedules, disappointing classes, the crowds of people, seeing old friends, and the anticipation of a new school year. Of course, during the year the student body was very spirited when it came to our sports teams. We showed our pride and enthusiasm at the football, basketball, and various other sports games. And when it came to competition, we will always remember our arch rival, Los Altos, and the sweet victories against them. Furthermore, we also showed our appreciation and support to the Band, Flags, Drill Team, Drama, and Choir for their fabulous productions and performances.

For many seniors, November was a memorable month to those applying to the U.C's and Cal State campuses. We will remember the long hours of writing the essay on our least favorite topic — ourselves.

It was that time for girls to forget their shy attitude and take their favorite guy to the Sadie Hawkins. As always, the Sadies' had a western theme. As usual the Prom, at South Coast Plaza, was a huge success. Everybody enjoyed dressing up and being with special dates and friends. For the seniors, the most important date came — Graduation. This was the time the seniors exclaimed, "Adieu" to their home for four years. During the ceremony there were many tears of happiness and sorrow among the teachers, the families, and the seniors.

Of course, there are many more memories that each senior treasurers in his/her heart. May we always have fond memories and regard Glen A. Wilson High School, for our second home!

TO THE TOP OF THE CLASS

Pursuing an education was what each student at Glen A. Wilson High School had in common. The academic classes were designed to develop the mind and to help students discover various aspects of broad fields of study. These academics prepared each student to build a foundation for their future plans — college, employment, or whatever opportunity they faced. This section features those who have reached TO THE TOP OF THEIR CLASS.

20th TO THE TOP

ACADEMICS

Every 6 years

In addition to our twentieth anniversary, Wilson High School reached another milestone. This was the year that the school was in the process of being accredited. What was the purpose of accreditation? The school accreditation is used by the Accredition Commission for Schools of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASCO). Their goal for each school focused on fostering excellence in elementary and secondary education, encouraging school improvement through a process of continuous self-study and evaluation, and assuring a school and its public that the school has clearly-defined an appropriate educational goals and objectives, has established conditions under which their achievement can reasonably be expected, appears to be accomplishing them substantially, and can be expected to continue to do so. If all these goals can be achieved, then the WASC Accreditation Program will believe that the staff, students, and community of an individual school are competent enough to run a school.

In order to meet the right criteria, it was up to the Steering Committee, comprised of John Rieckewald — General Chairman of Accreditation, James Pate — Chairperson Representative Faculty, John Hyma — Administration, Don Era — Departmental Representative, Shirley Weeks — Chairperson Classified, Liz Salvinsky — Chairperson Community Committee, Gilda Ochoa — Chairperson Student Committee, John Clonts — District Representative, and Tracy Tsujimura — Student Representative, to lead their various committees and come up with evalútions that qualify the school for accreditation. To have the correct criteria, the school must have consistent philosophies, goals and objectives, and organizational structure. It must also have an effective staff, curricular and co-curricular program, and student personnel services. Once approved b· the WASC, the school is accreditated for another to six years. During the middle of the second semester, Wilson was accredited for six more years. Congratulations to Wilson High School!

Peers helping one another

"Every student should know what is going on in post-secondary education (anything after high school), and our goal is to make the students aware of their future," exclaimed Ken Olson, Head Counselor. What Olson was referring to was the peer counselors who worked in the College Corner. These peer counselors, Yunhye Choi, Karen Elison, Anna Kin, Angela Pi, Kalpana Reddy, Caryn Copley, and Ginger King, shared a basic goal. They all wanted to help and give pertinent information to the student body.

During the month of September of 1981, Olson started Wilson's own peer counseling program. Olson hoped that by having peer counselors, the students would respond to the counselors and obtain information that would be vital to their future.

As in the past, the College Corner again had a successful year. With a full staff of peer counselors, the student body was able to come to the College Corner any time of the day. Besides helping students, peer counselors manned the College Corner, worked with and helped college representatives, operate the Guidance Information System (GIS). They wrote and edited the "College Corner Contact" newspaper which was pertinent to those Juniors and Seniors who were interested in gaining more information about post-secondary education.

In addition to the peer counselors, there were other staff members who ran the Career Center. Olson was the head of the Career and College Center. Bill Young was the Vocational Counselor and newcomer Joan Buckley was the Career Technician. Also, Shirley Weeks was the Secretary to the College Corner Staff and the Career and College Center's Secretary was Dorothy Yelton.

ACADEMICS

Olympics for the mind

Of the fifty-five teams in competition, Wilson's Academic Decathlon Team placed sixth. This was a very admirable feat considering the team only had one returning member — Rodney Koeneke. With Koeneke's experience, eight hard-working and dedicated new members, under the direction of Advisor Jim Kelly and Assistant Advisor Carol Tebbs, were able to improve upon last year's standings of ninth place.

In individual competition, Rodney Koeneke was the section winner for Honors speech, David Shibby took 1st place for Scholastic Essay and was the Section winner for Scholastic speech, and Nathan Koeshall was named as the section winner for Varsity Speech and took 3rd place in Varsity Math. As for the alternates, Gary Wang took 2nd place in Honors Science as well as David Edwards who also took 2nd place in Scholastic Science. Yunhye Choi was the top point winner in all events. And Lance Litner was the Student Logistic Coordinator. All these accolades were not possible without the help of Dona Hill who worked with the students on their speeches, Lavon LaFrayne who taught the economics, Debbie Montpass, who inculcated music, Mrs. Tebbs who reviewed Art, English, and Literature, and Mr. Kelly who taught History, Speech, and the Super Quiz.

For three and a half months, the team worked together as a unit. To appreciate art, they visited museums and went to various other field trips. They also had evening and weekend sessions when the competition was approaching. With the team's hard work, they accumulated many awards.

But what was the Academic Decathlon? The Academic decathlon team is like its Ancient Greek counterpart, a ten-event contest. Instead of testing the student's athletic ability it is an intellectual competition. The Academic Decathlon team is made up of six team members, two representing the "A" Honors level, two the "B" Scholastic level, and two the "C" Varsity level. Each level had alternates. After a couple of months of intense training, the competition took place during one day. Of the ten events, six were written examinations in the subjects of English Literature and grammar, mathmetics, physical and biological science, social science, fine arts, and career education. Three other events were demonstrations of oral and written communication skills: interviews, essay writing, and speech. The last event was the Super Quiz — a fast moving team relay test of general knowledge.

Cats pull off the grade

What is CSF? CSF or the California Scholarship Federation Inc. is a state organization design to give recognition to the academic students. Its purpose is to foster high standards of scholarship, service, and citizenship on the part of students of the senior high schools in California.

In order to be a CSF member, a student must have A's or B's. Each A counted as three points and each B was worth one point. The student must have ten points or more to qualify as a member. Once a member of the club, CSF offered ample opportunity of benefits. One of the opportunities was scholarships. CSF provided many scholarships for the academically capable. CSF also held a seminar advising seniors the do's and don'ts of filling out an application. In addition to the seminar, CSF hosted a field trip to a college of the club's choice.

In recognition for their academic excellence, CSF gave seniors special awards. For seniors who had been in CSF four of the six semesters during the 10th, 11th, or 12th grade, they were named Seal Bearers. At the senior assembly, each senior received a pin, a certificate, a gold sash, and a gold seal on the diploma and transcript. For those seniors who were in CSF during their 10th, 11th, and 12th grade, they were awarded as 100% members. These seniors received a pin, a gold sash, and a different type of certificate and seal.

Wilson's CSF organization was 111 members strong. Though the students were recognized for their academic achievements, the members and their advisor Istar Holiday's main objective was to help people. They helped other students by providing a tutorial service. CSF members were the tutors who provided free tutoring service to the students who requested for the help.

ACADEMICS

National Merit Students

In October of 1984, the Class of '86 took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT). Students who received a selection index of 196 of or higher were either notified as a commended student or a semi-finalist. The Merit program was designed to award those students who deserved public recognition for their academic achievement in addition, to they also received vast amounts of scholarships.

Because of their high scores in the SAT, five Wilson students were named the 1986 Merit Program Commended Students. These students were Lynn Fleisher, Paul McNellis, Catherine Rowe, Christine Tam, and Gary Wang. In early September, 1985, they were recognized for their academic promise. Since her selection index in the PSAT was very high, Yunhye Choi was named as a semi-finalist. As a semi-finalist, Choi had to compete in order to advance to a Finalist Standing in order to receive consideration for a National Merit Scholarship. Choi had the opportunity to win a $2000 scholarship of a corporate of college sponsored four year Merit Scholarship. At this time, Choi was a semi-finalist who turned in all her requirements to compete for the finalist spot and eventually hoping to be named as a scholar.

Bank of America Awards

For the past thirty-eight years, Bank of America has been rewarding "TOP SENIORS" plaques and certificates for knowledge in their respective subjects.

The Bank of America Achievement Awards began in 1948 for the Los Angeles area high school. The purpose of these awards was to recognize and honor outstanding high school seniors whose scholastic attainment, sense of responsiblity and evidence of leadership gave most promise of future success and service to society. Thus, with these characteristics in mind, the winners were selected by our school's faculty committees.

Four Seniors, Yunhye Choi, Kari Hobson, Rod Koeneke, and Gary Wang, received plaques for their achievements while ten Seniors, Eun Cho, Grace Keem, Tony Kewitsch, Monica Lieras, Russ Mancino, Daisuke Suematsu, Catherine Rowe, Chris Tam, Jodi Targon, and Braden Yu, received certificates. Plaque winners had the opportunity to compete in up to $2000.

All the winners were congratulated for their efforts and dedication.

Dear Students:

It is my pleasure to offer my congratulations to the graduating Seniors of the Glen A. Wilson High School Class of 1986. This is an honor of which you can be most proud, and is the achievement upon which you will base your future career in college and adult life.

I also wish to extend, both to the Class of 1986 and to the entire student body, my congratulations on the 20th Anniversary of Wilson High School. These have been twenty years of excellence in which Wilson High School has distinguished both itself and the Hacienda Heights community of which it is a part. The Class of '86 strongly reflects this tradition of excellence, and I am sure that the classes to come will continue to uphold the reputation of Wilson High School as a school of both accomplishment and enjoyment for the students who go there.

Again, congratulations.

Sincerely,

Dear Graduating Class of 1986:

Thank you for this special opportunity to be part of your graduation yearbook.

Many of you will be completing high school this year and venturing out into the adult world. This new world may be college, military service or, perhaps, a full-time job.

A new life awaits you. And the challenges should intrigue you. This is a time of your life when you can learn and experience the best of what our world has to offer. And as you grow and mature into our civic leaders and statesmen, your leadership will provide the impetus to carry California into the next century. Indeed, you are the key to our future.

My best wishes are with you at this special time in your life.

Warm regards,

Leo McCarthy

Dear Graduates:

I would like to extend my warmest congratulations to the 1986 graduating class of Glen A. Wilson High School.

I consider this to be a special year for Wilson High School seniors. Not only does this occasion represent a necessary and significant achievement in your life, but it also marks the 20th celebration of a very fine school.

Whether you decide to continue your education or enter into a vocation, I wish you every success in your endeavors.

Dear Graduates:

Thank you very much for asking me to write a special message for the Glen A. Wilson High School's "Prowler Yearbook".

First of all, let me congratulate the entire class. I know it isn't always easy staying in school these days, but for those of you who make it, the outside world is waiting for your talents, energy and enthusiasm.

This is a complicated time in our country but it's also a time of great opportunity. I hope that each of you will go on to college or trade or technical schools so you will be better prepared to enjoy the best that life has to offer in the future.

As your elected representative in Los Angeles County, I have a very special interest in the young people of the First District. I am proud of you and know that you are proud of yourselves for "finally" graduating. I hope you look on this day as just the beginning of a wonderful, rewarding future out there in the big, wide world.

Sincerely yours,

TO THE TOP OF THE PROFESSION

Every day, from September to June plus Summer School, the faculty tried to impart knowledge to the cluttered minds of the students. Students could take a full course of AP courses down to the basic skill level classes. Though students often preceived the instructors as antagonists, the teachers prepared and urged each student to pursue numerous opportunities. After twenty years, the Wilson Faculty boasted of 2 PHD'S and 37 MA Degrees, which brought them to THE TOP OF THEIR PROFESSION.

Above — Taking a breather from a hard day's work during the rally are Ms. Montpas, Mrs. Jones, Mr. Wong and Mr. Bell. Right — Though Jeff Kirschenbaum tries to persuade Mr. Milheiser to see it his way, Mr. Milheiser is still unconvinced of Jeff's plan.

The year was very busy with changes and improvements that were made in the school. Parts of the campus were remodeled and new teachers were added to the staff at Wilson High School.

The administrative staff worked hard to improve the campus rules and regulations. To help with these changes Ralph Cutruzzula was added to the administrative staff as Assistant Principal. The administrative staff hopes to continue making improvements for the students and teachers at Wilson High School.

The English Department made several new changes. The Honors English program was one which was significantly altered. Several teachers switched classes, and taught different grades and different English subjects.

The department worked very hard to teach students how to write well, and how to read at a much higher level. The teachers overall had a very successful year.

A MUCH HIGHER LEVEL

What were you doing 20 years ago, 1965-66?
Jeorgia Moore: I was taking care of my three children, who were then 8, 5, and 1 year old.
Where were you 20 years ago?
I was in Hacienda Heights, in the same house I live in now. I was hoping they'd finish the Pomona Freeway and wishing we had a "good" restaurant in this area. They, of course, finished the freeway and added several more (the 57, the Foothill), but I'm still waiting for that "good" restaurant.

MUSIC GROWS WITH SUCCESS

Gil Adams
Dept. Head

Debbie Montpas

The Music Department, which consists of two teachers, is probably the hardest working Dept. These teachers gave up their weekends and much of their weeknights so that they can culturally enrich the lives of their students. The band, which is led by Mr. Adams, had the honor of participating in the 1986 Tournment of Roses Parade. The band's competition season was very competitive. They moved up one class so that they were up against the toughest bands in California. Our band did very well though, with an exciting field show.

The Choir Deptartment, under the direction of Ms. Montpas, had a very successful year, as well. She had the help of accompanist Katy Mayne. Our choir made itself known as one of the top choirs in California, by being selected to be in the Disneyland Candlelight Procession. The choir also performed at Universal Studios. Congratulations to both Mr. Adams and Ms. Montpas for their outstanding accomplishmets.

The purpose of the Business Department is to educate students in the vocational field. The teachers train the students for entry level jobs after high school. They prepare students for majoring in business in college and educating them to become better consumers. The Business Department has made some changes in their curriculum. Business Principles is now a whole year class and a Business Law 2 class has been added. The department has put more emphasis on computers than ever before. The teachers hope to continue their emphasis on computers and expand their offers to meet the needs of the students.

Wilson High School wouldn't have been able to run sufficiently without the help of the Office Staff. They kept records straight and organized for the counselors and principals. The office staff kept busy helping faculty members and students.

MEDIA AND CAREER CENTERS

Eleanor Bell, Karen Gensler, Cindy Kirkley, Amy West.

Joan Buckley, Dorothy Yelton, Patti Felder.

The Media and Career Centers were at school to help the students in any way they could. The librarians were there to help students locate a book or find reference materials. The Career Center helped students who were looking for employment or choosing a college. Both were here to help the students grow.

NEW TEACHERS EXPAND HORIZONS

Two new faces were seen on campus. These teachers had an exciting first year at Wilson and planned to stay. A third, additional face was seen in the Foreign Language Department.

Michael Kopecky has been teaching for six years. Before coming to Wilson, he taught Biology, Chemistry, and Physics at Northview High. Comparing Wilson to Northview, he revealed that the students here are more spirited and get more involved with activities and organizations. "The faculty members here are very supportive between themselves," Mr. Kopecky stated.

Graduating from Wilson in 1974, he went on to Cal Poly. Thinking back to when he was here as a student, Mr. Kopecky remembered that he found his science classes very interesting. Mr. Winegar was his teacher for both Biology and Chemistry. And because Kopecky was familiar with many of the faculty membes, it made his return to Wilson much easier. The compiling of the famed "insect collection" for Biology class played a major role in captivating Kopecky's interest of the sciences.

Teaching E.S.L. for six years here, does not exactly qualify Rosa Lizardi to be titled a "new teacher." New to the department this year, was the growing interaction of foreign language teachers throughout the district. Mrs. Lizardi told us that in teaching Spanish, the results cannot be seen as quickly as in E.S.L. She went to U.C. Riverside and then on to Cal State L.A. where she got her Master's. She majored in Spanish and minored in English.

For the future, Mrs. Lizardi hopes to go back to teaching E.S.L. and in later years, to get involved in school administration.

The last new face found in the Administrative Office of Wilson was that of Ralph Cutruzzula. He is originally from Pennsylvania, where he graduated from Clarion State University. There, he majored in Comprehensive Social Studies. When he first came to California, he taught American Government and World History at Bassett High School. He was there for five years and served as coach of the football team as well as Director of Athletics and Activities. From Bassett he transferred to Workman High School where he served as Assistant Principal in charge of Student Services for six-and-a-half years. This position included such responsibilities as student counseling and discipline. In the fall of 1985, Mr. "C" joined the staff of Glen A. Wilson High School.

TO THE TOP OF THE RECORDS

For every Wilson athlete, participating in the variety of sports meant experiencing the "thrill of victory as well as the agony of defeat." Each athlete labored many hours and overcame pain in order to be #1.

For the past twenty years, Wilson and its athletic program grew to where the sport teams developed the dedication necessary to achieve excellence. We have proven that we are #1 and will uphold this tradition in the future. We will continue to collect accolades and exceed our expectations; but as of now, each team made better school records as we reached TO THE TOP.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Football learns a lesson in luck

In early September, a little creature called "luck" descended to some pre-ordained school somewhere in the valley. He chose, however, to not touch down on Wilson High School leaving us to fend for ourselves on pure skill and talent.

We outsmarted luck though, in our game against Bishop Amat (who is rumored to be the luck recipient). In a game against a team that "totally outclassed us," according to head coach Dave Merrill, we played perhaps the best game of the season, although we lost 33-22.

Then we entered league. The second game in league was the Wilson - Los Altos game. The Rowdy Rooters where hot for this one. Our spirit was tremendous, and if spirit won games, we would have been league champions. At half-time, there was no score for either side, and the fans were getting anxious. Maybe we had a chance this year! If we held them back for one half, what was one more?

Too much. We lost, 0-7.

Next there was Homecoming. And what a game it was! Only eight points separated us from a win, but the game was salvaged by the half-time activities and the incredible support of the crowd.

In the last two games of the season, "luck" didn't even bring us its essence, so we lost, miserably.

The crowd, nevertheless, continued to show. Their loyalty was boundless, and even when they knew a game was over, they kept cheering.

The fans will not be forgotten, even if the final scores are. Never disregarded either, will be there long suffering football players; Darryl Thomas, Brian Chavez, Anthony Mendoza, John Miner, Kevin Garza and Mike Smith.

Wilson proved that even if "luck" doesn't arrive, hope and spirit always come on schedule.

Young Wildcats hope for a promising future

The 85-86 year for our young wildcats was a tough one. For both the Freshman and Sophomore teams, inexperience and a weakness in offense were important factors to the team's satisfactory season.

The Frosh team, during non-League, started off fine winning their scrimmage against Bell Gardens 6-0. When League season came around the team kept it up and won the first two games and, later on, two more. However, the next three games were not as successful. For Coach Wingett saw his team lose 6-12, 0-52, and 0-6. Despite the slight downfall, the strong defense and the individual effort of each team member lead the Frosh team into ending the season with an outstanding record of 4 wins and 4 losses and second place in League standings.

The Sophomore football season was a bit more tough. Unfortunately, the Sophomore team started off on the wrong foot. It was in Pre-season where the team lost five out of their five games, giving them a 0-5 record. However in the start of League season the Sophomore team began to show a little more improvement. According to Coach Smith the team's strengths were in their rapid improvement through the season and the development of teamwork. With these two qualities, the team placed third and finished League with an overall 3-7 record.

At the Freshman Football awards banquet, six awards were given out. Jeff Chacon for MVP; Joe Chang for most Improved Player; Don Miller for Most Inspirational Player: Tony Mendrano and Roger Gutierez for Best Defensive Players; and the Coach's award was given to Matt Clementz.

At the Sophomore football banquet five awards were given out. Chung Ro was given the award for Most Valuable Player; Jon Eliason for Most Improved; and Anthony Grimsby was given the Coach's award.

VARSITY WATER POLO

Talent and determination bring success

The mere mention of Wilson's Water Polo team inspired thoughts of supremacy. If the team wasn't awesome, what was?

A team as good as this comes along only once in a while. The 1985 water polo team consisted of more than ten all-league players, seniors Robert Martin, Rodney Koenecke, and Dean Hale among them.

Award after award piled upon this team as they won games consistently. Their overall record was 22-4. They were C.I.F. semifinalists and Sierra League Champions — undefeated.

Four lettermen came back to aid the team in their fabulous return to the top, Joel Francisco and Darrin Blizzard being two, Koenecke and Hale the others.

Blizzard has reasons to be proud, being C.I.F. player of the year and the Sierra League's Most Valuable Player. Francisco also has no reason to be humble, as he was also a Sierra League M.V.P. and was on the C.I.F. team. Both young men made it on to the All-American team.

With talent like this, Wilson could only expect to win, which we did.

A team is all of its players, working in unity. Dedication was constant as was determination. This season will always be remembered, and the players always praised.

J.V./FROSH-SOPH WATER POLO

Water polo improves with season

The Junior Varsity Water Polo teams have quite a reputation to live up to. Following the likes of Darrin Blizzard and others won't be easy, but it looks like they can do it with the incredible talent they have.

Scott Massey, the coach of the varsity team, can look forward to coaching some of the J.V. players. Both they and the Frosh-Soph team have great potential. People like Tony Chanove, Steve Cousineau and Joyce Hitchcock scored point after point, during the J.V. season, making a game worthwhile whether we won or lost it. As the season progressed, it was obvious that the Cats had talent, as they won more games than they lost.

Their record doesn't show all the commitment and dedication they had. Early morning practices provided the strength the team needed for their season.

Frosh-Soph worked well this season. Led by David Tafoya, Mike Vanuelos and Alex Chang, they consistently scored well. Massey credits the team with a dramatic improvement throughout the season, due to expert coaching by Devin Blizzard.

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

Experience pays off

The 1985-86 Varsity Girls' Volleyball team had an outstanding year. However this is not a surprise. For the Lady Wildcats kept up, what has been over many years, the winning tradition. The pre-season started off with an impressive record of 5-1 and finished League with a record of 7-3.

What made the team, consisting of five seniors, four juniors, and one sophomore, such a success was the encouragement of Coach Laura Lampys and the strength of seniors Janna Olson, Darcy Neuberger, Kelly Kratochvil, Jean Song, and Shellee Eidson. Their main contribution to the success of the team was their leadership which motivated the younger players to perform to their fullest.

The hard work of the Varsity Lady Wildcats and the outstanding coaching of Laura Lampys paid off; for they ended the season with the impressive overall record of 12-4.

At the awards ceremony varsity awards were given out. Janna Olson was given the MVP award; Kelly Kratochvil the Most Improved Player award; the Coach's award to Shellee Eidson; and Most Inspirational to Darcy Neuberger.

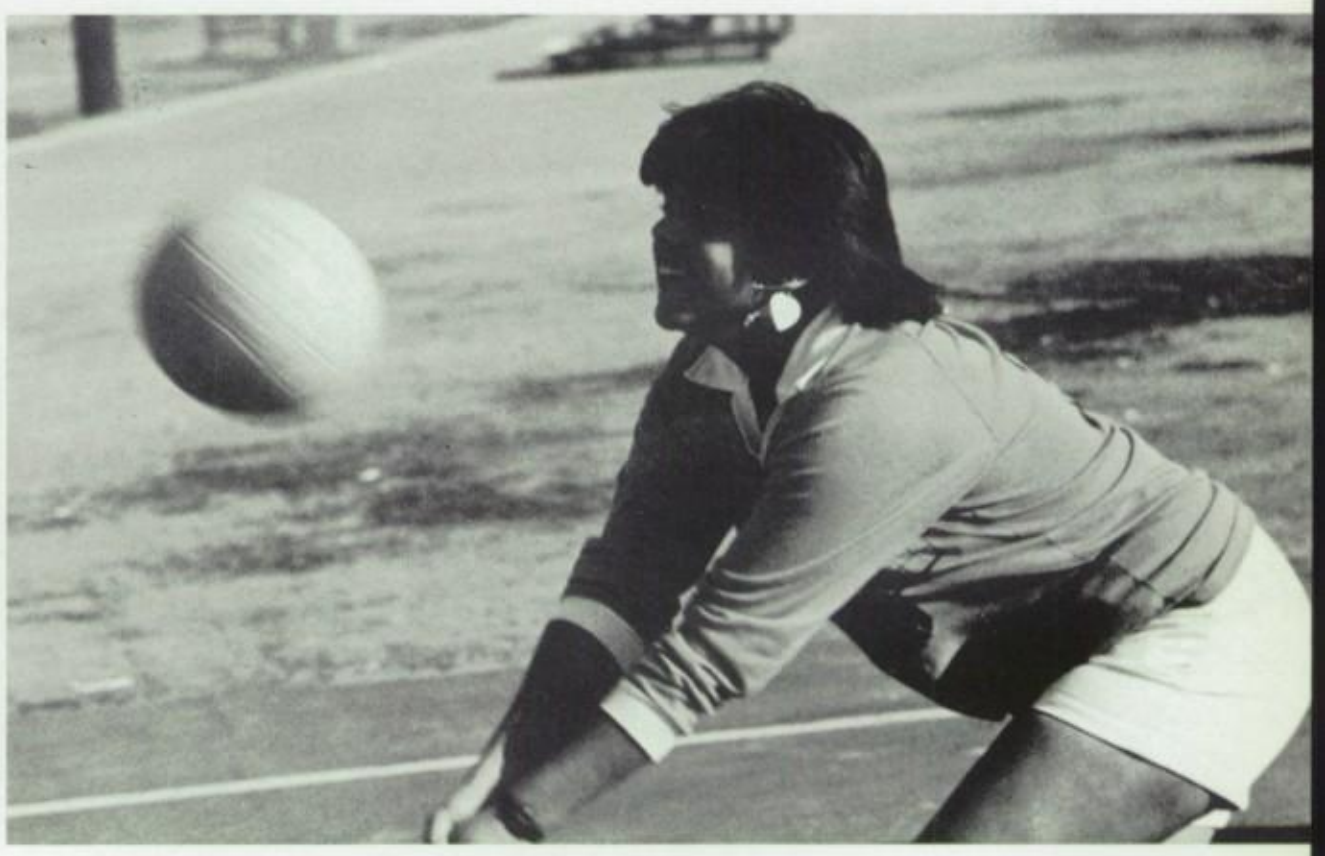
J.V./FROSH-SOPH VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball spikes its way to second place

What a successful year it was for the 1985-86 Junior Varsity and Frosh-Soph Girls' Volleyball team. For both teams followed the footsteps of the Varsity Lady Wildcats in having an awesome season.

Coached by Mr. Fults, the J.V. team consisting of one freshman, eight sophomores, and one junior, had a Preseason record of 4 wins and 4 losses. However, their League record was more impressive. They finished League with 7 wins and 3 losses. Despite a weakness in defense, the combination of high spirits, a good offense, and the encouragement of Coach Fults gave the J.V. team an overall record of 11-7 and second place in final standings.

Like the J.V. team, the Frosh-Soph team coached by Ms. Weil included three freshmen and seven sophomores. They also finished the season with 7 wins and 3 losses. It wasn't easy though. For many of the sophomores started the season with no previous competitive playing experience. But by the end of the season, the hard work and an effective 4-2 defense paid off. The Frosh-Soph team finished the season with an overall record of 8-4 and placed second in League.



VARSITY/J.V. BOYS' CROSS-COUNTRY

Boys' Cross-Country talent ran far and fast

The Varsity boys were content with their season. After all, they had gone to league finals.

The coach, Roger French, named Walnut as their toughest opponent. Their loss was swallowable, and the rest of the season, the boys worked hard to keep their image up.

Wilson's boys had power, and it showed in nearly all their matches. We won West Covina, Los Altos, and Nogales, just to name a few. They might not have won these matches if David Amperan had not been on the team. Ranked number one, he helped tremendously.

Maybe one reason the team did so well is that last year's team had such "depth," according to French. This year, they came up from the deep to hold their own. And hopefully, next year will be even better.

It will be, if the J.V. team is any indication. Every member of the team contributed to an extraordinarily competitive season. Runners like John Chan helped the team to do its best.

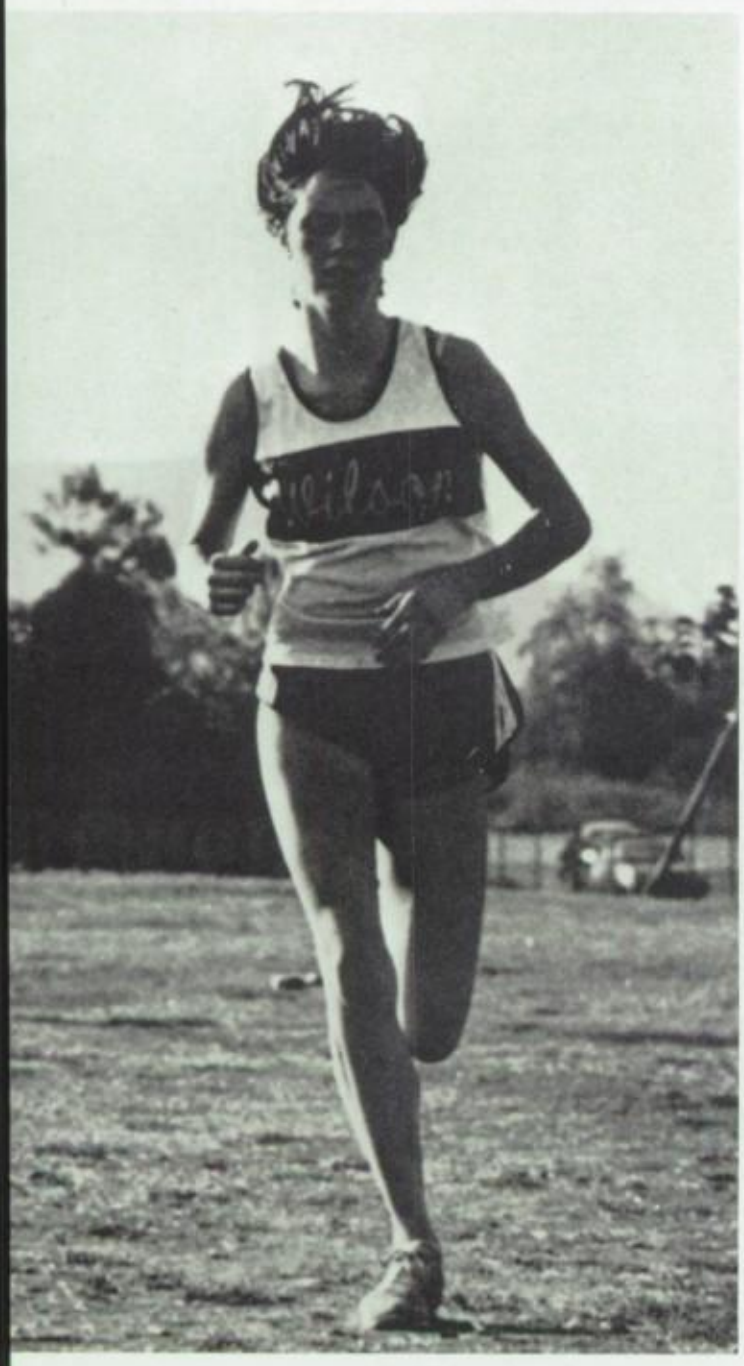
VARSITY/J.V. GIRL'S CROSS-COUNTRY



Girls' have a bright future

The girls' were ecstatic about their season. For perhaps the first time in Wilson's history, the girls' went to C.I.F. They accomplished this by winning numerous meets and losing only a few, one against Walnut, who served up some incredible competition.

Gilda Ochoa, a returning lettermen, remarked that "the varsity team did incredibly." They were strong, too. Part of that strength was centered in Charmie McIntyre. She and her twin, Vangie, on their first year on the team, proved to be fantastic. Both only sophomores, are going to keep Wilson's girls' cross-country team on top for two more years.

Another outstanding runner was Darlene Flores. Other seniors led the team, like Gilda Ochoa. These incredible performances by all the members have put the team in the top ten in the league. The team was superior this year.

Congratulations are in order for this hardworking, dedicated, superlative team and J.V. deserves a lot of credit, too. Being virtually undefeated except for one meet against Los Altos, their first year in existence provided a precedent for the years to come.

VARSITY/J.V. GIRLS' TENNIS

A proud puzzle

For our varsity girls' tennis team, the pieces were there; they just didn't fit. No matter; the team did well anyway. The sources of power in the team showed in Julie Kidwell for singles and the outstanding doubles team of Sara Allison and Kim Thomas.

The first game of the season was against Walnut, with the team losing. Every player showed outstanding form in each game. Matches, won or lost, were indeed battles.

Certainly, the team seemed happy with their season. Perhaps the most accurate account of that was their success against Walnut. Although the final outcome was a tie, the team's coach, Ralph Milhiser, felt that it was the climax of the season.

Los Altos gave the girls a challenge, both times they played against them. The teams battled fiercely, with Los Altos coming out on top both times.

The Wilson team needn't have worried though, for they had three all-league players — Julie Kidwell, Sara Allison and Kim Thomas. Two outstanding seniors also helped the team — Lisa Kim and Susan Kei.

Coach Milhiser believed the team "came very close" to a completely successful season. But if success is measured in respect, the girls' team came out on top.

Every girl was a piece of a victorious puzzle. Some pieces might have been lost or misplaced, causing flaws in the entire picture. It doesn't matter though, the team played excellently, and the pride of Wilson was behind them all the way.

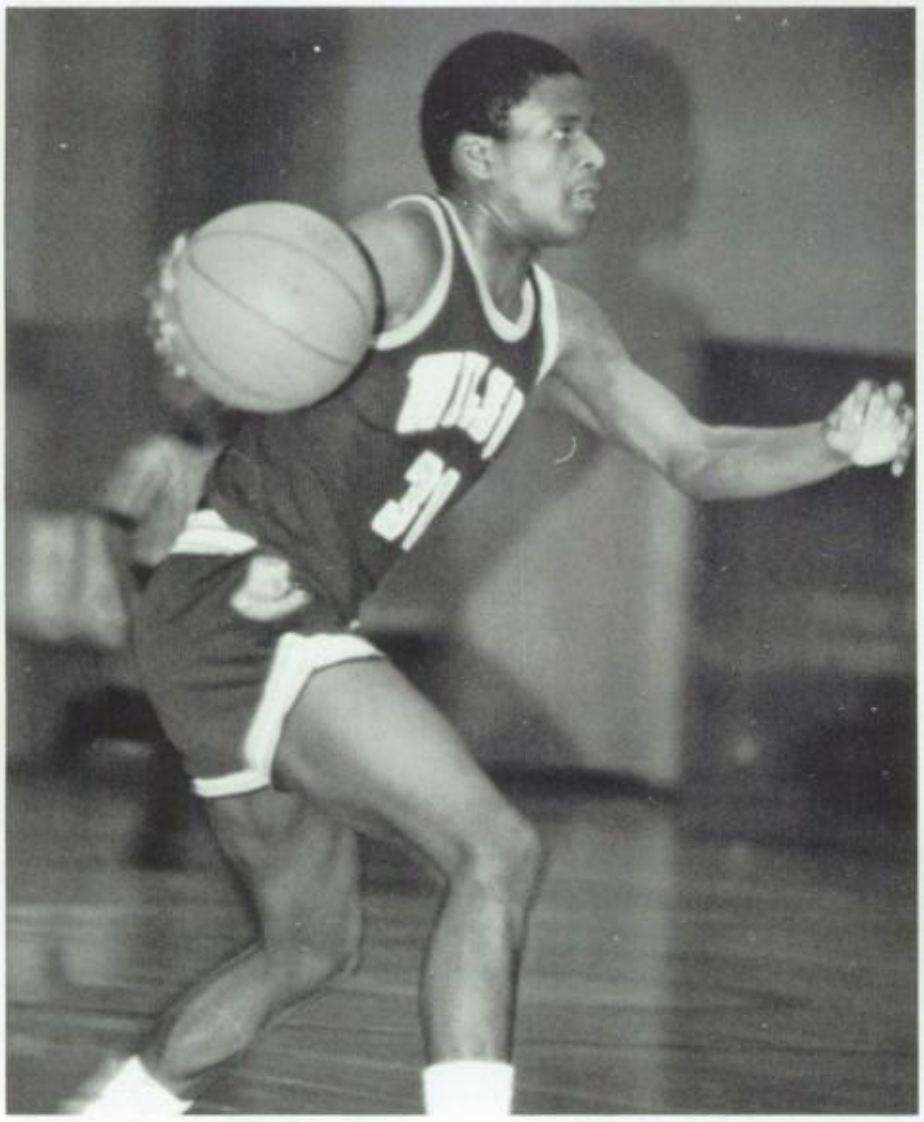
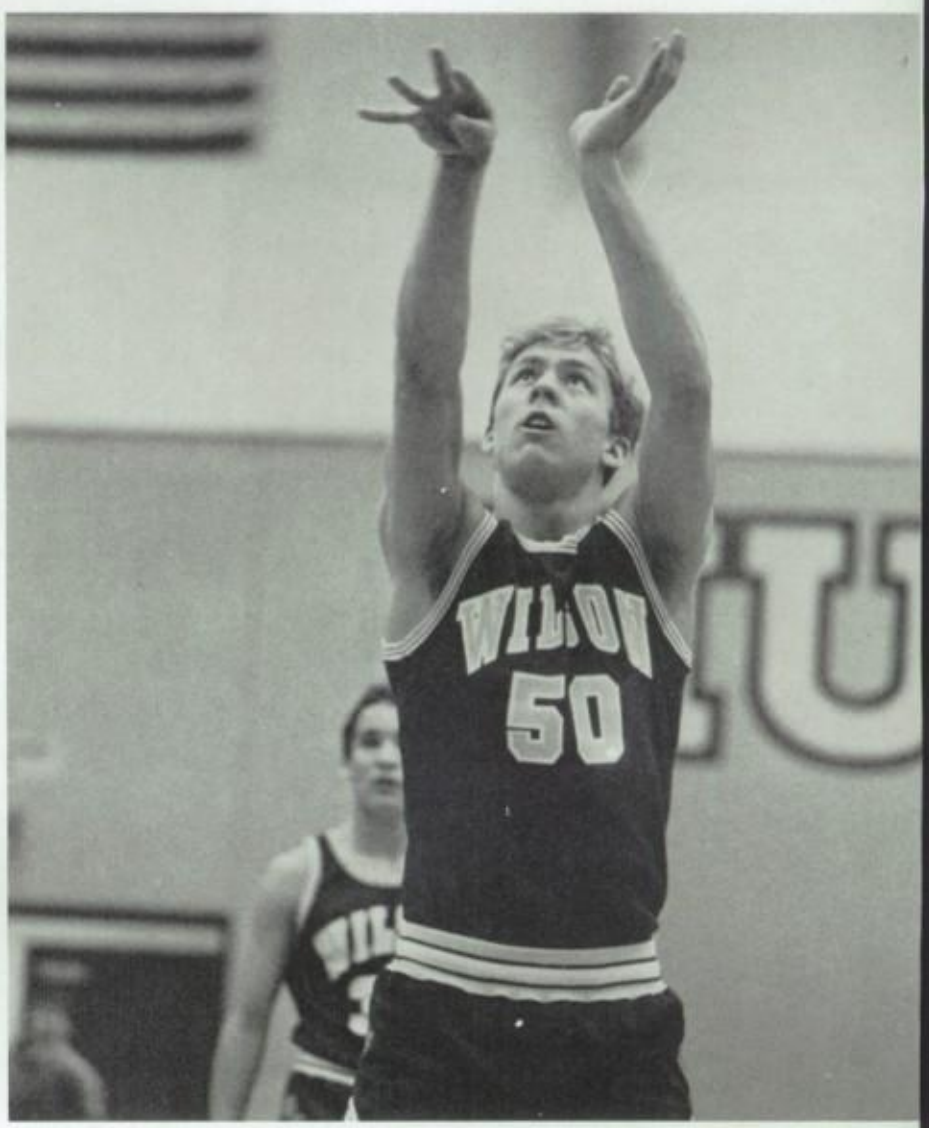
VARSITY BOYS' BASKETBALL





Masters of the court

Wilson's Varsity Boys' Basketball was better than awesome. Towards the end of the season, they had only lost one game, and that by only a margin of three points. We should think of that game as just a slight bit of bad luck — it had to happen sometime, better now than in C.I.F.

Coach Mike Lowe had predicted earlier in the season that Los Altos would be our toughest competitor, and unfortunately, he was right, but there were two games against Los Altos.

The team was led by seniors Scott Williams and Dwayne Daniels as well as other starters like Paul Barriga, Damon Owens and Neil Weingarten. All of those young men showed great strength and power when they were on the court, sometimes scoring huge amounts of points individually each game.

Certainly, a reason for this is that Lowe feels the team members were more motivated to be the best. Out of the group of fourteen, 8 were returning lettermen. Obviously, these factors indicated a team that couldn't be stopped.

This was, by far, the greatest boys' basketball season Wilson has had in a long while. And, now that the season is over, all the players can sit back and bathe themselves in the glory they've earned.

But this was just the beginning, for the Dream Team. They would eventually go on to win CIF, the Regionals and the State Championship. This was certainly a year that we did reach THE TOP.

J.V. FROSH, SOPH BOYS' BASKETBALL

Playing for success

The team's coach, Frank McCarroll had three hopes for the team and at least some of them came true. The team was excellent. Probably their success was due to the fact that all twelve players were capable of being very good Varsity players. Each group member put forth full effort for the team.

McCarroll mentioned that the team's largest asset was their ability to play hard as a group. With cooperation and coordinated power, the team excelled during the season while they improved for their possible future varsity positions.

The sophomore Cats had nothing to hide from either. With a record of 9 and 1, before the end of the season, they certainly played their best, as coached by Dwayne Williams. Their exhibitions were not only exciting to watch, but motivated the players themselves. Therefore, each game served a double purpose.

Not to be forgotten were the freshmen, who had a successful season with a partial record of 1 and 9. It was an all over great team with wonderful potential, led by Mike Wilson.

Assuredly, three very good teams that will be able to step into next year's Varsity void without any problem.

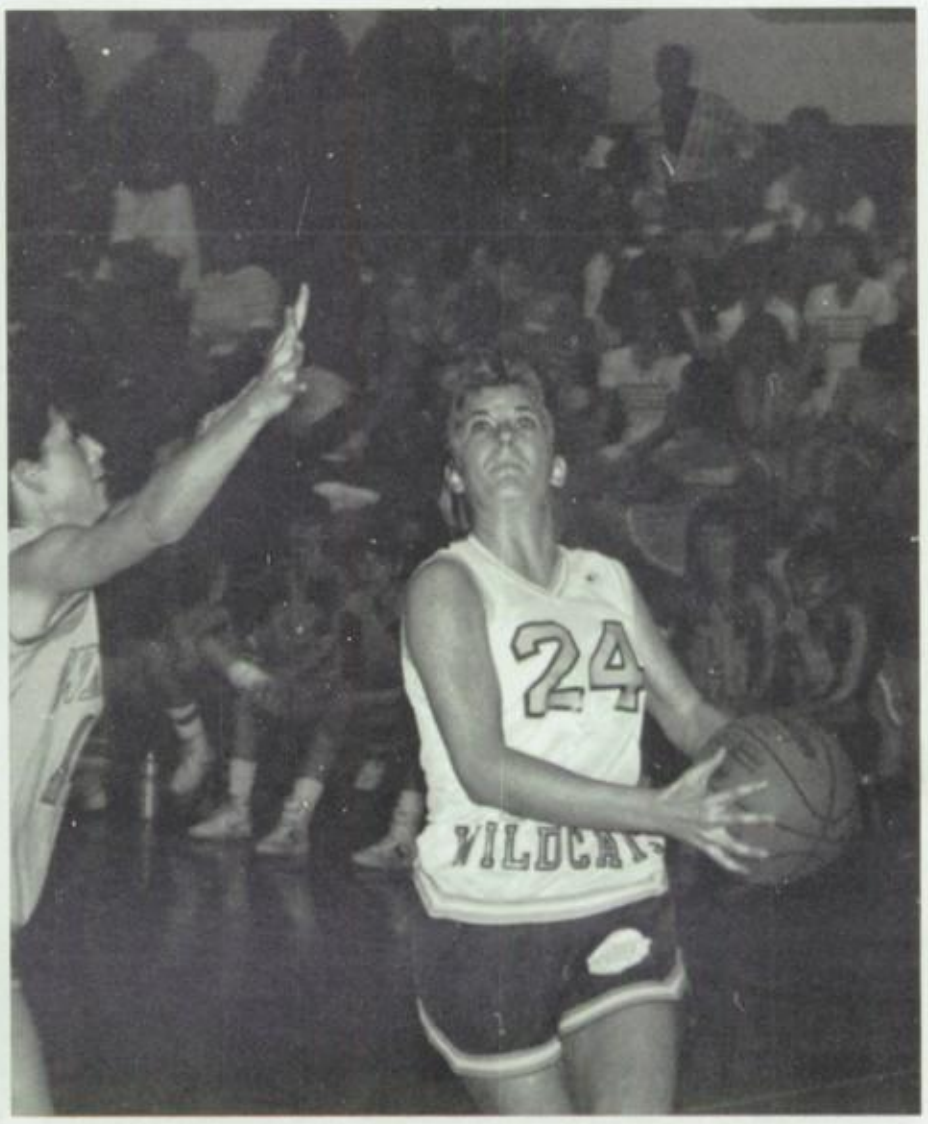
VARSITY GIRLS' BASKETBALL



A season to be remembered

A season is a season is a season, unless you were a member of Wilson's Varsity Girls' Basketball team. Before the end of the season, they had won four times more games than they had lost, largely due to five key returning players; Anna Getherall, Stephanie Coons, Allison Kumura, Lisa Bogard and Darcy Neuberger. Three participated in their third year of Varsity.

Coach John Crowther remarked at the beginning of the season that the team "should be high-scoring and exciting to watch." Crowther has never been more correct. The group of talented girls proved over and over again just how excellent they were.

In the remaining days of the season, the ladies gained power and strength as they piled up the points. Their potential was obvious all year as they dribbled their way to the top.

No doubt the departure next year of the senior players will leave the others to fend themselves, which will surely do nicely. The supporting powers of Linda Banbury and Belinda Eschrich and Stephanie Coons will doubtlessly return to lead next year's team to countless victories.

The team was leading towards the end of the season with a full season and pre-season record of 16-4.

J.V./FROSH-SOPH GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Their future is now

The Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team was no different from the others in many ways. In effect, they were your average J.V. team, playing well and gaining experience. However, there was one area that set them apart from the other teams in the league. "They were very quick and aggressive," according to head coach John Dobrenen.

Their starters; Cynthia Chessen, Toni Sitton, Kathy Poll and othes did their absolute best to be a successful, competent team, which they were. By the latter part of the season their record was 5 and 1.

Next in line to J.V. were the sophomore girls. Coached by Scott Smith. They had at one point only a 5 and 8 record. The team's ability expanded as they learned about the game and its finer points. The team played perfectly the role of a younger group, picking up techniques all year.

Both teams helped further Wilson's reputation as incredible basketball players. In the past twenty years, because of Wilson's program we have become a power to contend with.

VARSITY BOYS' SOCCER

"If we play as a team and control the tempo of the game, we could have a successful season," were the words of Coach Schlesinger. What words to go by for the 1985-86 Varsity Soccer team did have a successful season with an impressive overall record.

The year started off with a bang. Winning their first two games, Coach Schlesinger was asked how he would describe his team during the start of the season. "Very optimistic, very good." The team's success had much to do with key players and seniors Mark Olivarez, Brent Mattern, Alex Fuchs, Lance Aldas, and Bryan Uchida; also a big help was junior Andre Dela Rambelje.

However, key players weren't the only team's strengths. For their speed on the field and their effort as a whole contributed to their progress throughout the season. The 1985-86 Varsity Soccer team accomplished just what Coach Schlesinger predicted. Their team work, spirit, and the excellent coaching of Mr. Schlesinger paid off. And their season's record was definitely a reflection on their effort.

VARSITY/JV GIRLS' FROSH/SOPH BOYS' SOCCER

For Girls' Soccer, this season was nothing but impressive. Despite the fact that Wilson's Girls' Soccer team was established just a year ago, this season showed improvement and had its league record to prove it.

The season started looking impressive after the team won the first two games, 7-0 and 5-0. Coach Hollander and her girls were looking for a 3rd place in Pacific League.

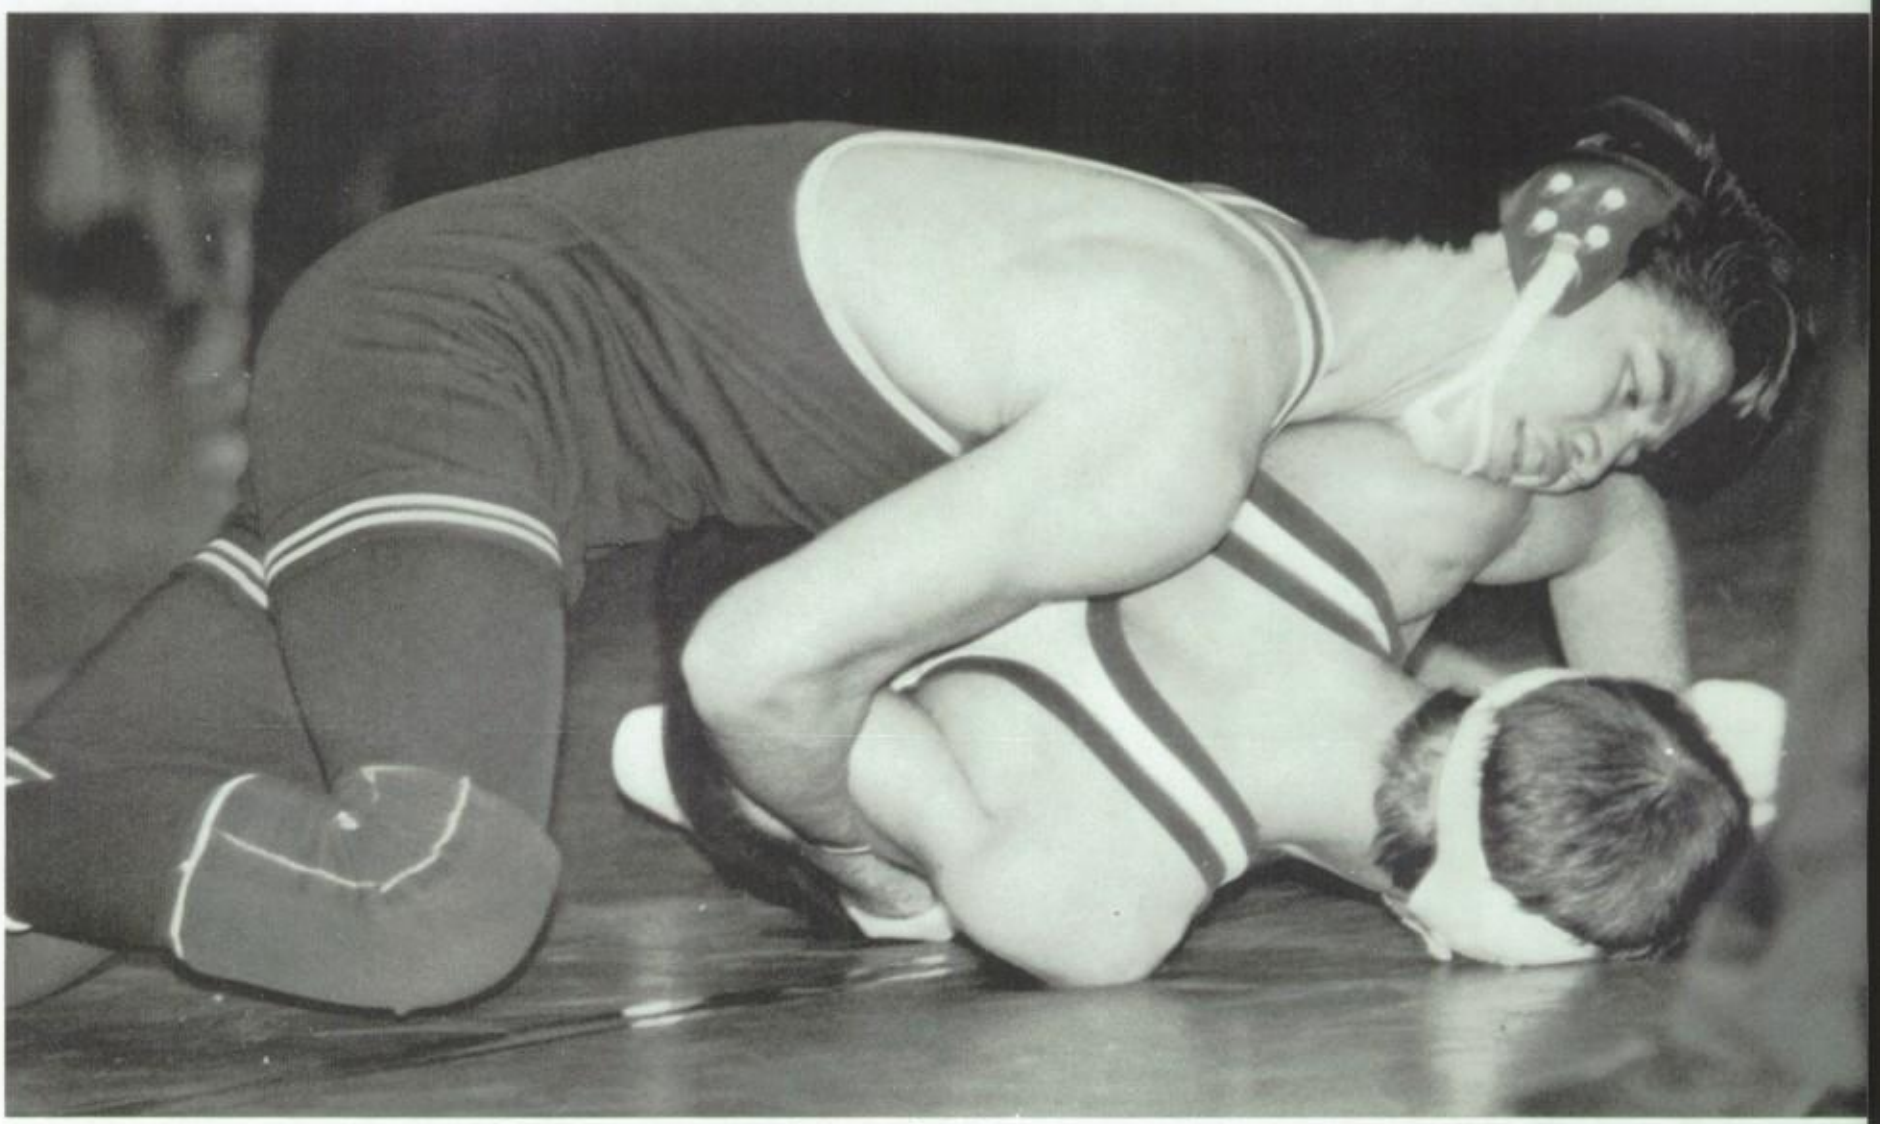
The team's success came from returning players Sheryl Bond and Lea Valenquela, a strong defensive unit. Asked how Coach Hollander felt about the Varsity team, "Very good. The girls have a lot to be proud of. They really look good on the field."

Because 31 girls tried out, it was possible to add the JV team. Coached by Tess Milius, the JV team's record was not as impressive as the Varsity. Limited success did not stop the JV girls from performing. Charmie McIntyre, and Ivana Jacobs, the team's goalie, were major contributors the team's success. Also their spirit, cooperation, and persistence showed.

What started off as "a bright group of players" lacking experience, ended with more experience and skill. Despite such weaknesses, Coach Gunther found his group steadily improving.

Key performances came from JV goalie and captain George Vargas, Richard Schernicoff, and center forward Jay Robinson who was also captain. Their consistence in defense, scoring goals, and the guidance of Mr. Gunther, contributed to improvements observed at the season's end. Coach Gunther related, "For a most part this was a building year. The team played well and improved greatly. It has been a satifying year."

WRESTLING



The attack of the Wildcats

Wilson had a lot to be proud of this year. First there was the Wildcat Basketball team, no its the Wildcat Wrestling team. Coached by Mr. Fair, this group of tough Wildcats accomplished placing second, just below the top ranked Rowland team whom Wilson had fought against for such a rank. Asked how Fair felt about the team, "Optimistic." and why not? Wilson's wrestling came from a 2-3 record last year to second place where they had to beat Los Altos.

Along with individual performances by John Geanakos (20-2), Vic Geanakos (22-5), David Jo (21-7), Abraham Rivera (19-3-3), Don Miller 18-7-1), Carl Fea (16-5), and Phil Meza (21-7-1), the team's high spirits, hard work, and much team work helped in contributing to their . . . awesome season!

VARSITY/J.V. GIRLS' SOFTBALL

The 1985 Sierra League Champions were back to attempt to defend their title. Coach Long said the softball season looked like one of great excitement and thrills.

The varsity squad had eight returning lettermen. The team was led by four 1985 all league performers Anna Getherall, Kim Kostyk, Tonya Carrari, and Darcy Neuberger. In addition, there were stand-out players Lisa Bogard, Stephanie Coons, and Stacy Marty.

The 1986 Lady Wildcats were a well-balanced team with experienced ball players. The strength of the team was in both their defense and offense. One position that has yet to be resolved is the catching department. The team hopes to have Julie Kidwell fill the position.

Erin Henning, Kerry Lopez, Cindy Marino, Kristen Lawson, and Tina Getherall completed the 1986 squad. They were very optimistic about the up coming season and were looking forward to a very successful season.

The J.V. softball team started out uncertain with only three returning players: Dawn Hale, Toni Sitton, and Denise Marrugo. Since the J.V. team is mostly new players, Coach Long wasn't sure how they would do. Since their first game against Workman was victorious, it seemed that the Lady Wildcats would have a promising season. As one optimistic player put it, sophomore Midian Kwon said, "We have some rough edges, but I think it will be resolved. I'd say that we're a very good team."

Completing the 1986 J.V. squad are Michelle Kolvaczk, Gina Carreon, Candice Campos, Midian Kwon, Gina Krueger, Ebony Searcy, Shelley Thomas, Jodi Torena, Jane Dia, Kathy Dool, and Erica Armijo. They hope to continue the Wilson tradition of a very successful softball season.

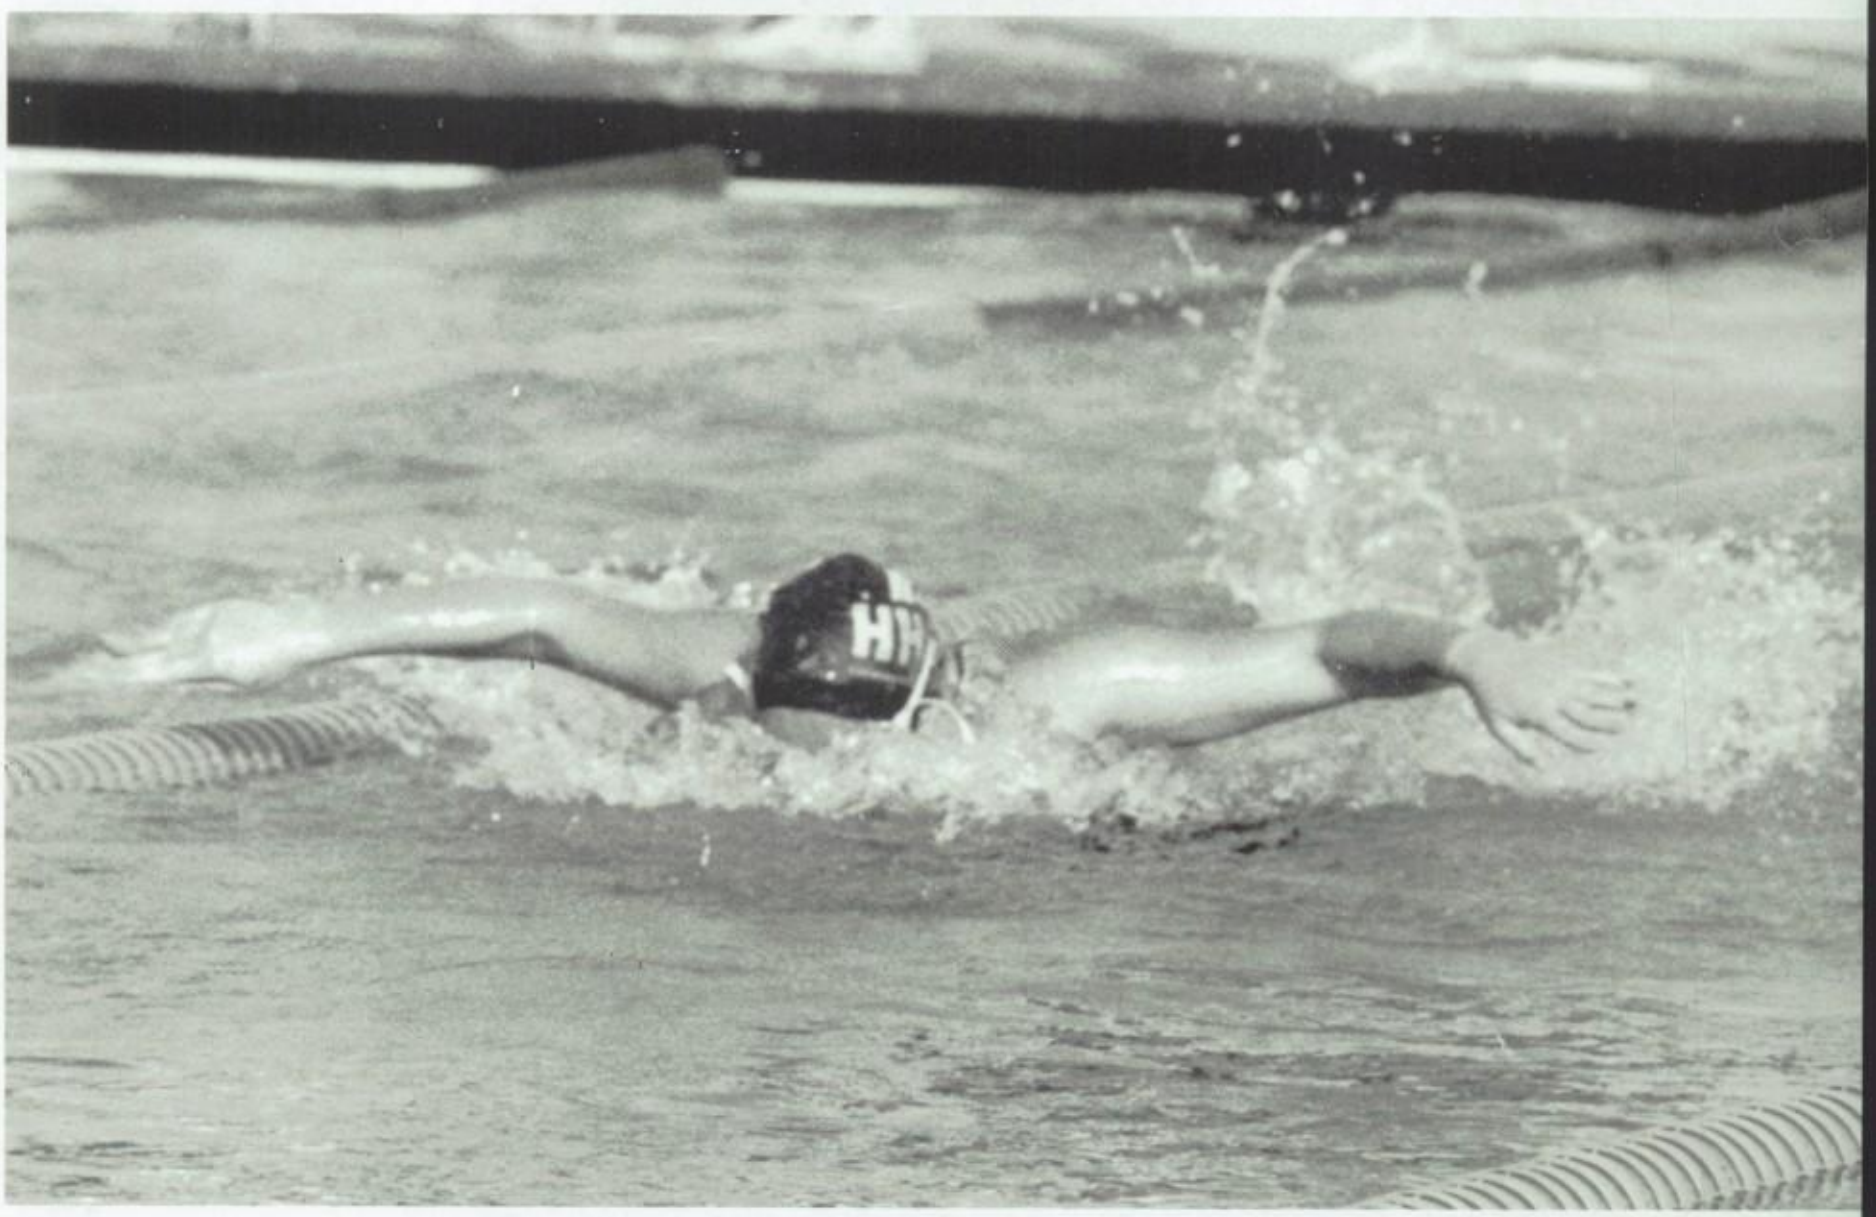
VARSITY BOYS', GIRLS' SWIMMING



Swimmers sting in spring

The spring sports' number one team was undoubtedly the Varsity Swim team. Led by Coach Scott Massey, both the boys and girls excelled.

At the beginning of the season, the girls were favored to win the Sierra League title, and in C.I.F. Massey named Walnut as their toughest opponent for the early part of the season, at least. The players who played large roles in defeating the competition were: All-American Sheri Smith, Joyce Hitchcock, Susan Schoemann, and Lynn Fleischer. Kellee Akiyama, Deanna Larkin and Grace Moon helped too, as terrific new freshmen.

Assuredly, the boys did well also. They were favored to win the League and to improve in their last year's 6th place C.I.F. position.Darrin Blizzard, Steve Cousineau, Joel Francisco, Jorge Carazo, John Kunishima and James Traylor led the team against what was anticipated to be their toughest foe — Los Altos.

Massey attributed part of the team's success to their positive attitude. Undoubtedly, those attitudes have led to the most extraordinary season ever.

J.V. BOYS', GIRLS' SWIMMING

Excellence marks team

Excellence, in two words, is Junior Varsity, when you're talking about swimming. The boys and girls shared keen competition and improvement.

Undoubtedly, the girls had a fantastic season. Many of the J.V. girls should have been in varsity, but weren't because of the strength of the varsity team. This super team was led by Jennie Blum, Barbara Jicha, Winnie Poon and Eileen Odama. Massey called the team "strong" and Odama said it was "fun." Two contrasting terms, to be sure, but accurate nonetheless.

In terms of workouts, the boys worked hard, too. Massey said they worked just as hard as the varsity. The team was led by many experienced swimmers.

Both the J.V. teams were favored to swim away with the Sierra League title. Each of them had tremendous potential as future Varsity players.

Strength and determination obviously pushed this team to where it is now, which is, at Wilson anyway, number one.

VARSITY/J.V. BOYS' TRACK AND FIELD

Proven power, positive potential

Since last year's Sierra League Championship, the boys' track team has been a proven power. With the leave of Coach Foster, Coach Dobrenen took over the responsibility of coaching the very talented team.

It was clear that the team was very hard working and determined. In their first outing, the Varsity team beat Claremont with a score of 103 to 32, and the Junior Varsity team won with a score of 78 to 53. The team was led by seniors Ares Cruz, David Edwards, Jim Kellogg, Tony Mendoza and Todd Nielson. Juniors Mike Smith, Sterlin Jackson, Richard Wang, Sam Chacon, Eugene Chi, David Amparam and David Reichling have also made a major contribution to the team.

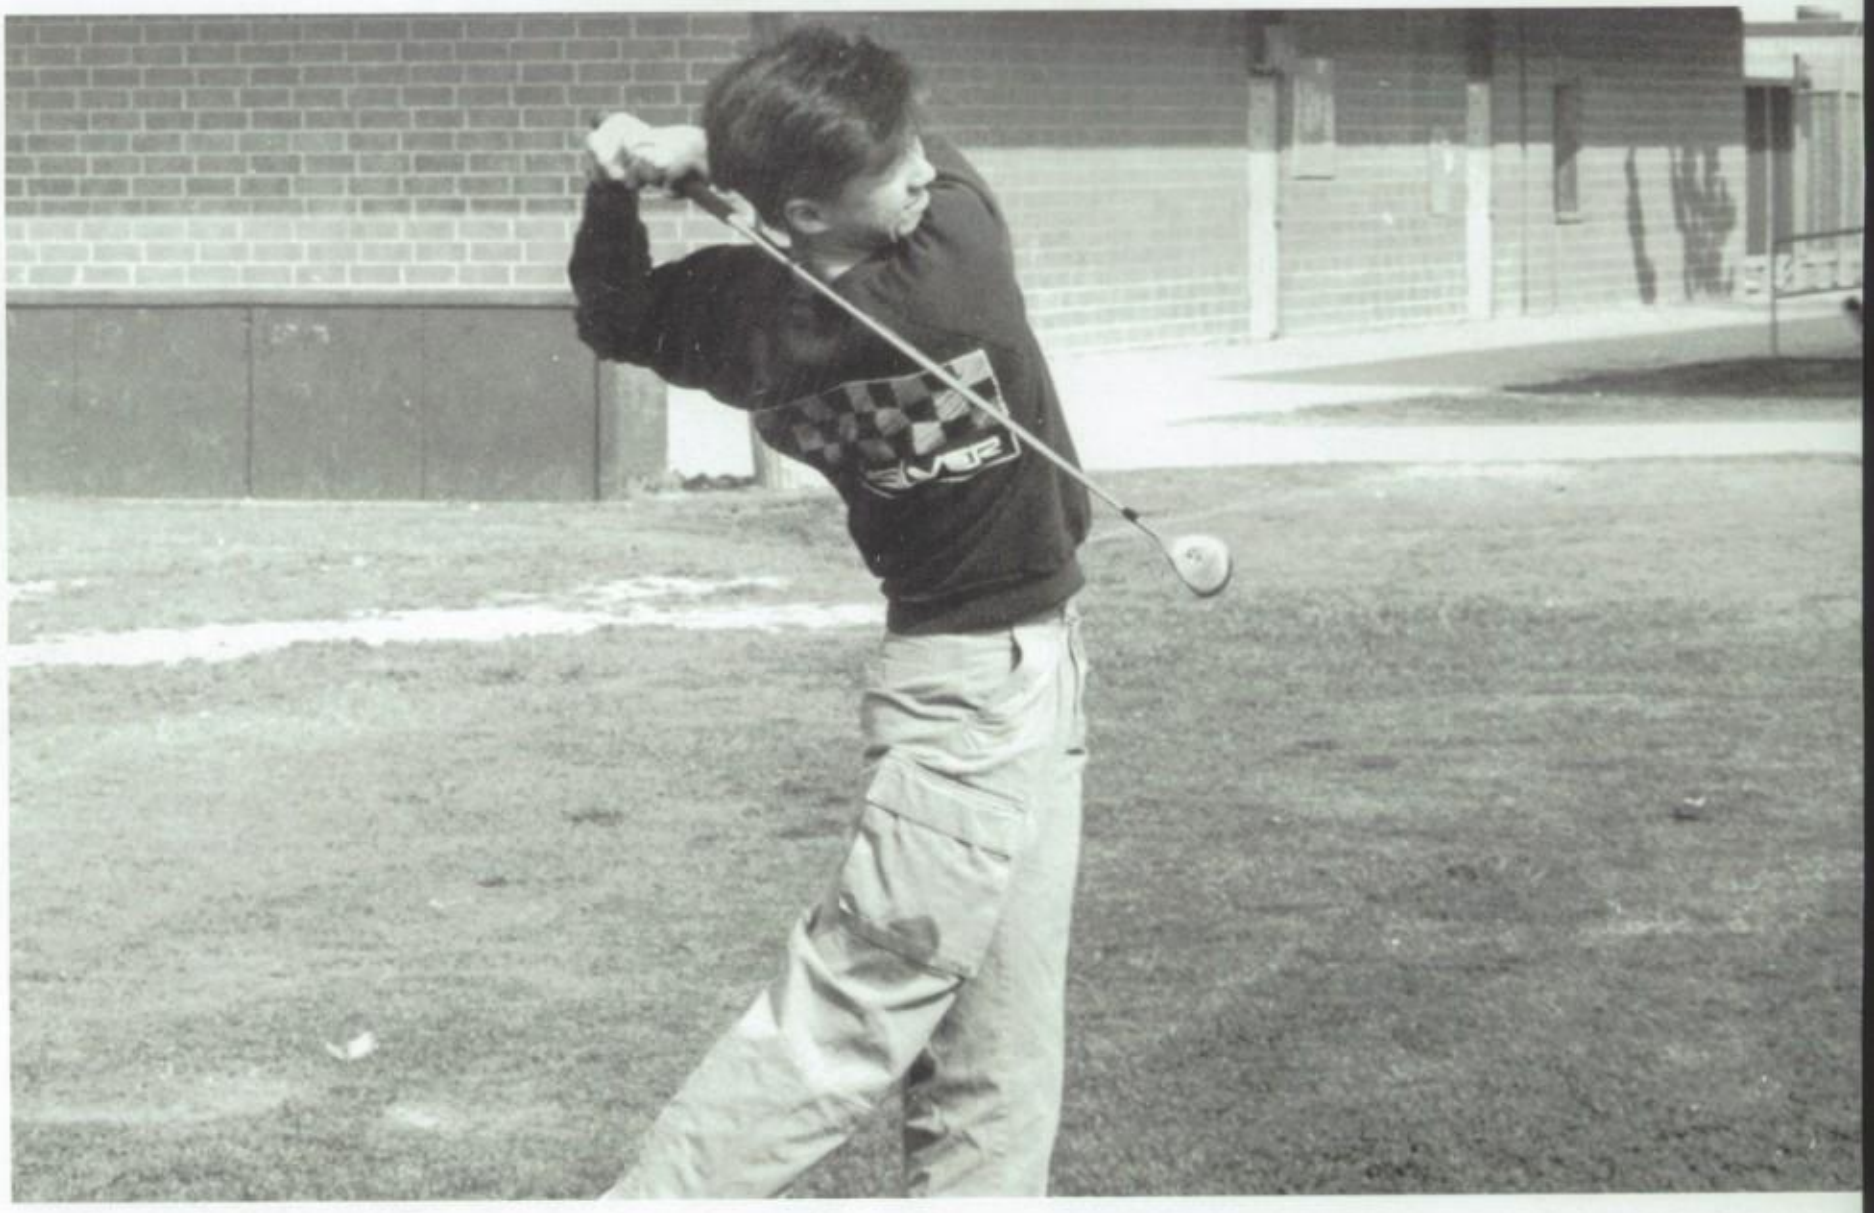
"The team is inexperienced, talented, and very eager to work," said Coach French at the beginning of the track season. His words have led many fine track teams at Wilson, and this team was no exception. Coach French felt optimistic about the team. "60% are novices, but they work as a team harder than any I've coached."

Much of the team's success was a result of the returning lettermen. Darlene Flores, Kelly Kratochvil, Jenny Robinson, Maria Wong, Karen Bushman, Michelle Esparza, Genny Laponsey, Beckey Lopez, Gilda Ochoa, Catherine Rowe, Diane Sanchez and Ann Villalino all hoped to lead the team to a Sierra League Championship.

The team's strengths lay in the distance events, such as the mile and two mile. Coach French felt the team's weakness was speed, lacking any proven sprinters. The key athletes in the distance events were Charmie McIntyre, Darlene Flores and Vanessa Maldonado. Ann Villalino, Vangie McIntyre and Robin Sandoval were the leaders in the 440. Seniors Gilda Ochoa, Catherine Rowe and Kelly Kratochvil were successful in the field events, along with high jumper Jenny Robinson and shot putter Genny Laponsey.

The future of the team appeared very bright. The coaches agreed that next year's team will be even a greater Sierra League contender.

VARSITY/J.V. GOLF



Four for four

Golf is an individual sport where one person plays a game and adds his score with the others to make a total score. The team returned with seven seniors, four of which have played on the team for four years. The team wasn't as strong as in the previous year, but Coach Baucher was optimistic, hoping the new players would catch on. The strength of the team lay in the experience of the four key players — Brian Lee, Nick D'Virgilio, Eric Hernandez, and John Odam. The team's weaknesses were with the younger players, not knowing the rules of the game and lacking experience in competitions. The Varsity team was hard working and the Junior Varsity players also tried diligently. With the seven seniors leaving, there will be several openings for new team members. Coach Baucher will be sorry to see them go. They worked together a long time and were helpful to the team.

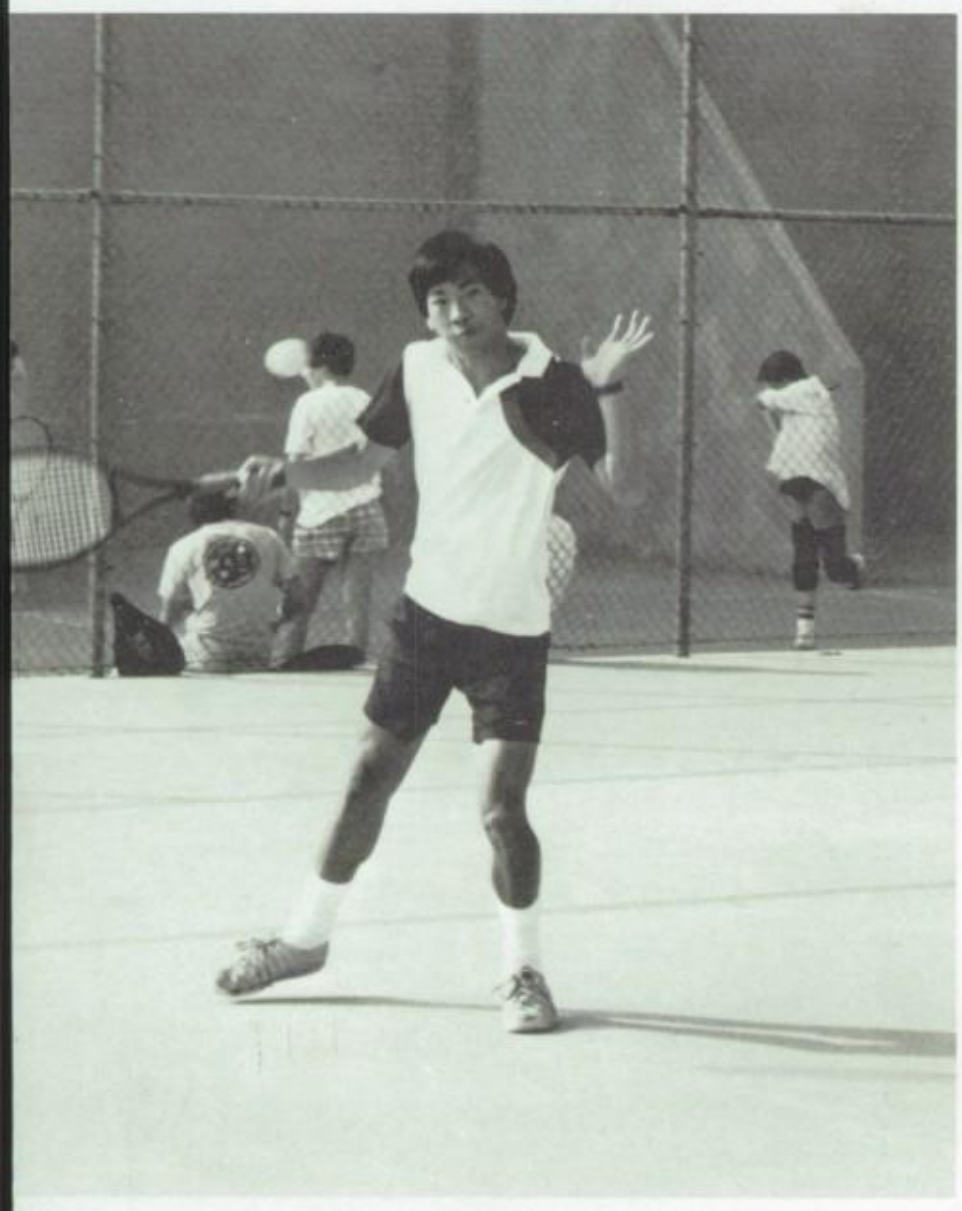
VARSITY/J.V. BOYS' TENNIS



Preseason plants optimism

The Wilson Varsity and J.V. boys' tennis team showed above average ability and looked forward to a good season. Varsity started the preseason with a close match against Damien and a victory against LaPuente. Leading the team in doubles were Jerry Jakubauskas and Steve Lee, and sophomore Jeff Kirschenbaum lead in singles.

The J.V. team started with many new and returning players. Coach Milhiser was very optimistic about the J.V. team. The hard work continued through the season. The boys on the Varsity and J.V. put forth a lot of effort for a sport which is often not given the recognition it deserves. Coach Cavezza also hoped for a fifth consecutive C.I.F. appearance. The tennis team distinguished themselves as worthy of notice through their great performances.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Season of solid senior sluggers

As the baseball season swung into action so did the Wildcat Varsity Baseball team. With experience from four returning cats and strength in both offense and defense, Coach Steve Martin and the Wildcats felt nothing but optimism in having a successful season.

The squad, consisting of four seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore, was dominated by the classmen. Nonetheless, they had no problem in senior leadership and guidance from Brian Chavez, Fernando Solis, Kevin Garza, and Vince Gonzales who provided a strong infield and outfield. The pitching staff, which included Robert Armitage, Matt Lopez, Anthony Delsi, and Fernando Solis teamed up with Neil Weingarten at the plate, was the final touch to the solid defense. The hard-hitting and consistent lineup and the young talent displayed by underclassmen provided the Wildcats with a strong weapon against any opposing team.

Yong Kim led the sluggers with a batting average of .486. Brian Chavez, the cats senior shortstop, also provided power with a .436 average. One of the highlights of the season was the Wilson-Los Altos game. Head coach Steve Martin shocked the Conquerors when his Wildcats scored eight runs in the top of theseventh to take a 13-9 victory. This put Wilson in an early third place tie in the Sierra League with Los Altos. This proved to be a most memorable game for Wilson's sluggers to shine.

VARSITY/J.V. BADMINTON

Notice results in deluge

"We had one of the biggest turnouts when it came to tryouts for the team," exclaimed Ms. Lefevers. "Even though we put in only one bulletin notice, the response was great!" The team, consisting of both girls and boys, practiced many hard hours in order to be in top form. In the end, the hard work paid off for them because they had a strong season.

Many valuable players along with an excellent coach contributed in making the team a winning one. Although the team suffered some defeats, their competitive spirit never failed. Just playing for fun was good enough for them.

The Varsity Badminton team, made up of many returning players, had a good season. They suffered some losses, but they did not lose their enthusiasm. They continued playing the best they could and to the best of their abilities. This paid off for all of the times when they did win.

The Junior Varsity team, consisting of many new players, had many learning experiences, such as preparing for next year's team and upholding the name of Wilson. They learned all they needed to produce a winning team. All of this helped, for the team was as strong as ever.

THE ROAD TO THE TOP

Those who traveled to the Oakland Memorial Coliseum to witness the Wildcat basketball team defeat Aptos High and claim the California State Division II basketball championship will long remember the moment. This team brought backthe highest award of any athletic team in the 20 year history of Wilson.

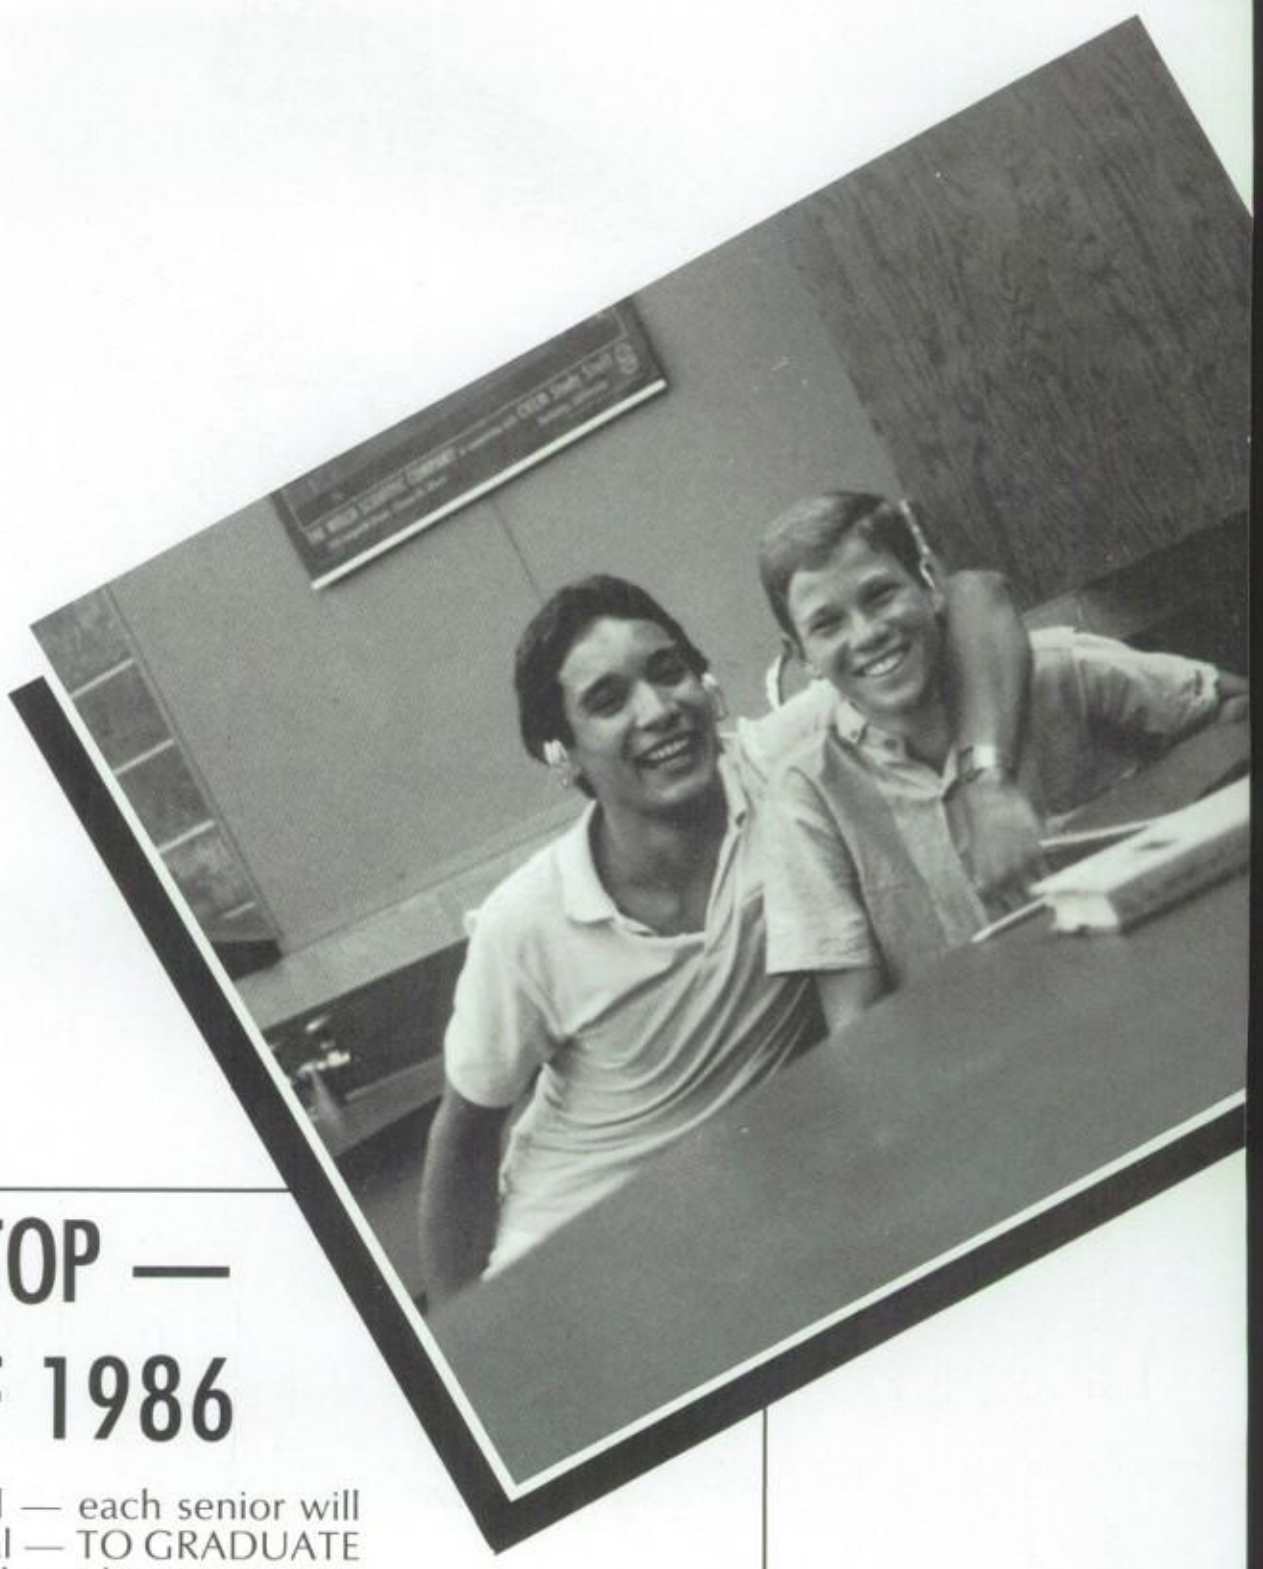
The cats competed in a total of eight post season games to capture both the CIF and State title. Wilson breezed through the first and second rounds of CIF, defeating La Quinta and Valencia handily. Senior Paul Barriga led the offense against La Quinta with a season high thirty points. Valencia was stunted by our All-American, 6-10 center Scott Williams.

The Wildcats had two games remaining before they would enter the long awaited CIF finals. Wilson defeated Claremont by nine points with the strong play of Scott Williams, forward Neil Weingarten and guard Dwain Daniels. Katella then fell to Wilson in the CIF semifinals by only two points.

The long awaited moment came as Wilson entered the finals at the Los Angeles Sports Arena. Ganesha proved to be the toughest opponent and left the nailbiter undecided until the final seconds. First, Ganesha missed two consecutive free throws that would have put them in the lead with only eight seconds remaining. Wilson's Anthony Delsi then drew a foul and went to the line to decide the game. In the most tense moment of the season, Anthony made both free throws and gave the Wildcats their second CIF Basketball championship.

Wilson now entered the regionals in what proved to be an anticlimax. The Wildcats clearly dominated both Washington Union and El Camino, defeating each by eighteen points. The cats were finally on their way to the State Finals at the Oakland Memorial Coliseum.

Before a crowd of six thousand the Wilson Wildcats were ready to make their dream a reality. Wilson was matched against the Aptos High Mariners, an impressive team with a 31 straight victories. Despite their record, Aptos was clearly dominated by the Wildcats and center Scott Williams. Wilson took an early lead and never looked back. The Cats routed Aptos by a score of 72-46, bringing home the California State Championship trophy.



TO THE TOP — CLASS OF 1986

The moment has arrived — each senior will reach their ultimate goal — TO GRADUATE from high school. We have been pursuing this goal throughout grammer school and junior high school and now at the age of eighteen, we have experienced the bad as well as the happy times of our education. Whatever the future holds for us, we still have our special memories of our family, teachers, and friends and the knowledge that we have reached TO THE TOP.

Congratulations to all of us — THE CLASS OF 1986.

Above — The best types of friendship are made in high school, thus Paul Barriga and Scott Robinson realize the importance of their fun-loving friendship. Right — The sign tells it all.

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20510

TO THE 1986 GRADUATING CLASS OF GLEN A. WILSON HIGH SCHOOL

It is with admiration and every good wish that I extend my warmest congratulations to each of you on the occasion of your graduation from Glen A. Wilson High School and the celebration of your school's 20th Anniversary.

You must feel an enormous sense of satisfaction at having successfully met the challenges of your high school academic career. Whether your next goal in life is career, family, or further education, I hope you will continue to strive for excellence and let that joy of personal enrichment touch every phase of your life. The great adventure in learning should never stop...in fact, it is the pursuit of life that demands one continue to learn, grow and be receptive to, and understand our changing world.

As you become active, contributing members of your respective communities, may you command the future with the same sense of purpose and accomplishment that you feel today. Armed with your education and your bright, young minds, you must seize the promise of tomorrow, for you are its hope and strength.

With personal best wishes to you and your proud families,

Sincerely,

Pete Wilson

Dear Wildcats,

Congratulations on celebrating the 20th Anniversary of Glen A. Wilson High School!

Over the past two decades Wilson High has prepared its students to become the involved citizens a strong democracy depends on. The community of Hacienda Heights can be proud of the tradition Glen A. Wilson High School has set.

Best of luck to the Graduating Class of 1986. If you look towards the future with anticipation and commitment, you'll have the strength to meet the challenges to come.

Sincerely,

To the H.H. Wilson class of 1986:

Congratulations on your graduation! Some of you thought this day would never come, and others hoped it wouldn't. But you will all discover that the contributions you can make to your community and country will continue to become richer and more rewarding.

As you leave high school, and begin the next phase of life, prepare yourself to start giving back to society. The duties of a citizen are as numerous as the rights. Become informed and involved. Take advantage of your voting rights. Our society relies heavily on volunteers, and I hope you will all avail yourselves to your community.

Congratulations again. Good luck in all you do.

ALL STAR

This has been a memorable year at Wilson due to the many important contributions of some outstanding seniors. One of these special seniors is Scott Williams. At 6-foot-10 and still growing, Scott is one of the most recruited prep basketball players in the country and is said to be the number one rec ruit on the west coast. Scott began to receive national attention when he returned from the Nike All-American Camp at Princeton university last summer.

"He paid a price (no summer vacation), and he went to summer school at Mt. SAC after he got back, too, but it was worth it," related his mother, Rita.

With more than 125 schools taking an avid interest in Scott, the phone never seemed to stop ringing with calls trying to recruit the 17-year-old All Star. Scott received calls from such celebrities as comedian Bill Cosby and World Champion Laker forward James Worthy. Scott had to begin narrowing down his selection. First, he narrowed it down to about 80 schools, then 25, then 10. His final five choices were UCLA, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, Villanova University, DePaul University, and Georgia Tech. Finally, on an early signing date, November 13, 1985, Scott announced his final choice. Scott had decided to continue his education at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.

We will be able to see Scott in California in his first college game, UCLA vs. University of North Carolina. Scott has worked long and hard toward his goals. We wish Scott much success in the future, with such hard work and determination we know he will succeed in whatever he strives to achieve.

RUNNING OFF

"I'm off to London!" she yelled. Tammy Moreno was not only surprised, but also shocked that she had been chosen to be a representative of America along with seventy-nine other high school students from America in a road race in London, England.

Tammy had gone to a track camp over the summer and the coordinators were also on the committee who chose students to run in the road race. All four judges had to agree on a candidate, and all four were certain that Tammy would be an excellent choice.

She was picked, not only on ability, but also on her attitude and determination. They were surprised at her enthusiasm and her dedication in overcoming and dealing with her knee problems. She was interviewed and later in the summer, she received a letter announcing that she had been accepted.

The race is one of the most prestigious amateur races, and only 1,000 students ages 12-17 are chosen worldwide. Tammy was the only one who was chosen from Southern California. Considering that Tammy had been in sports only for one year, this was a major accomplishment.

The cost of the trip was $1,795, but fortunately, because of Tammy's mum's hard work, they were able to raise almost enough money to cover the cost of the trip, through donations and sponsers. Tammy was also required to purchase special equipment for the race since she would be running on Dec. 31 at 11:45 p.m. for five miles in London along the Thames River. After the race was over, Tammy and her fellow runners were taken for two days of sightseeing in Paris, France.

This was a year that neither Tammy nor her friends will ever forget. Graduating from high school is a feat in itself, but watching your close friend go off to London after all the dreams and hopes, is something that will be remembered and treasured forever.

TO THE TOP OF THE BOTTOM

Juniors, sophomores, and of course freshmen made up the largest part of the student population. For the junior class, it would not be long before they too would be at THE TOP. For the sophomore class, they were overjoyed at not being a freshmen and looking forward to be an upperclassmen. As for the freshmen, they were denounced and derided. Eventually all will be seniors and at their best, but for now, they work to move FROM THE BOTTOM TO THE TOP.

AIDS ROCKS THE NATION

Since AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) was first recognized in 1981, the number of cases have been doubling each year. As of November 4, 1985, there have been 14,519 cases reported with a fifty-one percent mortality rate. In addition to homosexuals, even heterosexuals are vulnerable. The majority of AIDS victims are homosexual or bisexual men, then the intravenous drug users and finally hemophiliacs.

At first, AIDS was considered by the public to be a medical curiosity, an illness that struck a distinct minority. With recent research, findings have concluded that the virus may be transferred by blood, semen, saliva, and tears. However, the virus is very fragile and cannot survive outside the human body. Doctors also cite only four ways to transmit the virus: by blood transfusion, by sharing intravenous needles, by childbirth, and by sexual intercourse.

Scientists at the National Cancer Institute, in 1984, first determined that a virus was the cause of AIDS. This discovery has made it possible to develop tests that determine who has been exposed, but at the present there is no known cure. The development of a vaccine is looked at optimistically, but not for at least five to ten years. The disease has already claimed the life of Rock Hudson this year, making the public aware of the growing epidemic.

ONCE IN A LIFETIME

Many people celebrated the rare occasion of Halley's Comet. It was seen in December, 1985 for the first time since 1910. The comet was constantly in the news from December until 1986, the optimal month for viewing the comet with the unaided eye. Until April though, viewers of the comet had to remember a few handy hints to see the comet at its best. It was important to pick a dark night with no moon to avoid the glimmer of any city lights, and to use binoculars. Of course, many people viewed the comet with the aid of the experts from observatories also.

During the first few weeks of January, the comet appeared in the west/southwest about ¼ of the way up the night sky with Jupiter below the comet. During this month the best time for viewing the comet was 9 p.m.

In the months of February through March only the more dedicated Halley's Comet fans saw the comet. This was due to the fact that it was most visible at 4 a.m.! At this time the comet moved from the southwest to the southeast and was about ⅛ of the way up from the horizon.

In April the comet even more visible yet, about 5 to 10 degrees above the southern horizon. The best viewing areas were the high desert areas because they offered the most unobstructed view.

And finally on April 9th, 1986, anyone who looked due south, nine degrees above the horizon at 2:30 a.m. saw probably one of the most unbelievable sights of their life. For this was when the comet hit its transit point and was the most visible.

Those who missed the comet will have to wait until 2060 for a chance to see it again.

The comet, with its evaporating icy core can only be seen trailing its 93 million mile tail every 75 years.

WHAT WAS HOT AND WHAT WAS NOT

Buttoned up shirts, paisleys, junk jewelry, Reeboks, Cherry Coke, Halley's Comet, and Live Aid. These were just some of the things that were hot and intriguing in the year of 1985-1986. Everywhere you looked, people had their collars buttoned up or their pants tucked into their socks. Long silk shirts and flower printed blazers were also a big trend. Long jackets and trench coats made a comeback as well as the plastic time piece called the Swatch. Stirrup pants and high topped shoes were a big hit among the girls. Wanna be Madonnas, dressed in the color black with hip hugging tube skirts adorned in costume jewelry, were a big fad among the Wilson girls. They all tried desperately to look like their idol, or like each other.

In television, Miami Vice, The Cosby Show, Family Ties, and Dynasty were still on top, as well as some new shows like Alfred Hitchcock Presents, and The Golden Girls.

On the silver screen, sequals to hit movies seemed to be a trend. Rocky IV and The Jewel of the Nile were box office sellouts, as well as White Nights, A Chorus Line, and Out of Africa. The summer favorties included Back to the Future, Spies Like Us, and The Jagged Edge.

In music, the British invasion was once again the real hit. Artists such as Wham!, Phil Collins, Tears for Fears, Arcadia, The Thompson Twins, and Simple Minds were all at the top of the charts. American artists who hit big included Madonna, Lionel Richie, and Stevie Wonder. Bob Geldof, of The Boomtown Rats, also started a new fad. He made it acceptable to care. With the start of Band Aid, many other artists followed suit. He then organized the super concert called Live Aid. It was known as the show that moved the world. It was held on two different continents and set up in order to raise money for the African famine victims. Geldof worked long and hard to get this off the ground and it worked because it opened up a sense of awareness among adults and children.

NIGHT STALKER

In the early months of summer a serial killer known as Richard Ramirez went on a brutal killing spree which started from February and ended in August. Many innocent people were killed. Also known as the Night Stalker, Valley Intruder, and the Walk-in-Killer because of the manner in which he attacked his victims between the hours of midnight and 6 a.m., the Stalker allegedly would enter through unlocked doors and windows and attacked his victims as they slept. He also was described as having badly stained gaped teeth, tall, thin, and having piercing brown eyes. The accused Stalker molested children, raped women of a variety of ages, and murdered both men and women with guns, knives, and sometimes used his own hands.

Police contemplated a link between the Night Stalker and satanic worship. The Stalker was believed to have spray painted a pentagram in several homes he devastated. It was also reported that he gouged out the eyes of one of his victims, a mutilation performed in some satanic ceremonies.

On Saturday August 31, as Ramirez was passing a liquor store when he saw a picture of himself in a newspaper which was released the night before; Ramirez began to panic. Dressed in a black, Jack Daniels t-shirt and in black pants, he fled running through backyards and alleys. About this time he reached East Hubbard Street, where he tried to steal a red Mustang, but the woman fought him off and he tried for another woman, Angelina De La Torre. She was getting into her car, but surrendered her keys and then she ran screaming for help. Jose Burgoin quickly seized Ramirez and Manuel De La Torre, Angelina's husband, arrived with a steal rod and smashed Ramirez over the head. Manuel and others ganged up on Ramirez and held him until police arrived taking Ramirez into custody. Finally, a frightened community was at ease.

DEATH IN SOUTH AFRICA

Day after day police jeeps continue to pay unwanted visits to the cities and townships to arrest and kill, if necessary — blacks, who they felt are a threat to the white minority government of State President P. W. Botha. In the first week of the state of emergency, five hundred people alone were killed. Almost all of them blacks. This year, South Africa had one of its bloodiest confrontations with the black majority since the early 1960's.

President Reagan and other western leaders criticized the Pretoria government and denounced aparthied as repugnant. Reagan refused to hold sanctions against South Africa when President Botha declared, "The problems of South Africa will be solved by South Africans, not foreigners."

Many members of Congress urged the President to shake South Africa by her throat, but again Reagan claimed that Sough Africa's problems could be solved by "constructive engagement," an attempt to change South Africa's Policies through quiet diplomacy. Many universities debated over the issue of divestment to withdraw their monetary support of companies doing business in South Africa. This drew a lot of support of college age students, but when the regents of the universities met, many of them decided not to divest their holdings. Many analysts agree that unless Botha and his people change their attitude of the black majority, a bloodbath might soon be at hand, and the state of South Africa could plunge into an all out civil war.

WATER CONTAMINATION HITS THE HEIGHTS

Panic spread throughout Hacienda Heights when news of water contamination first came to our community. On September 30, the San Gabriel Valley Water Company notified 5,300 customers that they should resort to bottled water for drinking and cooking. Shortly after this warning was given, however, the Department of Health Services mailed notices to explain that the contaminant level was so low, that any cancer risk was difficult to calculate.

Dichloroethylene, or DCE, causes cancer in laboratory animals. There has been no study as of yet to determine its effects on humans.

Kenneth W. Kizer, Director of the State Health Department, said in order to suffer any ill effects from the water, a person would have to drink two liters of water a day for 70 years. The level of DCE found in Hacienda Heights' water was 4 parts per billion.

Only residents of Hacienda Heights who receive water from the San Gabriel Valley Water Company were affected. Most of these residents live south of the Pomona Freeway and west of Hacienda Boulevard.

There were nine Hacienda-La Puente district schools affected; Grazide Elementary, Kwis Elementary, Los Altos Elementary, Los Molinos Elementary, Los Robles Elementary, Palm Elementary, La Subida Instructional Resource Center, Los Altos High School, and Orange Grove Junior High School. An estimated 3,800 to 4,000 students were affected. The district purchased enough drinking water to provide one pint per day for students at the elementary schools, and one quart per day for staff members and high school students.

RAMBOMANIA

The saga started three years ago with a film called "First Blood." It was not expected to be a box office smash, but everyone saw it. The masses were moved by hero John Rambo's tear-jerking story. All the teen-age girls wanted to find a man like him. Teen-age boys wanted to be a man like him. Then as all popular movies do, "First Blood" faded away and so did the John Rambo craze. That is until the summer of 1985.

"Rambo, First Blood Part II," was released and the hype for John Rambo was going strong as early as the first week after it first appeared in local theaters. Massive quantities of "Rambo" T-shirts, water guns, and other movie memorabilia were sold. Rambomania was definitely alive and kicking across the country. This time though, Rambomania affected more than just the teen-age crowd who liked Rambo's 'superman' like image. "First Blood Part II" resurrected the American Patriotism that everyone had felt so strongly during the Olympics.

"Club Ramboid" was opened in Houston and Rambo look alike contests were held in various clubs all over the nation. People even started telling Rambo jokes. Although the majority of the people liked Rambo, there was some controversy over the fact that America's youth looked at such a violent man as their hero. Some people were worried that Rambo would have too strong of an influence on their children, but so far there have been no repeats of any serious Rambo induced incidents, John Rambo remains one of America's most popular movie heroes.

VICE COPS HEAT UP THE SCREEN

The explosion of machine guns, bikini-clad girls on the beach, and a flock of flamingos whiz by to the pulsing rock beat of the latest sounds. The local colors of South Florida: Lime green, carribean blue, and flamingo pink paint the screen. And, of course, the infamous palm trees, sleek cars, and familiar art deco logo. These vibrant visuals, Mtv-inspired music, and gritty South Florida ambiance are the backdrop to one of tv's most innovative and hippest shows around today.

Scheduled on Friday nights, on NBC, Miami Vice has steadily positioned itself in the top ten of the prime time shows. Following the footsteps of other popular cop shows like Hill Street Blues, Miami Vice has firmly caught the public's attention.

Viewers were taken in by the cool charisma of Don Johnson, and Phillip Michael Thomas, better known as detectives Sonny Crockett and Ricardo Tubbs. Their stylish chic fashions have caught the public's eye. Most notably, Don Johnson's Italian sport coat, t-shirt, white linen pants, and slip-on shoes have started a trend across the nation. Sales of these unconstructed blazers have gone up noticeably.

No doubt, the show's originality and vibrant setting have greatly appealed to the audience, and will probably do so for years to come.

SEVEN BUNDLES OF JOY

On May 21, 1985 thirty-year-old Patti Frustaci gave birth to septuplets. This was the first time septuplets, born to an American, survived more than a few hours.

Patti and Sam Frustaci, who were married four years ago, had a fourteen month old son, Joseph. They wanted to have a larger family and after a year of trying unsuccessfully, they decided to get help.

Patti was given a fertility pill, Pergonal. After eight months, she learned that she was pregnant. Upon seeing her doctor, she learned that she was carrying triplets. After further tests with an ultra sound machine, it was discovered that there were seven heartbeats. The Frustaci's knew the danger which awaited Patti and the babies, but they decided to go through with the pregnancy and not abort.

One of the babies was stillborn and the tiniest one, David Anthony, nicknamed Peanut, died three days later. The remaining babies had a difficult battle ahead. Patricia, James, Stephen, Bonnie, and Richard although tiny and weak, were as healthy as could have been expected.

The chances of the remaining five to survive were slim. To their dismay, two more died, James and Bonnie. The other three were stable.

Four and a half months after their births, Patti and Sam were able to take their third baby home. Patricia is the healthiest of the three, while Stephen is still the weakest. Richard and Stephen are hooked up to oxygen and will probably remain attached to it for at least a year.

The fertility pills were obvious cause of the multiple births. The Frustaci's filed a law suit against the Tylen Medical Clinic for failing to properly monitor Patti while she was taking the pills.

The medical bill for the Frustaci's is over one million dollars, but fortunately, Sam's insurance will cover most of the cost. The Frustaci's have also been receiving donations from baby product companies.

The future looks rough, with all the medical costs and simply the cost of raising a child, but the Frustaci's finally have the large family which they always wanted.

TWA-FLIGHT 847

When the control tower at Beirut Airport began receiving messages from a TWA aircraft, they had no idea that it would begin a long seventeen day ordeal. The first signs of trouble, "He has pulled a hand grenade pin and is ready to blow up the aircraft if he has to. We must, I repeat, we must land at Beirut, . . . no alternative." Five minutes later, the crucial reply from the control tower, "Very well, Land, Land, quietly." The plane lands, then another dramatic plea, "They are beating the passengers, they are threatining to kill the passengers. We want fuel, or he is going to kill the passengers." At first, officials thought that the terrorists would give up after a couple of hours, but by the end of the second day they were not sure how long it would last. The plane then left Beirut, for Algiers. They set a deadline of 10:00 a.m. for their demands to be met, then they left Algiers, again landing in Beirut. Their demand was for Kuwait to release seventeen Shi'ite Muslims, and also for Isreal to release 750 Palestinians that were captured when Isreal occupied Lebanon. The hijackers brutally beat and murdered Navy Diver Robert Stethem, because he was wearing his Navy uniform. On Saturday night, somehow the hostages were removed from the plane, nowhere to be found. The next day, there was a call to the American Embassy by Amal leader Nabih Berri who was often criticized because of his on-again off-again control of the crisis. Isreal said it would not free the hostages unless the United States personally asked her to do so. President Reagan's response, "Absolutely Not." He said, "We will never make concessions to thugs and barbarians." The president asked Syrian President Assad to use his influence to free the hostages. The hijackers held a press conference with foreign news crew, with some of the hostages present. The hijackers wanted to explain to them the problems faced by the people of Palestine, and the anxiety of not having a homeland. The crisis lasted seventeen days, then Isreal decided to release the prisoners of war, if and only when the American hostages were released. In a motorcade of Red Cross vehicles, the hostages were transported from Beirut through the Beckaa Valley on the Road to Damascus. They were flown to West Germany, where less than four years before, another group of people were taken after they were freed from their captors for simply being Americans.

DISASTER STRIKES THE AIR

It was a hot evening in Tokyo in one of the world's busiest air terminals, Haneda was more crowded than usual. Many people were waiting to visit their families and their birth places for the three-day observance holiday of Bon. But for 520 people who boarded the Japan Air Lines Flight 123 bound for Osaka, their trip would end tragically.

The Boeing 747SR, was built to handle the frequent takeoffs and landings required by shorter routes, crashed into a mountain in the wilderness area called the Tibet of Japan's Gumma Prefecture of Mount Osutaka.

The death of Captain Masami Takahama, a co-pilot, a flight engineer, and twelve cabin attendants, plus 509 passengers made it the single worst plane accident in aviation history. Incredibly there were four survivers. Yumi Ochiai, 26, a off-duty flight attendant for JAL was spotted between seats, with a broken pelvis and arm fractures. Next, Keiko Kawakami 12, was found caught in a tree suffering from only cuts and torn muscles. Also alive were Hiroko Yoshizaki 34, and her daugher Mikiko age 8, were under debris.

The main reason for the crash was that the pieces for the plane tail had broken off. Most importantly, the rudder which makes directional control difficult. But other pilots gi high praise to Captain Takahama keeping the plane in the air for least 35 minutes.

WHAT WENT WRONG

"You can only become a winner if you are willing to walk over the edge," quoted Challenger astronaut Ronald E. McNair. However for the six astronaut and one teacher, their dreams of exploring the universe and discovering its truth, of becoming "winners," ended in tragedy.

It was on a bright and biting day of January 28, 1986 at the Kennedy Space Center, the Space Shuttle Challenger was poised on the launch pad. It was a day of excitement and of nervousness for the Challenger crew: Michael Smith, Francis Scobee, Ronald McNair, Ellison Onizuka, Gregory Jarvis, Judith Resnik, and the first private American Citizen, and teacher Christa McAulisse. It was on this day that that the astronauts were closer in taking this ultimate "trip" which took years of training, preparation, and dedication. However for school teacher Christa McAulisse, this meant weeks of preparation and time away from her family; her two children. But it was all worth it. They knew that their greatest service to explore the heavens and open new frontiers.

Watched by millions, the astronauts were ready. The Challenger crew consisting of pilots and scientists; men and women; white, black, and Asian, waved their "final good-byes" watched by millions, the Challenger exploded, taking the lives of our seven heroes.

WAVE OF THE FUTURE

Walking around campus one may have asked himself, "What was that?" "That" is the hairstyle of the eighties.

Looking back at past generations, bouffant hairdo's were common in the sixties. In the seventies, with all the protests, everyone had straight, long hair. But, as usual, the eighties are unusual. The unique hairstyle is popular. Each person expresses himself differently from another by the appearance of his hair.

With the changing hairstyles, stereotypes for men and women have also been affected. Men are growing their hair, while women are cutting theirs almost to the point of baldness. Many unusual colors like pink, orange, green and burgundy, are also being experimented with by all those who want to obtain their own "look."

The drastic change in the way youths and adults appear came about a few years ago with the punk movement from England. The mohawks and spiked hair seemed to fade away a while back, but it came back stronger than ever. At first sight, one might be shocked, but upon looking closer at the individual, one will see that the person is using what he has to express himself. Painters use a canvas, musicians use words and music, and others use their hair.

The unusual hairstyle can be seen in commercials and magazine advertisements. Many musicians are also discovering the appearance which best suits them.

Boy George, the lead singer for Culture Club, was one of the first musicians to do what had not been done in years. He wore his hair quite long and with the make-up, at first glance, he could have easily been mistaken for a girl, but with the increasing number of people with out-of-the-ordinary hairstyles, one is not as surprised.

Actually, the hairstyles are not that bad. With all the various colors, there is no chance of the hairstyles of the eighties being called boring or typical.

THE CONCERT THAT MOVED THE WORLD

On July 13, 1985 rock's best and brightest gathered on two continents to set new standards of good work and to present the show of the century. Promoters called it "a global jukebox." It was, in truth, much more. It was groups such as The Who and Led Zeppelin reuniting; it was superstars such as Daryl Hall and John Oates happily playing in a backup band; and it was, by the time it ended, the most widely seen TV broadcast since Neil Armstrong landed on the moon. This was Live Aid, held to raise cash for African famine victims, and to raise a generation's consciousness in the process as well. For its benevolent stars, the event was rewarding beyond any royalty. For those who watched, it was simply the greatest day of rock ever.

This superconcert was held in two different locations: one in J.F.K. Stadium in Philadelphia and the other in Wembley Stadium in London. Hosts for the concerts included such stars as Don Johnson, Chevy Chase, and Jack Nicholson. An appearance by Prince Charles and Princess Diana was even made for this special occasion.

Philadelphia's show, which kicked off at 6:00 a.m., featured such stars as Bryan Adams, Tears For Fears, The Thompson Twins, Power Station, Phil Collins, Duran Duran, Madonna, Bob Dylan, Mick Jagger dueting with Tina Turner and Robert Plant and Jimmy Page with Phil Collins on drums playing a set of Led Zeppelin songs.

In London, performers included Paul McCartney, Boomtown Rats, Spandau Ballet, Howard Jones, Bryan Ferry, U2, Dire Straits, David Bowie, a Sting — Phil Collins — Julian Lennon trio, The Who reunion, and Elton John dueting with Wham!

Philly's concert ended with each performer getting together to sing USA For Africa led by Lionel Richie. London's concert ended with everyone singing the song that started it all — Do They Know It's Christmas? led by Bob Geldof. This tune alone raise $11 million and prompted pop stars in more than 20 countries to cut their own songs for the cause.

Newspapers began to call Geldof

"saint," some members of Parliament suggested calling him "Sir," one Nobel Peace Prize nominator wanted him up for the award, but just taking a bow before a standing ovation after organizing the most successful benefit concert in rock history was enough for this man. Geldof also made a bit of history for himself by receiving one ovation more thunderous than that which welcomed Charles and Diana to Wembley Saturday morning. All this did not really matter to the 32-year-old rocker because all he wanted to do was to save some lives through a small plastic record, and he had accomplished that!

DEATH AMONG THE RUINS

Four devastating minutes rumbled by, and at least 6,000 people lost their lives. It was 7:18 on the morning of Thursday, September 19th, and Mexico's capitol city as well as Guadalajara, Acapulco and Puerto Vallarte felt the effects of the earthquake that measured 7.8 on the Richter scale.

The center of the quake was approximately 250 miles away, but it still hit hard. Almost all radio and television stations blacked out. Tall hotels either crashed to the ground or swayed to within five feet from the ground. People scampered around on the streets in hysterical states left with nothing but their torn clothes.

Mexico City was especially susceptible to the horrible effects of a tremor because it lies on the moist, soft dirt of an ancient lake bed. This unstable base creates problems for a building's foundation under normal circumstances, but even more so during an earthquake. Add to that the fact that in the last 70 years there have been at least six quakes measuring 7.0 or more on the Richter scale, and it is easy to see how something so serious could occur.

The effect on people has created the most controversy. Bodies were missed, and whether they were dead or alive, searches were formed. Some people knew their relatives and friends were dead and their anguish was unimaginable. And then, as if that one large earthquake wasn't enough, less than two days later, another tremor rocked the city, tumbling more buildings into the dust and thwarting all clean-up attempts.

Soon, aid poured in from foreign countries, including the United States. By helping Mexico through its tragedy, we are learning lessons that could help us through our own possible catastrophic earthquake.

CAMARADERIE OFFERED IN DIVERSE FIELDS

"The club has had one of its best years so far because of the increase in membership as well as the services we've performed," stated Mrs. Mary Maupin. The Les Bonnes Aimes Club which has been at Wilson for many years has helped the school in a variety of ways. The service club helped out at Awards night, Open House, and the Graduation Ceremony.

"We've had an increase in membership as well as the student body becoming more aware of the Asian culture," boasted Angela Kim. The Amerasian Club which was started just for that purpose, had done many things to let students know about the club. They attended East/West Players, which are plays put on by a Japanese Production Company, in collaboration with the Fine Arts Club in many of their activities, and sponsored a food drive for needy Japanese people. "In the future, we hope to keep going at this rate," mentioned Mrs. Pat Nicholson.

The Fine Arts Club which was started for students who wanted an opportunity to view plays and musicals, had a busy year. The club went to see A Chorus Line, Cats, The Nutcracker Suite, and visited many museums as well. Kalpana Reddy, later stated, "We hope to expose students to the Arts who would otherwise not have the opportunity." So far, they have done this because of the numerous members in the club.

The Rowdy Rooters was started because many students showed an interest in boosting the school's spirit and morale at games. David Nelsen mentioned, "The club is neat because each of us loves to help the crowd become more alive." The club did accomplish this because they attended every football game, and also cheered on sports like Cross-Country, Basketball, and Soccer.

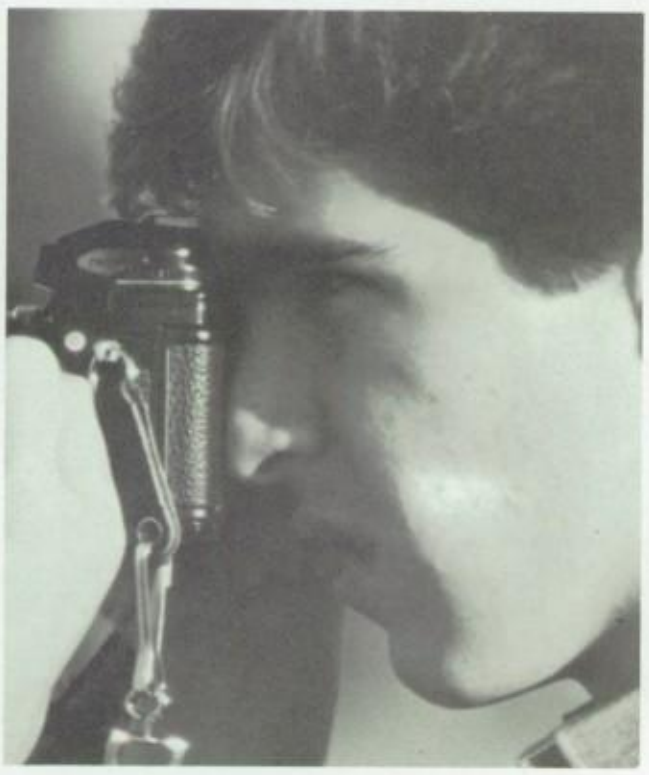
The Lettermen's Club which was started because many students showed an interest in sport related activities, consisted of male and female students who had lettered in one sport or more. The club had been a part of Wilson for a couple of years now, and it has been increasing in membership each season. We hope they continue in improving the club and its members.

"I'm glad Wilson students are now being encouraged to join the Wilson ski explorers," stated Mrs. Brenda Mortensen. To encourage people to sign up, the club offered a discount on club shirts to those people that joined before December 31, 1985. For a spring activity, the skiers plan to attend either Aspen, Colorado; Sun Valley, Idaho; Purgatory, Colorado; or Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Local ski trips and three day weekend trips were also put into consideration for the club. They also worked to improve their skiing skills and give people a chance to participate in these activities.



"We have increased in membership at least by fifty percent than last year!" exclaimed Mr. Norman Lee. The club which was started a couple of years ago taught students how to play volleyball and it provided noon time activity for some. They played the game every day during lunchtime and every Friday evening. The club plans to have some fund raising activities and to continue teaching kids the sport of volleyball.

"Even though our membership has declined a bit, we still have a good time with each other and our cameras," stated Alan Strickland. The Photography Club which included the photography classes taught students to take good shots and to learn about lighting effects. It gave an opportunity for these students to practice taking pictures in different angles and to learn the art involved in this. The club worked to improve their skills in using their cameras and taking pictures.

KEYS UNLOCK DOORS TO FRIENDSHIP

"Shebby was a good president, and it was a great year!" "I'm glad I'll be leaving Key Club knowing I helped the community!" exclaimed Tony Kewitsch. Key Club which has been at Wilson for many years has had one of its most active years with about a hundred members to work with. The club contributed both time and money to the school and community service. Each member participated in one work project per month. They also sponsored one social activity per month to promote student spirit. "Our large and active membership also promotes much enthusiasm for what we're doing." "Friends bring friends and it really helps the club!" related Mrs. Carol Tebbs. The club also sponsored many school based service projects such as teacher appreciation day by providing gifts and cards to them, they pulled the school's weeds for campus beautification, helped with the brick laying, participated in both the Fall and Spring Open Houses, and entered their own float for the Homecoming Parade. David Shebby proclaimed, "We would like to maintain our enthusiastic membership along with keeping them involved in community services and continue to bring the group together as friends."

SOPHISTICATED LADIES SEEK SUCCESS

Teamwork, long hours, dedication and making compromises were the ingredients involved in making the Drill Team successful. The team practiced long, hard hours for about four to five days a week. Captain, Janelle Kaneshiro stated, "Even though half the squad consisted of rookies, they all worked hard to make it happen."

The team participated in many competitions and field tournaments such as one held at West Covina where they took First place, the Los Altos competition where they took Second place, the Music Bowl, and the Tournament of Champions held at East Los Angeles College. For their indoor season they attended the Claremont Festival of Champions, the California Pacific Championship, and the Miss Drill Team U.S.A. competition. Choreographers for the Wildcattet Drill Team were Carol Tong, Joveilyn Magdangal and Cindy Li, who were all former officers of the team. Miss Cindy Kirkley, the advisor for nine years, proclaimed "The team is really working great together." "With the help of the old officers, we've really become a success this year even though we have a lot of new members."

They also attended the Southbay Spirit Championship held at West High School in Torrance. We hope they will continue to reach for the stars in future years.

THE GIRLS DEVELOP DANCE INTERESTS

The 1985-86 Wildcattet Drill Team consisted of captain — Janelle Kaneshiro, Lieutenants — Veronica Heckert and Jeanette Price, along with thirty six members. The team is in its 20th year and it has been a part of Wilson since the beginning the school started.

The year had been full of old and new competitions and tournaments for the squad. They participated in the Golden Cup Drill Team Championship hosted by the Wildcattet Drill Team themselves, the U.S.A. Nationals, and the Spring Dance Show which included dance groups from the school, as well as drill team dance routines. All of these competitions were competed throughout Southern California with drill teams from all over the world.

Choreographers, Carol Tong, Jovielyn Magdangal, and Cindy Li had really helped the girls with their dance routines. "They were a real asset to us" stated Miss Cindy Kirkley. "They helped the new girls tremendously." For the future, we hope the team will continue doing its best!

After a hard day's work, the Drill Team deserves this needed break from practice.

SUCCESS STRIKES TEAM

The Small Precision Team consisted of Janine Ferreras, Veronica Heckert, Karen Jenkins, Janelle Kaneshiro, Julie Lewis, Cindy Montgomery, Carrie Ortega, Jeanette Price, Debbie Scott, Missy Villanueva, and Tammy Yount.

"This team has worked hard and they are all happy to be working with each other. It's a great honor for me to be this year's lieutenant!" exclaimed Veronica Heckert. With leaders like this, the Drill Team were able to be a big success. They were able to defend all of their old titles plus win some new ones along the way. If they keep going like this, there's no stopping them now! We wish them all the luck in the years to come.

TALL FLAGS TWIRL FOR TRIUMPH

Shelly Aguilar — Lieutenant, Jennie Johns — Captain, and Ana Corral — Lieutenant.

The Tall Flags Team led by captain Jennie Johns, had one of its most prosperous and busy years. They increased in their membership, and they were successful in most of the tournaments they participated in. Jennie Johns replied, "We've been up against the toughest competition this year, but since the team has gotten larger, it really adds to the overall field affect."

The hardworking team spent approximately seventeen hours practicing each week. They had two periods of the class and they also practiced every Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Some of the tournaments in which the team participated included the West Covina Halftime Tournament, which they took second place, the Claremont Halftime Tournament, where they placed first, and the Los Altos Halftime Tournament, where they took third place. "We hope to be able to continue with last year's and the previous year's success in the field as well as on the court." Jennie Johns later added, With all of this dedication, the team hopes to be able to continue at this rate and be able to defend all of their titles.

MUSICAL MELODIES ENCHANT WILSON

"We bring a lot of publicity and honor by being a successful High School band. We are one of the best in Southern California," stated Cary Roseoff. The Wildcat Band aided in school spirit and morale at the games such as football and basketball. With the number of members increasing, they were able to have a successful and fun year. They entertained the school with a superior music program and were invited to perform at many other places.

The Band kicked off the year by having a summer camp in order to train and prepare the Freshmen for the upcoming year. They also were apart of the West Covina, Claremont, Los Altos, and Savanna Field Tournaments. The Wildcat Band were invited to the Los Angeles Rams Football game to perform during halftime as well. "I hope after I leave, our band will continue to represent the good name of Wilson the best they can!" proclaimed Tony Kewitsch.

CATS REACH FOR THE STARS

The Wildcat Band which has been a part of Wilson for twenty years, had a very busy and successful year. They attended Disneyland's 30th anniversary celebration and had regular performances there. They practiced during winter vacation in order to perform for the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Parade on January 1, 1986. The band also participated in the Tournament of Champions Field Show and Parade, the Beatrice Foods Tropicana Musical Bowl of 1985, and the National City Maytime Band Review.

Long hours of practicing and marching, along with dedicated members were the elements involved in making the Band successful. They continued with last year's potential and were able to represent Wilson High School the best they could. The members had fun along the way, as well; many made new friends and the unit as a whole worked well together. We hope the Wildcat Band will be able to keep going at this rate.

Wildcats in full bloom

"The Band did a good job in all of the competitions they performed in. The crowds always loved them!" exclaimed Mr. Adams. The Wilson Band which had a very successful season, accomplished many things. They performed in the Tournament of Roses Parade, where they played and marched magnificently. They not only played as a Band, but they entertained the crowds as well. The audience responded to their music by clapping along with the Band. This was Wilson's third time being in the parade.

They also were involved with the L.A. Dodgers. It was their third time being in the Battle of the Bands in which they won everytime. On top of that, they played at all of the halftime shows during the rallies and basketball games. All of their hard work did pay off for them.

The Band also participated in Band Reviews and Halftime tournaments. With the increase of members, they were able to look good as a group as well as perform to the top of their abilities.

During second semester, the Wildcat Band formed a very good Stage band, Wind Ensemble, and Band Council. These groups added to the overall strength of the entire group. They also had a very successful Spring Concert which was held in the gym. With the aid of the Tall Flags and Drill Team, they were able to look and sound good. "I feel our Band is very strong musically and is mature as an overall group," stated Mr. Adams. We hope the Band continues at the rate they are going at now.

THE FLAGS WAVE HELLO TO SUCCESS

"We hope to be able to top last year's success as a great working team," replied Jennie Johns. With all of the team's enthusiasm and spirit, they were able to pull it off. The team made students more aware of themselves by performing at the rallies and football games. They also provided their audience with a form of entertainment as well.

Since the Wildcat Band moved up a class, the competition had been tough for the team. They were up against some of the best bands in the Southern California area. But since the team was very strong, they were able to take all this in stride. We wish them all the success in the future.

Roses and rodents

Mickey Mouse and roses weren't the only things featured at Disneyland's 30th Anniversary Celebration or the Tournament of Roses Parade. The Tall Flag Team was the main attraction, along with the Wildcat Band. Hours of practicing and sacrifice were the elements involved to make this happen. The entire squad did their best to be on top at all times.

They marched with the Band at the Rose Parade and were able to uphold the school's name. They also gave the crowd encouragement and a sense of accomplishment at such performances like Disneyland's 30th Anniversary and during the rallies.

The Team also competed in many outdoor and indoor competitions with style and grace. The Indoor Team formed during the second semester, was involved in several events such as The Miss Drill Team U.S.A. competition, The Loara Magnolia competition, the Los Altos Field Show, and the Marina Competition.

The Flags also performed at the Battle of the Bands at Dodger Stadium. They held their heads high on the field along with the Wildcat Band and Mr. Adams' guidance.

In addition, the girls were at all of the games, ready to perform their routines during halftime shows.

COUNTRIES UNITE FOR FRIENDSHIP

The Chinese Club whose membership had increased from last year gave students an opportunity to learn more about the Chinese culture. The club also participated in activities such as volleyball and basketball games, as well as having social gatherings in order to make new friends and reacquaint with some old. The club hopes to get more people interested in their culture as well as plan more activities.

"The German Club is neat because it provides its members with a deeper knowledge of the German culture," explained Reuben Yoo. The German Club which taught students more about the country and their customs was an entertaining experience as well. They attended fun activities such as ice skating and bowling. In addition to that, they watched German movies and wrote letters to pen pals in foreign countries.

"The Korean Club which is fun, is a social club where we bring all of the Korean students at Wilson together," stated Tae-Jung Lee. The club which had increased in membership participated in many activities such as picnics and volleyball tournaments. The club hopes to be able to continue having their social gatherings with the Korean population at Wilson.

The Spanish Club which was formed this year was aimed to help students expand on their knowledge about the Spanish culture. The club worked hard to make their fundraisers and activities successful. They organized fun activities such as picnics, parties, and their trip to Disneyland. "For the future, I would like to see the club become more involved in activities based on the Spanish culture. We also hope to raise enough money to be able to offer a scholarship to a senior," replied Mrs. Ruth Koh.

DEDICATION STIMULATES SUCCESS

Pam Villanueva — Treasurer, David Shebby — President, Kim Dobson — Secretary, and Traci Tsujimura — Vice President.

"For the first time the Senate has been actively involved in trying to change both district and school policies," exclaimed David Shebby. The Senate improved many things such as the school's spirit during spirit week and many of the new activities. They held campus beautification days, helped out at the School Board Forum, and worked hard to provide the best and most enjoyable environment for the students. They also worked to extend students liberties such as open campus.

"For the first time in the four years that I have been in Senate, I think this year we are all on the same wavelength," commented Gene Song.

One of the best achievements for the Senate was having cabinet members from each second period class come together and express their opinions and ideas to the board. Having the House of Representatives really helped in getting things done for the benefit of the school. It was also rumored that a day before the Los Altos game, cabinet members David Shebby, Jean Song, and Pam Villanueva painted a big, red "W" across the Los Altos Stadium Field. "I think that was one of the best moments the school has ever had!" exclaimed David Shebby.

MELODIES ENCHANT AND DELIGHT MANY

"I'm very proud of the effort and dedication the choir members have shown during the year. It has been a pleasure watching them grow and mature into some of the finest singers in Southern California!" exclaimed Ms. Debbie Montpas. "My only hope is that we can attract more students to the Choral program so that they can enjoy the same satisfaction and feeling of self-worth as the current members do!"

The Wilson Choir which consisted of three groups called the Wilson Singers, the Concert Choir, and the Celebration Singers, had a very busy but successful season. They participated in concerts, festivals, and their annual Follies Production. They were also aimed to teach you to improve your voice and to learn new and interesting things about the field of music. This group, called the Celebration Singers, received free voice lessons during their class time. The non-auditioned singers had the freedom to choose their own music and perform selected art songs for their fellow students. Through their encouragement motivated by its members, they were able to accomplish all they set out to do. We hope they continue to top their productive and successful performances.

SINGERS MELODIZE AND HARMONIZE

The Wilson Singers which are a select group of singer-dancers performed for a variety of school and community events. Their activities included performances for the Adult Education Association at La Puente High School, the Junior Women's League Christmas Home Tour at the Norton Simon Mansion, and Arlington High School, as well as their annual Winter and Spring concerts. The singers were also given the opportunity to enter and compete in several show choir events.

The Concert Choir with Ms. Debbie Montpas as director, worked hard to accomplish all of their activities. They had the privilege of singing in the Candlelight Ceremony at Disneyland and the Songfest at Universal Studios. They also hosted two invitational concerts for selected student body members and performed at the Cluster Sing, SCVA Festivals, and their annual Follies Production. The Concert Choir also were a part of the Winter and Spring concerts along with the Wilson Singers.

TO THE BEST . . .

To my Wonderful Staff,
I just want to say THANK-YOU for producing a truly excellent book and for being the Best staff. It just seems like yesterday that we first came together. I can see your confused faces when I began to talk about quad-paks, copy, and rule lines. At first, I was very skeptical about the staff — we only had three returning members: Lil' Angel, Summer, and myself, and of course, Mr. Besse; the rest were very inexperienced. But after we came back from camp, and we won sweepstakes, I knew we were on our way to designing the perfect book. Everyday at 4th and 6th period, we met and our goal was to finish this book..Slowly we grew to be a family and creating the book was our little "baby." Furthermore, the man who seemed to stalk our presense was our beloved Mr. Besse. Will we ever forget about him? I doubt it. When we think of annual, we will always remember the aura of Mr. Besse with his witty (?) remarks and his plaid jackets! But no matter how many times we kid him,
(con. on next page.)

I know every one of you will have fond memories of him. For myself, I owe Mr. Besse much gratitude. Without you, I would not had the courage to do some of my ideals. Though I won't say it to your face, Mr. Besse, you have really helped me to mature, and most of all to be patient with people. Thank-you for your support and understanding.

I hope in future years, each one of you will have fond memories of annual staff when you look through the book and our "Prowler" sections. It was wonderful to work with all of you!

DEDICATION STIRS UP PRIDE AND SPIRIT

"Our goal is to help invoke school pride as well as some self-pride. We want to provide spirit and enthusiasm for our athletic teams," stated Mrs. Dot Lowry. With the long hours of practicing, the Varsity Cheerleaders were able to do a fantastic job at perking up the crowds. They cheered on our sidelines at most of the games and organized the school's rallies. The girls' also offered camaraderie and support to one another in order to make the year unforgettable. They represented Wilson with good entertainment sparked by enthusiasm and high spirits.

SONGLEADERS OOZE WITH EXCITEMENT

"The number of girls who participated in tryouts this year demonstrated a 200% increase over the previous year," replied Mrs. Dot Lowry. Her statement of course, reflected Wilson's pride and spirit toward our sporting events. The Varsity Songleaders cheered on all of the major and some of the minor sports events, and participated in football and basketball clinics. They also attended competitions and represented Wilson at the Special Olympics. This dedicated unit boosted fans and athletes on and off the playing field. They were able to invoke school pride and offer sharp routines to us. Their hard work received favorable comments from all.

RALLY SQUAD CHEERS CONTAGIOUS

The Rally Squad was composed of both Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheer and Songleaders. The membership standards were high and the girls had to follow a prescribed code of conduct. They had to maintain a 2.0 or above G.P.A. along with receiving no F's, at all times. The squad wanted to offer leadership abilities and stand out as role models as well. With all of their effort, they received favorable comments from their fans.

This well organizaed bunch also spiced up halftime with their elaborate routines. Most of the time, their enthusiasm was contagious. They made football games more fun with all of their cheering.

DRAMA PERFORMS WITH PANACHE

"More students have become aware of Drama since we started opening auditions to the school and advertising it in the bulletin," replied Jody Targon. The Drama club, whose membership had gone up, contributed to the school by giving students a greater knowledge of the theater and an awareness of different plays. Besides that, they provided the school with plain, good entertainment. They also did publicity stunts and encouraged members to try and draw in as many people as they could. One big factor was their summer musical, "Joseph and the amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat." The drama group collaborated with Choir and the result was a standing ovation.

This talented bunch were involved in a diverse field of activities. They participated in the Fall and Shakespeare Festival and they competed in the Occidental Festival for the first time where they performed "Metamorphoses." "This play gave the crew a chance to experiment with different acting techniques and create an interesting off the wall play, but all of this could have never run so smoothly if not for our mentor and teacher, Mrs. Dona Hill!" exclaimed Jody Targon.

For the future, the Drama club would like to help the school become more aware of the different types of entertainment such as classics, comedies, and Moliere. We hope the Drama club will keep going strong even after the curtain falls.

HOBBIES CREATE INTERESTING ACTIVITIES

The Metal Club, created to teach students about the craft of building objects, had a fun year for the students involved. The members consisted of the Metal Shop classes, and they learned new hobbies such as making and creating things out of wood and metal. They also learned a little about cars and the parts involved in the engine. The club hopes to be able to continue with the education they teach to students.

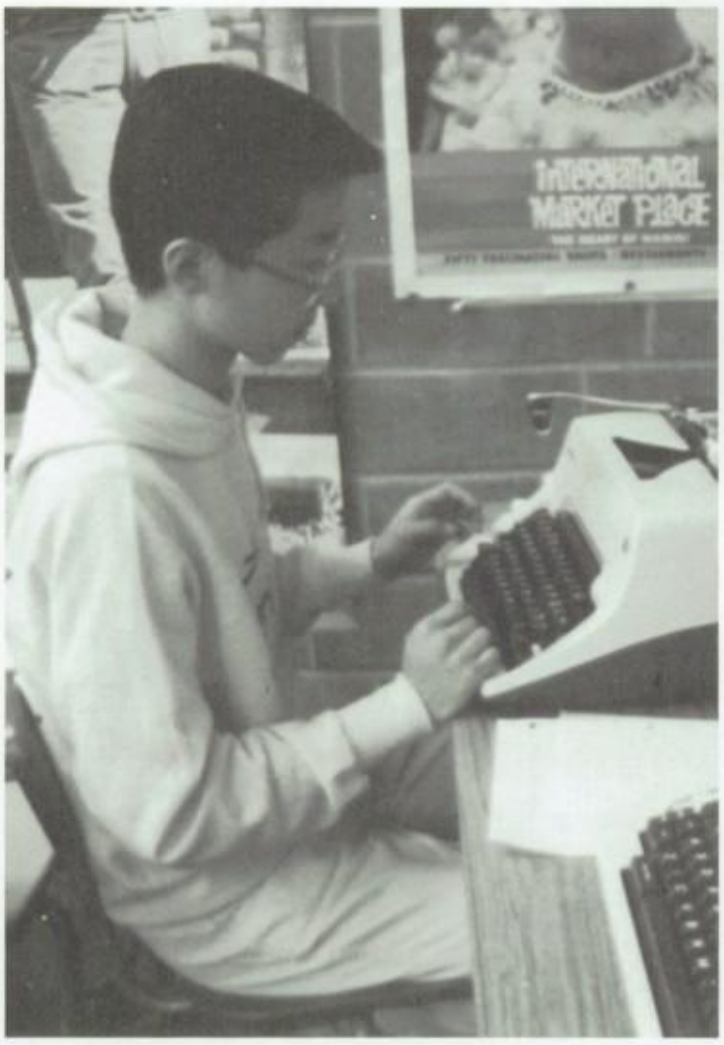
"I hope our membership continues to increase even more because it really makes the club more fun," replied Bill Lin. The Computer Club which is an organization for students interested in electronics and computers were able to help and inform students who had questions dealing with this subject. The members exchanged ideas, programs, and algorithms in order to develop new ways to use the computers. The club received many new and improved computers as well, so that it gives them the opportunity to be versatile. The club also let students explore and learn about the computer field on their own so they could be prepared for their future.

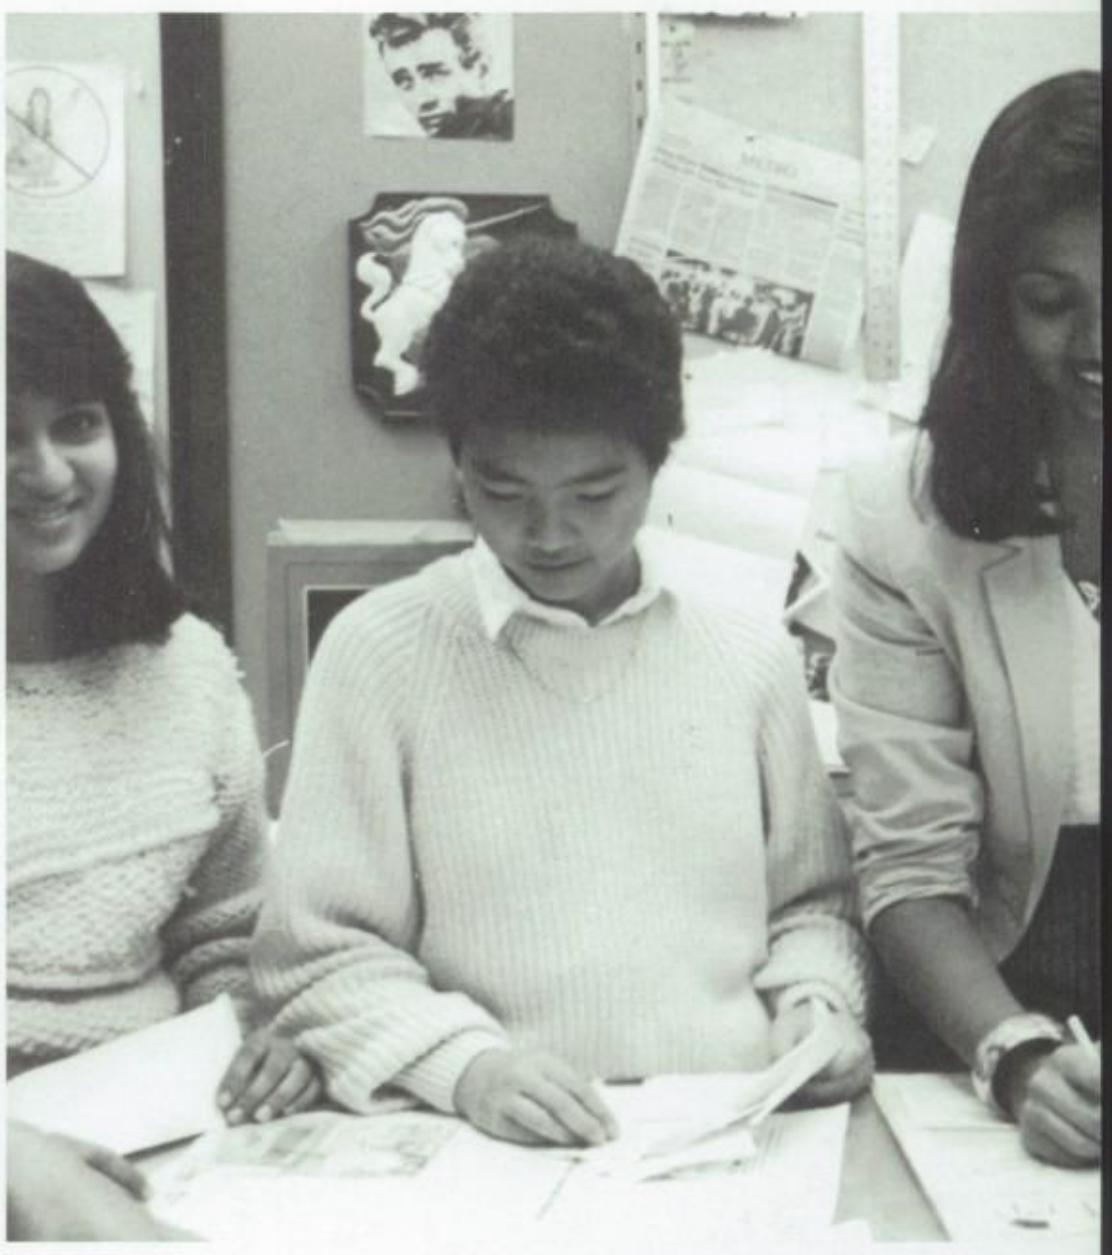
"I'm glad the club was started for us because it gives us the opportunity to associate with people in the Science field," commented Peter Yang. The Science Club which was started this year, gave students the opportunity to learn and expand more in the scientific field. They also had a number of activities such as inviting guest speakers and attending educational field trips. The club hopes to continue at their successful rate in informing students more on these different topics.

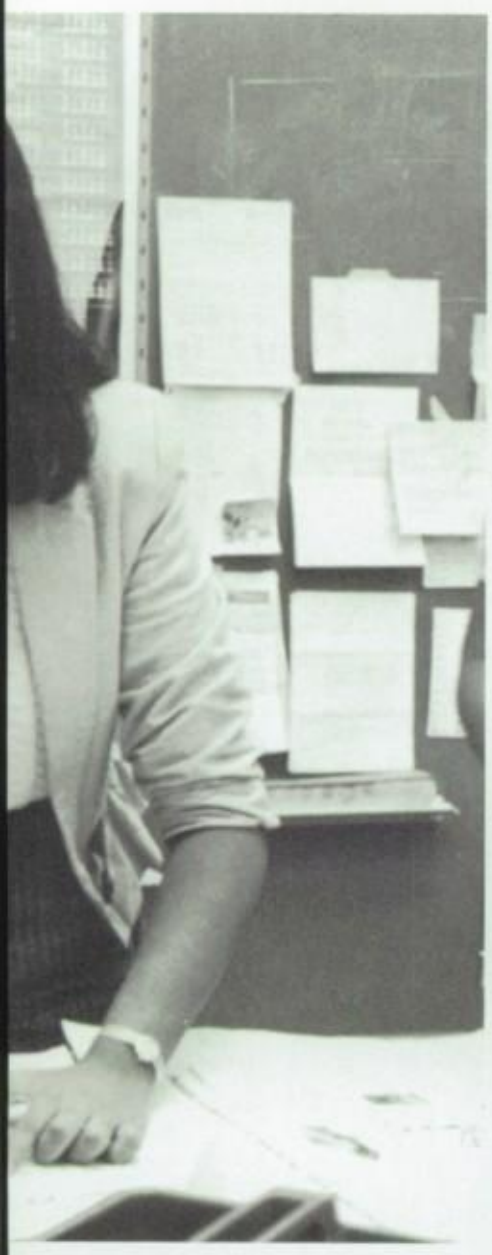
METAL/COMPUTER/SCIENCE

op — Using one of the new computers the Computer Club as received, Tim Kudinoff fiddles with it to see if he can pro-am a new game. Science: Left — R. Chang, S. Chang, A. hander, P. Chen, M. Right — Before the Science Club meeting has started, Marco Carrascas, Joseph Lim, Henry Li, and Julio Feliciano talk about where they would like to take their field trip.

Top Left — Given an interesting topic to write on, Quinten Liu enthusiastically types it before he loses the momentum. Top Right — With a little bit of humor mixed in their hard work, Jung Kim and Kalpana Reddy finish pasting up the commentary page of the paper. Bottom Left — With one more day left before their deadline, Lynn Song, Anjie Chander, and Jung Kim rush to get the paper on the presses. Bottom Right — While discussing what controversial topic they shoud write about next, Kalpana Reddy cracks a joke to the rest of the staff for a bit of comic relief.







Top — After writing one of their sport's reviews, Todd Harmonson and Dwight Sterling ask Mrs. Moore to correct it. Middle — Having no time for a break, Judy Chu works through lunch in order to complete her article on time. Paw Prints: Bottom — A. Chander, E. Chow, K. Chow, J. Chu, T. Harmonson, J. Kim, D. THE PAWS PRINT UP A STORM

The newspaper which is run by a Student Associated Press, provided readers with controversial and thought provoking issues such as Teenage Pregnancy and AIDS. It also provided its members the experience of working with people, handling responsibility, and expressing creativity. This team worked long, hard hours in order to meet their demanding deadlines. "Our organization is more of a family than a club. We need patience and cooperation with each other, so we've gotten very close," stated Lynn Song.

The Paw Print staff were also involved in the California State Convention, the JEA National Convention, and the On-The-Spot Write Off Contest. We hope the staff continues to put out a paper we are all proud of.

Top Left — During a thought talk based on Nuclear Arms, Paul Phillabaum uses hand gestures in order to get his point across. Top Right — Hoping to get some more members to join the club, Mr. Griego advertises the publicity poster for J.S.A. J.S.A.: Bottom — G. Arakaki, S. Bae, R. Caparaz, A. Castillo, A. Chander, D. DEBATORS SPEAK OUT WITH FLASH

"The purpose of J.S.A. is to educate, inform, and represent the ideas of high school students in the political process upon which this country is established," stated Nathan Koeshall. The Junior Statesmen of America or J.S.A. which had completed its third year in existence had a very prosperous and busy year. They debated on such diverse subjects as the Death Panalty to the Legalization of Prostitution. They also held a number of thought talks dealing with open campus at Wilson, gay rights, abortion, and nuclear arms. The group also had interesting mock trials by bringing in several guest speakers. With the help of fund raisers, they attended both Fall and Spring conventions where they actively debated. "The club sure has improved since the first year it started. I hope we can continue to go at the successful rate we are going at now!" exclaimed Angela Kim.

J.S.A./J.S.A./J.S.A./J.S.A./

TO THE TOP OF THE SALES

$15, $30, $60, or $120, these were the prices in order to purchase an ad. For twenty years, our sponsors and well-wishers have been an important part of the yearbook. When the alumni refer back to this section, they will have the memories of our community and how it has developed. To all the people who purchased an ad, the Wilson Student Body would like to thank you for lifting us TO THE TOP.

Through happiness and sorrow
We've been through it all.
Together we have fought, stood and did not fall.
We saw the sun, we saw the rain
We've felt the glory and also the pain.
Loves we have found, many we have lost
And all it seems at such a high cost
But one thing remained, stronger than ever
And that is our friendship which will last forever
So, problems will come and problems will go
How many we'll see, we won't know
As long as we have each other and our dreams
Nothing can be as bad as it seems
We have yet to conquer the world, you and I
We'll never give up, we'll always try

TO OUR SON & BRO —

BRUCE

In this past four years you have seen the value of perseverance and hard work in achieving your personal goals.

We've seen this in you in football and basketball, in school and in your relationships with your friends and your family.

If you have learned nothing else, this in itself would be enough.

We're all very proud of you and what you've accomplished. Please know that you go forward from here with our love and support.

May God Bless and Guide You Always.

Love,
MOM, MARK,
BRYAN & BRETT

Brian:
Thank you for the love and joy you share,
for your sensitivity and insight so rare,
With miles of smiles, and teasing galore,
insect collections, stray animals and more,
with "tribes" of friends and role-playing games,
from Atari to computer and sports beyond names,
we've watched you mature into a man,
thru life remember — what you can't do, God can
You will always be our boy
our delight and perpetual joy.

Love, Mom and Dad

How very proud we are of you. It seems like only yesterday you were in kindergarten and now you've grown into a beautiful young woman. Your four years at Wilson have given you experiences that most young ladies could only dream of — Tall Flags, marching in the 1986 Rose Parade, a participant in the 1985 Presidential Inauguration and a member of the 1984 Olympic Tall Flag Unit. You'll always be "lemon" to your friends and sister, a Steve Garvey admirer, and your Mom and Dad's "pumpkin." May your future be filled with much happiness — you deserve only the best.

With All Our Love,
Mom and Dad

SHELLY (Lemon)
You have been the best sister. You've helped me through so much and you're a big part of my life. We've had our ups and downs, but I will always be by your side. Thanks for all the fun memories, I know we'll have more. I'll miss seeing you at school during the day.

To My Daughter

Thank you for being the spirit you are and for sharing your life with me. You have given me so many gifts, that if I were to list them, I would be writing forever. When I think of you, I smile. I see the sweet little girl who now is becoming a woman. I am proud when I think of you, all you have done, all you are, and all you will be. I am privileged to know you, and my heart is full. Keep yourself free to express. Keep yourself surrounded with beauty. Keep yourself aware of the love within you, because love starts with you.

I love you,

To my most special friend,
Nikki Pipkin

Hi! How are you? Good, I hope! As for me, I'm thankful. I'm thankful to have such a wonderful girlfriend like you.You are the most thoughtful, outgoing and caring person I know. I know you don't feel that way about yourself most of the time, but I feel like that way towards you all of the time. You are the most important person in my life, Nikki, and I hope you stay that way, forever.

Well, I'm glad you've made it through your Senior year without me. I'm sorry I couldn't be at your locker early in the morning to discuss things with you. And you can throw yogurt on my car anytime because I am not going to get mad at you. Last but not least, I need you around so I can pester you to know what you are thinking about.

I am so proud of you, Nikki, for making it through all four years at good ol' Glen A. I wish you all the luck, happiness, and joy in the future and I hope your future includes me.

My Pooh —

We have certainly gone through our fair share of nicknames, haven't we? Mouse, to Pooh, to Tigger . . . and finally to Kelly Ride. I guess Pooh will always stick with me though

When you were Mouse and you squeaked when you wanted attention or when you cried, I loved you so much. You were a darling baby and so precious to me.

As Tigger, there was no stopping you You bounced and ran and laughed all day — wether it was with Buns or Grady (Jesu) or one of your friends.

But I love you most as Kelly Ride. I'll never forget the hours we spent practicing for your interviews, the endless applications, the big smile you gave me after the basketball throw, your awesome hang, and "Crowther" at your PAE. You were an inspiration to me that day, baby, and to everyone around you. You knew what you wanted and you gave it your all. And know, after Mr. McLaughlin, Mr. Gambordello, and our trip, I am even prouder of you You have surpassed my every dream for you in so many ways: academically, athletically, spiritually emotionally, and socially — and your college days haven't begun.

I don't know what your future holds, but especially in your case, may I say I know the sky is not your limit. May it also be the home where your most precious dreams come true. You certainly have worked for and you do deserve the best.

I love you very, very much. I am so very proud and so happy for you.

Love,
Mom

To our two Snowflakes,
so alike but so different.
So unique but so normal.
Both of you will succeed
in anything you do
because you're, you!
We're proud of all the things you have accomplished and we're happy that you maintained
your individuality.
You have brought great happiness
into all our lives and we love you for it.
So Congratulations to our

Heather,
Thanks for making my senior year the best and so much fun. Thanks for all the laughs and great memories which I'll treasure forever.
You're indeed the best friend I ever have had and you are like a sister to me. You're an important person in my life and the best. As a famous person once said, "Thanks for the memories!" I'll always have a special place for you as my friend, close friend, in my heart, Oh! I forgot one thing . . . I'm not going to dye my hair black and I'm going to Frederick's for some . . . for those hot summer nights.
Love and Forever lasting friendship,
Your best friend.
Steph
P.S. And to the special man in my life who I plan to spend the rest of my life with, Myke Gibbs. Thanks to you, I've made it through the toughest years of my life. You gave me the courage to carry on when I never thought it possible. I'll never stop loving you, Myke. You're the best thing that ever happened to me. Thank you for being mine honey. I love you, Myke, forever & always.
Love always with all my heart,
Steph "Boop"
Steph — Thank you for the special friendship that we have shared. High school never would have been the same without you. Thanks for everything.

CONGRATULATIONS JODI TARGON

From the day you were born you have brought joy and happiness to our lives. We watched you grow from a beautiful baby to a beautiful young lady.

We are so proud of what you have accomplished: your outstanding grades and high SAT scores. We burst with pride watching you perform on stage for drama.

We wish you health, happiness and success for the rest of your life. You are the greatest daughter and sister any family could hope for.

You light up our lives and we love you for it.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE 1985-86 DRILL TEAM:
ALWAYS HAVE A DREAM

Forget about the days when it's been cloudy,
But don't forget your hours in the sun . . .
Forget about the times you've been defeated,
But don't forget the victories you've won . . .
Forget about mistakes
That you can't change now,
But don't forget
The lessons that you've learned . . .
Forget about misfortunes
You've encountered,
But don't forget
The times your luck has turned . . .
Forget about the days
When you've been lonely,
But don't forget
The friendly smiles you've seen . . .
Forget about the plans
That didn't seem to work out right,
But don't forget to
Always have a dream.

MEMORIES AND THOUGHTS

Memories of Mr. Besse:
Mr. B. in shorts, the provocative Birthday cake, his beautiful house, his see-through shower, his tall tales, "the nutty professor look," "latch key dogs," soap opera updates, Gucci presents, 7 different colognes, Sarah & Norma, being abused and yelled by Lil' Angel.
Memories of Anna: "You must," my first accident with Leanne, The Damien Dudes and their advisors, Calling Mr. B., after winning sweepstakes.
Messages: To Mr. Besse — Thank you for helping me through all the good and bad times. Words do not express my feelings, but you know how I feel anyway!
To Lil' Angel — Thankyou for your support & patience but you know how I feel.
To Summer — Thanks for everything but you know my feelings — love' ya and I hope I win the bet!
To Carol — S.B. forever & all the great things we shared.
To Alan, Greg & Dave — Thanks for the great pictures!
To Angela J. — Chocolate music forever! and Diana Ross
To Leanne — Thanks for being Tough!
To Tony — Wasn't it fun talking about life and getting Shirley embarrassed.
To Shirley — I hoped you learned about life at Tony's house. I'll fix you up with a College Man!
To Debbie — Always remember Grandma Alice, B.A., Laura Ingalls, Hitting the ball (you know who's face you hit), Baseball & the Yankees.
To Jennie & Kristen — Thank God you finished — it turned out great!
To Karen — Thanks for everything, Chickie.
To Nancy —Stop eating my lunch.

Memories of Jennie: Homer & Illiad, her missing food, late night hysteria at Summer's.
Messages: To Kristen — Thank you for being such a wonderful assistant editor.
To Anna — Thank you for being so patient and understanding with me.
To Mr. Besse — Thanks for being such a tolerant advisor
To Summer — You've been super terrific to me.
To Angela — "I can deal"

Memories of Kristen: "Can you get me something for lunch," re-drawing layouts.
Messages: To Jennie — It was really great working with you. We made it through all our deadlines "barely" Staying up late and working until the last minute.
To Summer — Thanks for all the help and advice you gave us on the annual work.
To Anna — Thanks for being so understanding when we messed up so much.

Memories of Tony: His search for the perfect mate. Checking out the girls in every annual and making photo copies & Carol doing the same thing. The constant craving for food.
Memories of Carol: Milk shakes that made her hyper, checking out the guys at camp, Melody Rogers, your many loves — Martin, The Bod, David, Bruce, Mason, your first accident.
Messages: To Jennie — Sorry I didn't buy an ad, so this will have to do. However, there's not enough room for everything I want to put.
To Anna — Thanks for the opportunity to be on the staff 4 whole years with you & Simon, Bryan & everyone else. Mr. Fundlett, Mrs. Hill & all we've learned. Gosh, Anna, There's so much to say I can't remember it all.
To Summer — The above English things go for you, too, with the addition of our Big Blue.
To Lil' Angel — You sly gal — running around with other guys behind my back! When will you learn to tone your voice down? Calm yourself, okay? I don't have time to listen to your problems, I've got my own to worry about."
To Everyone Else — Jennie, Anna and Angela, thanks for the best moments of the year and, hopefully for my future. I'm sending all my dreams for you to God in a special prayer which I hope He answers.

Memories of Shirley: The search for the perfect Korean guy, her loves. Lenny & Squiggy Messages: To Carol & Tony — It was great working with you guys. (Oh, I mean seniors). It was an honor to work with you Kewitsch and McGann. Tony, I hope you marry your blonds & Carol, I hope to see you in the rain in the middle of the street and Tony in space.
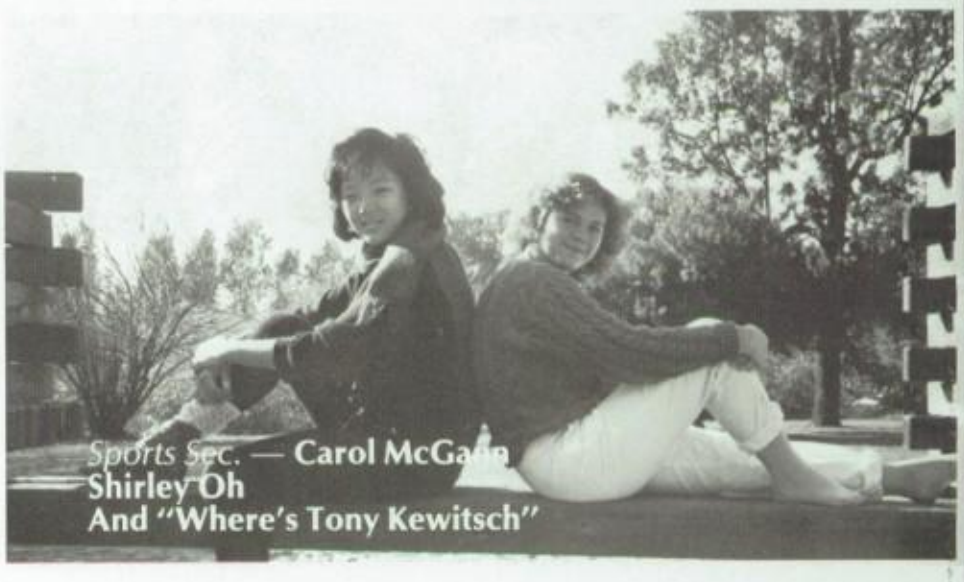
To Debbie — Remember our funky watches
To Anna — Thanks for semi-tolerating the "with-it" sports section. This year, you're a great, kinda hot-tempered editor, oh yeah, & quit boxing.
To Karen — I'll remember the trips made downstairs for your cheetoes.
To Lil' Angel — Thanks for making Annual so interesting with your gossip and sense of humor.



Memories of Summer: Almost driving off the cliff, your car stalling in the middle of traffic, "Where's Angela J.?" Fighting with Joel "Summer Soliman Show" (SSSOMI).
Messages: To Lil' Angel — Good luck next year. Maybe one day we'll go to a concert and possibly go backstage!!
To Debra Louise — Try to do a good job next year on the senior section, but it won't be as good as mine.
To Angelita — You sure did make our section fun, even though half the time I couldn't find you (ha).
To Anna — Well, you did a great job and you didn't get too crazy. I can't believe we've gone practically all these years with Mr. Besse.
TO C.P. — It was so much fun listening about your love life.
To Jennifer Ann — I'm proud of you for not quitting, you stuck it out.
To Nancy — Thank God I'll never have to smell your sandwiches anymore.
To Kristen — It was fun having you in annual.
To Tony — Even though you were rude to me a lot, you were occasionally nice. Try not to whine as much in the future because colleges won't tolerate that.
To Leanne — Try not to fall down at concerts.
To Shirley — You are so trendy, but at least you're really nice.

Memories of Angela: Chocolate & Vanilla People. Funky Music

Memories of Karen: Trying to catch up with Anna while driving to Mr. B's house.
Messages: Congrats Kiddo! — We've finally made it! I'll never forget all your help in Annual and especially Physics (ha!) and Best of Luck in the Years to come . . .
To Summer — Well, well, well . . . "Mrs. Taylor" . . . the time has finally come, huh? I'm glad we became better friends this year . . . Good luck in the future!
To Debbie — DEBBI, right?, last minute captions, complaining all the time (it was fun, huh?), Thanks for making Annual a little more bearable . . . Good luck on the staff next year.
To Nancy — You and your smelly lunches, drawing layouts and typing.

Memories of Debbie: boiled eggs and vinegar, Pastrami, lean cuisine, making fun of Summer, my puppy, "Hey Honey, I'm not going to take this"
Messages: To Anna — Bad Attitude.
To Summer Slyman — All I can say is have a good future with R.T. & your car.
To Angela K. — Pink Reebok and a dress. Always remember Grandma Alice.
To Nancy — I had fun giving fake referrals.
To Karen — It was fun doing last minute things before deadlines.

Memories of Nancy: the immature sophomore, "Let's go out," smelly lunches.
Messages: To Summer — Try to drive safely (that means not off cliffs), Hope you get lucky. Don't waste your money on trashy records, then you'll have enough money to buy yogurt.
To Anna — Thanx for the "A", you saved my life. You'll be successful so remember me.
To Debbie — Lay off the avacados dear. Don't remember bread. Please try not to drive off curbs. I feel sorry for your car.
To Karen — Thanks for all your help. Wasn't it fun being used as slaves to get lunch? Good luck with the future.
To Lil' Angel — Why is that your name? Thanx for the tootsie roll. Please stop whinning & keep smiling.
To Mr. Besse — Don't pout Mr. Besse. Love your cozy house. Don't cry, you still have 2 more years with me.

Clubs Sec. — Angela Kim

Memories of Angela (Lil' Angel): Lil' Angel, do you know what "D" means, "Elf," Tommy Tune and Mr. Besse having a beer together — your loud voice, study sessions with Shirley.
Messages: To Debbie — Remember Grandma Alice, your little puppy, chocolate cupcakes, the Buckley annual.
To Summer — Have you finally gotten over Roger, remember the concert, maybe next year.
To Mr. Besse — Stop bragging about how you met Tommy Tune, we missed Duncan & McDuff
To Carol — the time we were looking through the tapes and how we finally found Simon, remember" we like to express our individuality", not another sound not another word, not another peep . . .! "now tell me you don't really shop at Sears?", Mason and Mary, and she offsets by equilibrium.
To Tony — Thanks for all of the times you've helped me. It was always fun talking with you. Maybe in a couple of years you can learn to get along with Carol.
To Karen — Good luck in everything.
To Nancy — Good luck, you better do a good job!
To Anna — You were a great editor. Remember taking pictures with no film.
To Shirley — Remember Lenny & Squiggy, softball, Simon's marriage , Rose Tea and our lovebirds June and Alric. You better do a good job next year!
To Angela — Remember chocolate people, the lounge at Sak's Fifth Avenue, South Coast Plaza, and your sade earrings.

Ads Sec. — Leanne Pease

Memories of Leanne: The beautiful Sophomore guy, Sergio at the Peppermint Elephant, Barb Dunsheath, the explanations drawn on the board, "Yo Baby, Yo Baby, Yo Baby", analyzing your love life.
Messages: To Tony and Carol — Try to get along, you guys might be really in love.
To the Staff: Thanks for listening to me ramble on & on & on . . . about my weekends & Thursday nights at the Peppermint Elephant etc, etc . . . and for listening to me about my marvelous car.

Photographers — Alan Strickland
And Dave Reichling missed his picture again.

Memories of Alan: The film, the excellent pictures.
Messages: To Dave — All the luck in the future in whatever you do.
To Kristen — Even though we've been at each other's throats for the last three years, I've got no hard feelings.

Memories of Greg: Going to Mr. Besse's house and getting lost, the great hamburgers Mr. Besse made.

Memories of Dave: The not-so perfect relationship with Shirley.
Messages: To the sweetest person on the staff, Leanne, Good luck in everything you do. You deserve the best, (that's why I'm giving you the Pulsar to take Sergio out in) You wish.
To the rest of the Staff — Hasta Luego!

WITH MUCH GRATITUDE . . .

As always, there were many people outside the staff who contributed to the "process of putting the book together." The staff appreciates their invaluable service.

"Thank-you" to Jane Kasel — Without your patience, advice, and wonderful wit, we would have never put the book together.

"Thank-you" to Norma Ortiz (or Or-Tease), Jane's co-hort, — You helped Anna become more organized; thus, we knew where to put our instructions.

"Thank-you" to Sarah Benton (our parochial Child) Because of your terrific artistery and graphics, we had the desire to incorporate new types of graphics in our pages.

"Thank-you" to Marie Brys — You gave us all the supplies to put this book together.

"Thank-you" to Watson Studios — You were always there for us and everything was done on time.

"Thank-you" to Mr. Mrakitch — You were like our second advisor. At every deadline, you were always there to ease the pressure with your sense of humor. Good Luck with Angela Kim and the noise.

"Thank-you" to the Social Studies staff — You were patient with us about the use of the office. Sorry about the noise everyday.

And of course — we will remember picking on Nathan "GQ" Koeshall. And Thanks to Cecille Bolano for thinking of some sport headlines and captions. It was fun. And Thank-you to everyone else who was patient and helpful with the Annual Staff.

COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES

With sincere congratulations and best wishes, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles does hereby join in the celebration of the

20TH ANNIVERSARY

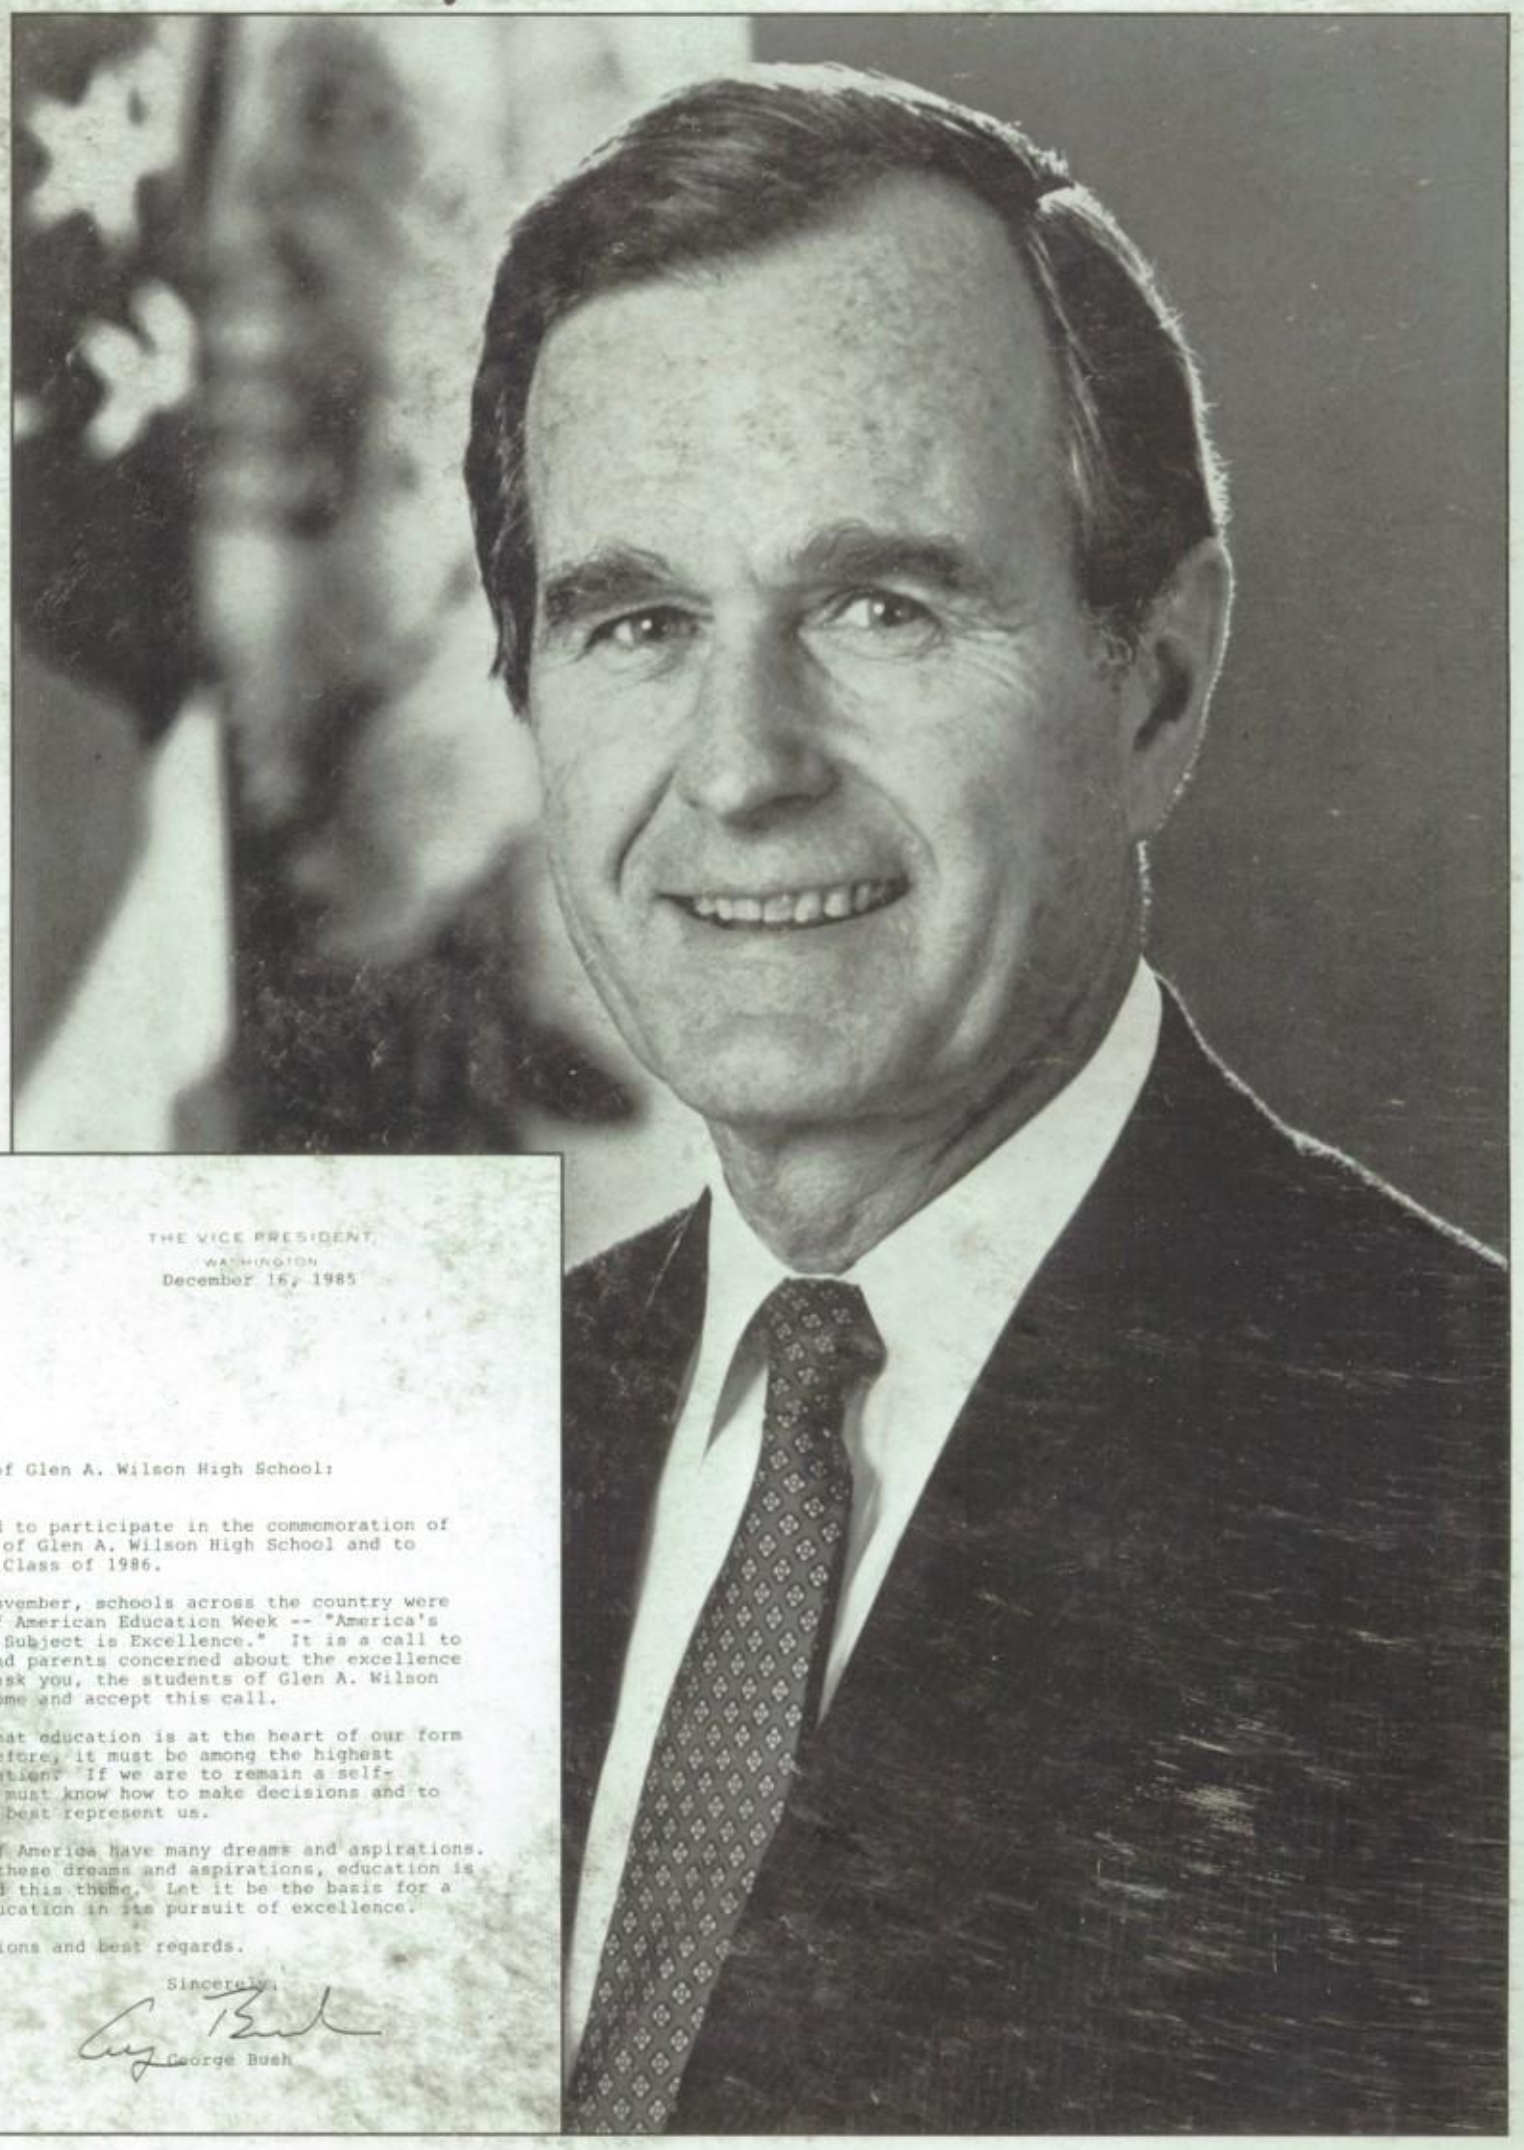
Glen A. Wilson HIGH SCHOOL

MEMBER, BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

SALUTE

From the Top



THE VICE PRESIDENT
WASHINGTON
December 16, 1985

To The Student Body of Glen A. Wilson High School:

I am pleased to participate in the commemoration of the 20th Anniversary of Glen A. Wilson High School and to honor the graduating Class of 1986.

This past November, schools across the country were honoring the theme of American Education Week -- "America's Public Schools: The Subject is Excellence." It is a call to students, teachers and parents concerned about the excellence in education; and I ask you, the students of Glen A. Wilson High School, to welcome and accept this call.

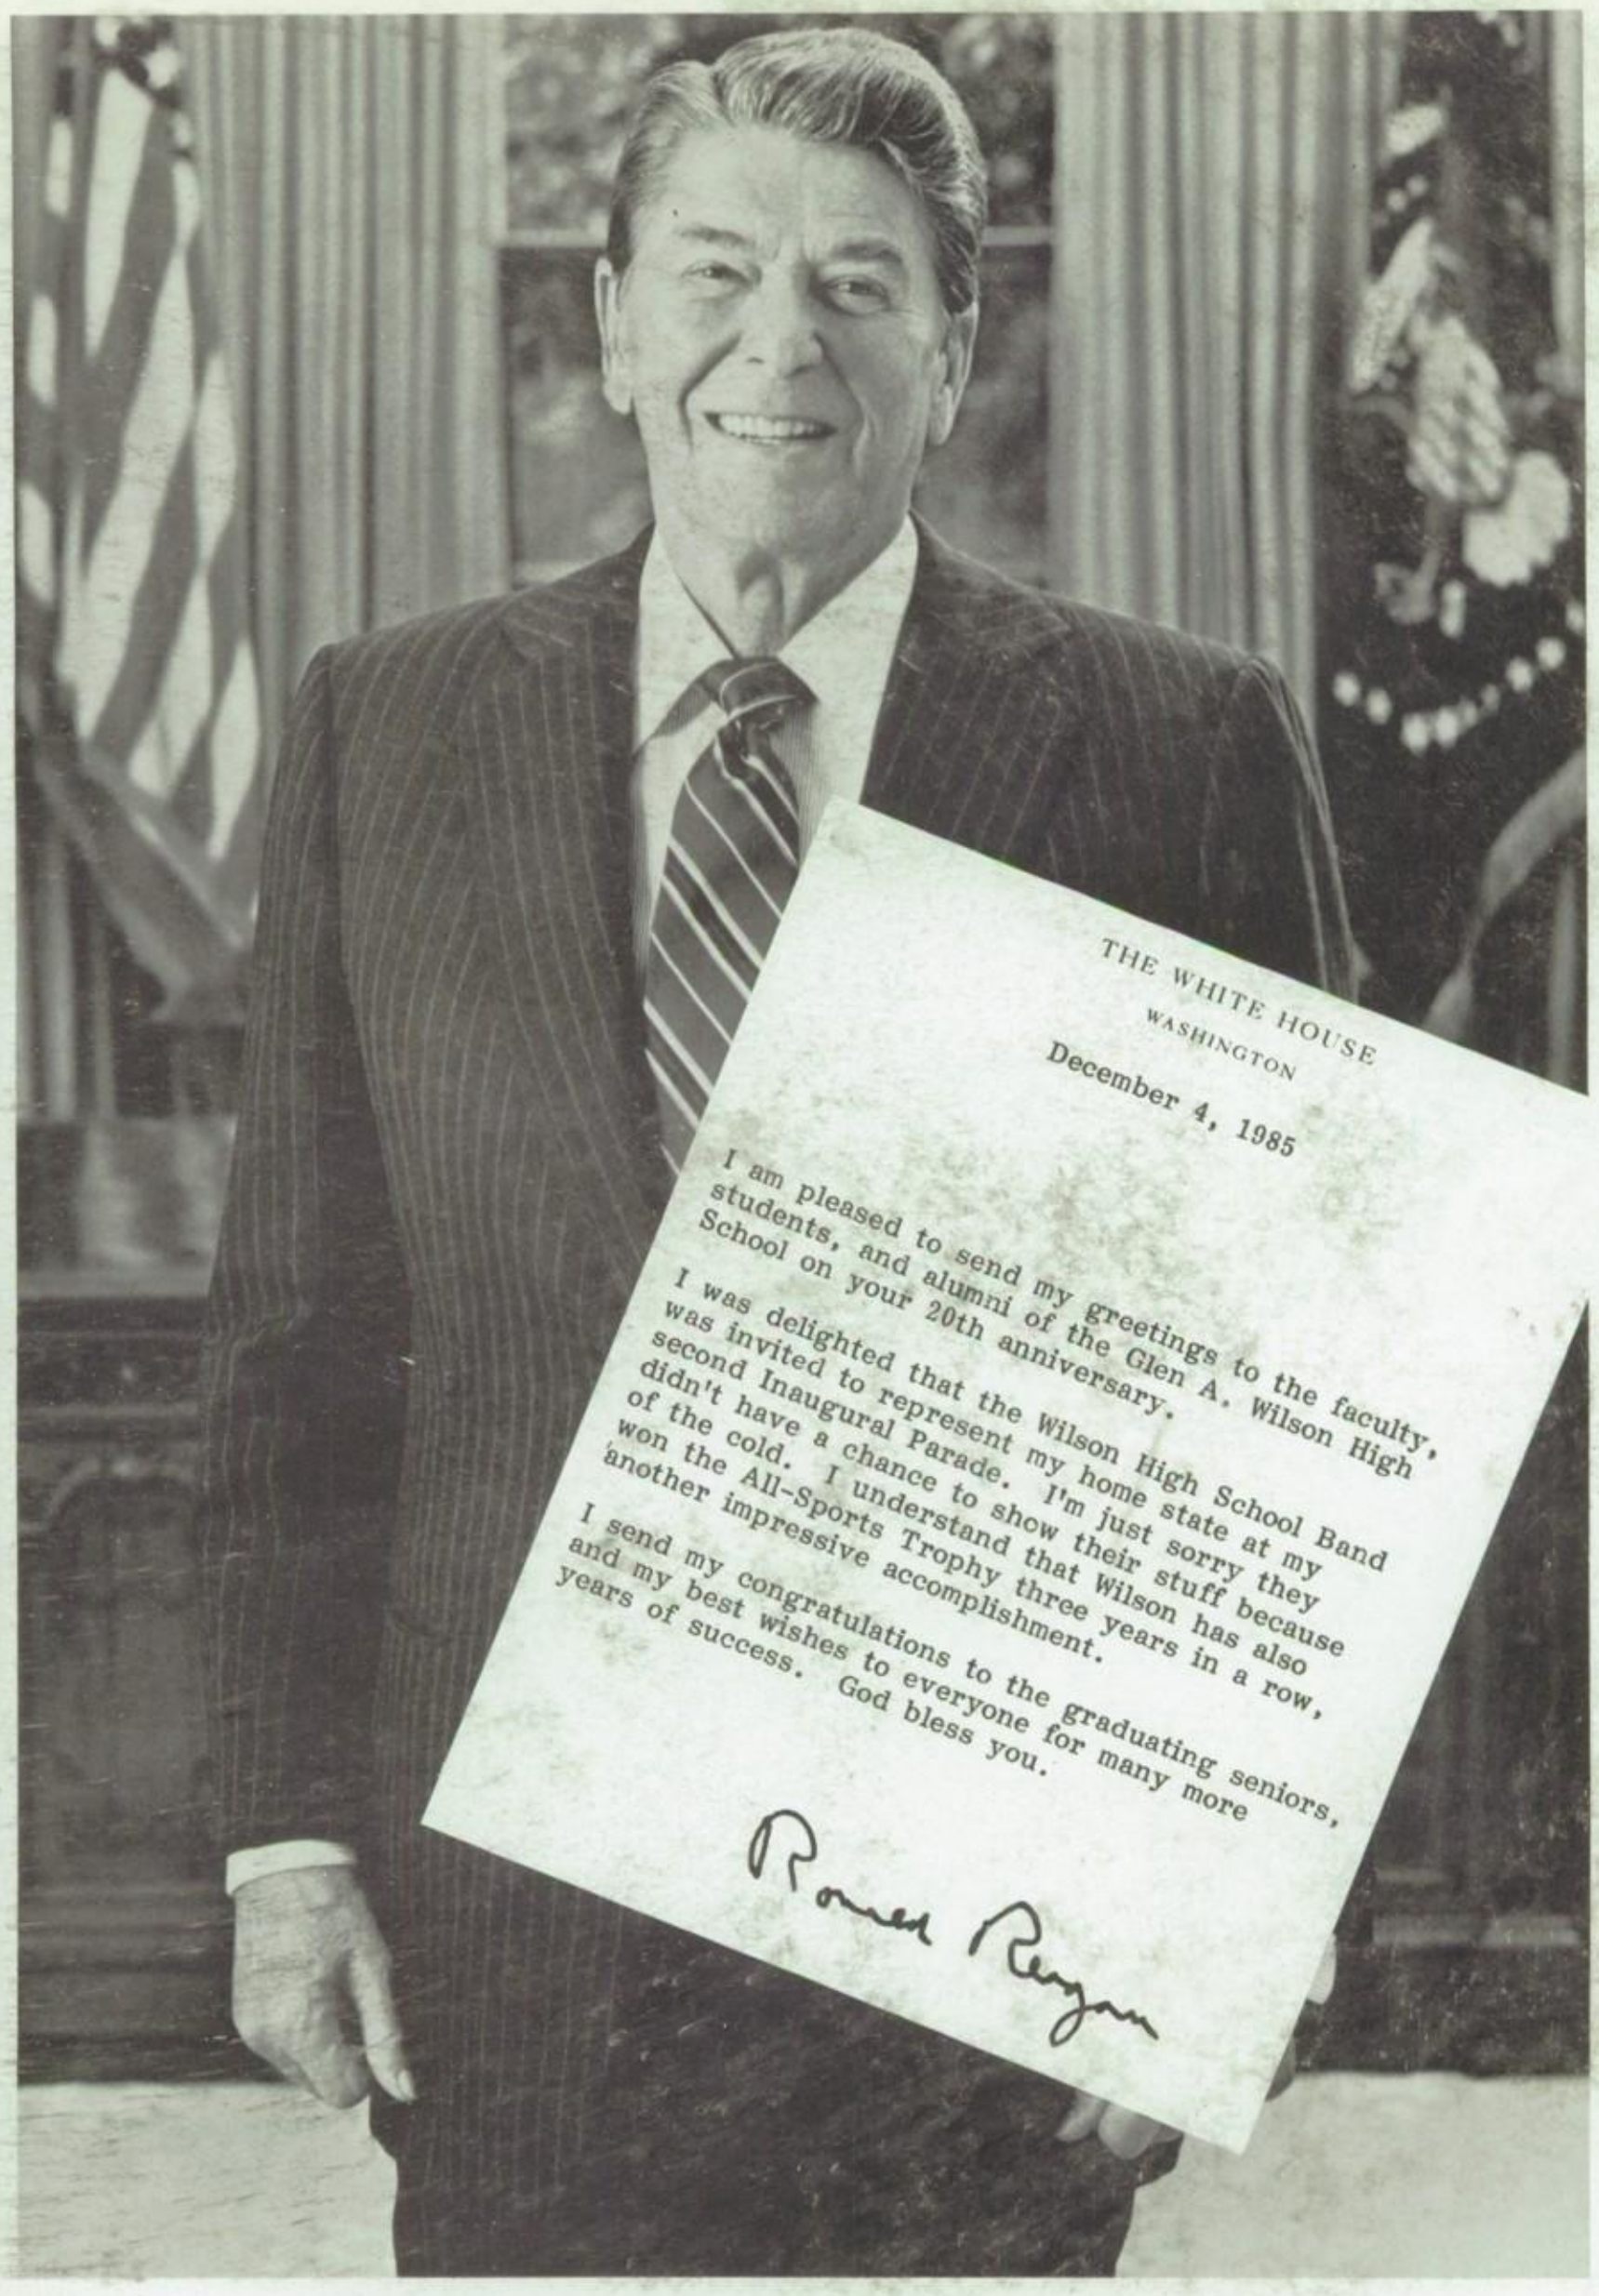
I believe that education is at the heart of our form of government. Therefore, it must be among the highest priorities of this Nation. If we are to remain a self-governing people, we must know how to make decisions and to choose those who can best represent us.

The youth of America have many dreams and aspirations. In order to realize these dreams and aspirations, education is essential. I applaud this theme. Let it be the basis for a renewal of public education in its pursuit of excellence.

Congratulations and best regards.

Sincerely,

George Bush



THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

December 4, 1985

I am pleased to send my greetings to the faculty, students, and alumni of the Glen A. Wilson High School on your 20th anniversary.

I was delighted that the Wilson High School Band was invited to represent my home state at my second Inaugural Parade. I'm just sorry they didn't have a chance to show their stuff because of the cold. I understand that Wilson has also won the All-Sports Trophy three years in a row, another impressive accomplishment.

I send my congratulations to the graduating seniors, and my best wishes to everyone for many more years of success. God bless you.

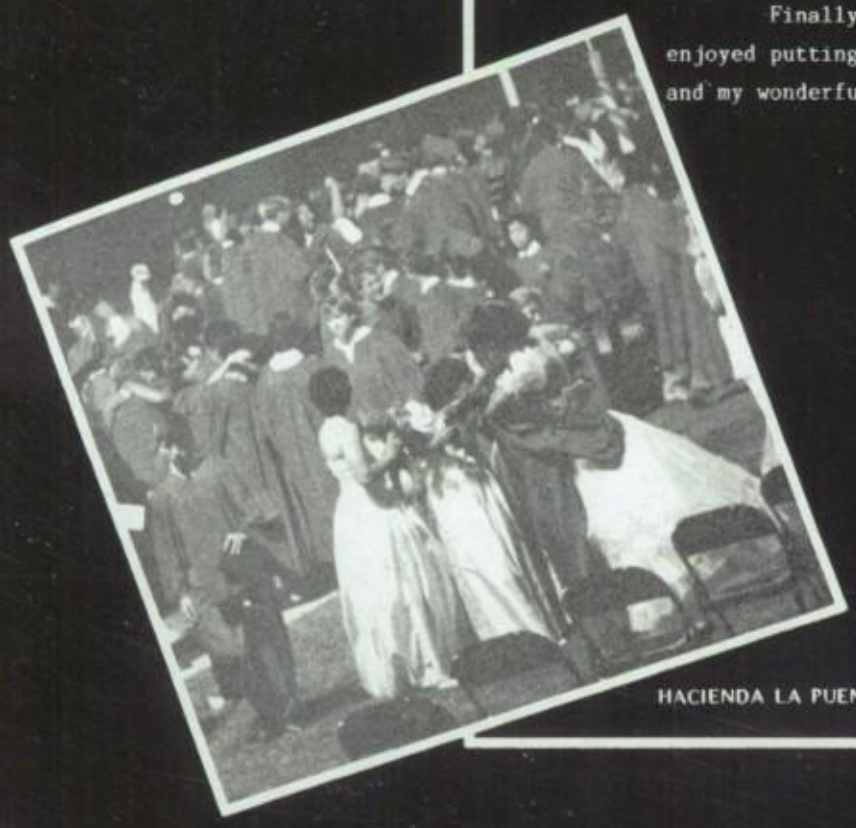
June, 1986

The year is coming to an end and for the Class of 1986, it signifies the end of our high school years. We, as Seniors, are letting go of our childhood and now, we are on the verge of young adulthood. But, before jumping into maturity, we will still linger with the memories of cruising down Hacienda Blvd, partying the night away, or studying just to pass our classes. Eventually, as the months move along, we will begin a new facet of our lives. For some, college will be the next destination while for others, new career opportunities will be within their reach. But for every Senior, no matter how diverse or different each one of us is, we will always have something in common - the special memories we shared at Glen A. Wilson High School. As I look beyond the present, I can see the Class of 1986 will contribute to the success of the future society and reached THE TOP.

I would like to exclaim "CONGRATULATIONS" to Glen A. Wilson High School - Twenty Years and still reaching The TOP; this is a worthy accomplishment.

Finally, I hope that everyone enjoyed this annual as much as I enjoyed putting this book together. Once again "THANK-YOU" to Mr. Besse and my wonderful staff for producing the best possible annual.



May Everyone's Dream Come True
Good Luck,
Anna J. Kim

Hi, How are you? Well school almost over. Only one day left. Aren't you happy? I know I am. No more teachers, and no more homework for 3 whole months. Well I just want to say thank you for being such a nice friend to me. Hope you'll stay the same, being nice and kind to other people. I hope we'll have some classes together next year! Well I guess I say Bye for now. Hope you'll have a very great summer! See ya later.

Friend always,

Gina Glam

"Ray"

P.S. IF we don't have any class together next year, we'll stay [redacted] friends, right? I don't want you to feel shy, ~~to talk to me~~ when you see me around the campus next year. Hope ours friendship will last a very longtime. Staycool in the summer ok!
